

CHARM OF COTTAGE LIFE

Old and New Friends Among Those Who Will Enjoy its Pleasures.

George F. Blake Purchases Rose and Will Transform Into Attractive Home.

HE cottage colony is already well established, the charm of this life bringing back many old friends as well as some new faces, all of whom are cordially welcomed, for these homes give the Village a dignity and character which is enjoyed by all.

The interest awakened by the recent announcement of the Management that lots would be sold, subject to certain restrictions in keeping with the character of the Village, continues, and bids fair to add another and very pleasant feature to this life.

NEWS AND GOSSIP.

The important addition of the summer is a private home for Mr. George F. Blake of Worcester, Mass., who has bought the Rose cottage, and is making extensive additions and alterations which will make it one of the most attractive cottages in the Village. Mr. Blake and his family have spent two seasons here and have formed many pleasant acquaintances.

Mr. Warren H. Manning of Boston, who has spent many seasons here, has purchased land and is planning to build an attractive winter home upon it.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Stowe of Grafton, Mass., return to the Marlborough for their sixth season.

Mrs. M. E. Baxter of Boston, is at the Beacon for her sixth winter.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. D. Sheppard of Boston, will make their third annual sojourn here, occupying the Honeysuckle.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Oldring of Brooklyn, return and will be at the Yucca.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Dodd of Zanesville, Ohio, will occupy the Hawthorne, accompanied by Mr. Dodd's father, one of the general counsel for the Standard Oil Company.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ormsbee of Brooklyn return for their fourth season and will take the Dogwood.

Mr. Leonard Tufts and family of Boston, are again at the Mystic for the season.

Mrs. A. F. Sise and Mr. Horace F. Sise of Medford, Mass., return to the Craddock.

Mr. Frederick Bruce and the Misses Bruce of New York, will again spend the winter at the Oaks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Murphy of Pittsburg, take the Persimmon.

Mr. Arthur Malcolm of Bethlehem, will spend the season at the Waldheim.

Mr. and Mrs. George Langdon of Southington, return to the Beacon.

THE PINEHURST SCHOOLS.

Season Opens With Old Corps of Instructors in Attendance.]

The Pinehurst Schools open with the same corps of instructors who made it so successful last season. Aldice G. Warren, who has had an unusually good season at his summer school at Point Lookout, Sodus Bay, New York, returns as Head Master, Philip L. Lightbourn will be in charge of the Preparatory Department, and Miss Anne L. Hay will be at the head of the Intermediate Department. It is hoped that Miss Elizabeth Macfarlane, who during the past three years has made so many friends by her work in the Primary Department, may also return, but on account of the death of her father, she may find it impossible to do so.

Many changes will be noticed in the school building. The school-rooms and halls have been finished, a fine system of steam heating has been introduced, and the plumbing and drainage of the building has been carefully attended to. Arrangements have also been made for a boarding department for boys, and it is confidently expected that this feature will supply a demand which has made itself felt ever since the establishment of the school.

ALL ABOUT COTTON.

Interesting Volume From Pen of Prof. Charles W. Burkett.

Prof. Charles W. Burkett, professor of Agriculture at the State Agricultural and Mechanical Arts college, well known here through frequent visits, has just published through Doubleday, Page & Company, a book upon "Cotton; its Cultivation, Marketing, Manufacture and the Problems of the Cotton World."

Comprehensive in treatment the work appeals to all who raise, trade in or manufacture the article, as well as visitors who are interested in knowing just what the cotton industry means to the south; sixty-three pages, of illustrations adding to its general interest.

Part of the material for the subject matter of the book was secured at Pinehurst, where Professor Burkett met many northern men interested in cotton, among them manufacturers and members of the New York Cotton Exchange.

Pine Grove House Management.

The Pine Grove House is this season, under the management of E. R. Ellis, who will conduct it along the same popular lines as heretofore.
