FINAL ROUNDS TODAY.

The match play rounds assure brilliant golf, the leaders being evenly matched and including several players of national prominence, the semi-final and final rounds being in progress today.

MISS OLNEY'S TALKS.

Interest Already Shown Ample Assurance of Their Success.

The first of Miss Elizabeth Olney's talks on "Characters in English History," was given at the Library, Friday morning last, with William, the Norman, as the subject.

Miss Olney stated in opening, that the object of the talks was to be the presentation of the personal, rather than the political side of the characters discussed, and herein lies their charm, many interesting facts being given, not generally known.

She dwelt upon the lonely boyhood of William, his first deed of arms, his relations to his friends, and his happy marriage, and, in closing, showed how great a ruler he was, making "good peace" not only in Normandy, but also in his conquered England.

Yesterday's talk was on Henry II, the first Plantagenet. Miss Olney declared him to have been a man greatly in advance of his time; a man who would have delighted in modern machinery, steam and electricity. He was always in haste, making journeys from one part of his realm to another with well-nigh incredible speed. She told of his struggle with Becket, showing how he anticipated modern ideas of severance between Church and State, and quoted the summing-up of the old chronicler, "Had God but elected King Henry to grace he would have been a most incomparable Prince."

The remaining three talks will be given at eleven o'clock Friday mornings in March, and the interest already shown is ample assurance of a most successful series.

The remaining subjects are:
 Edward I: The Greatest of the Plantagenets.
 The Black Prince: The Ideal Gentleman of Chivalry.
 Richard II and Henry IV: The Dreamer and the Doer.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP SHOOT.

Entries From Pistol Shots Should be Sent in at Once.

Plans for the annual U. S. R. A. state championship pistol tournaments which will be held throughout the country during the present month, are well in hand and Pinehurst will, as in the past, be included in the list provided a sufficient number of entries are received.

In line with making definite arrangements all desiring to participate are requested to send their names to the secretary of the local club, Herbert L. Jillson, at once.

The event will be fifty shots at fifty yards, scratch, and silver and bronze medals are offered by the national association as trophies; emblems which are doubly prized because of their significance.

Through the efforts of golfers here a match play handicap "club championship" event for women has been arranged for the coming week, play to begin Monday and continue eighteen holes daily.
