AT SOUTHERN RESORTS

ALL along the line from Southern Resorts, comes good news, telling of the arrival of early visitors and prophesying one of the most successful seasons in history. Notable improvements have been made and, as usual, the aim will be to provide pleasurable recreation for those who seek Southern climes during the winter months.

At Ancient St. Augustine.

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA., December 3.—The season here is counted begun with the opening of the Hotel Magnolia, which threw back its hospitable doors upon November twentieth, under the able management of Messrs. Palmer & MacDowell, as for twelve years past. Extensive alterations and improvements have taken place during the past summer, the most important being the installation of a modern steam heating plant, and the popular house is now better prepared than ever before to care for its many patrons.

One of the chief attractions of this hotel is the homelike feeling that pervades it, guests upon entering its doors and seeing the numerous cosy corners, old-fashioned fireplaces and beautiful little card rooms, experiencing the feeling of hospitality which permeates the atmosphere and at once forgetting that they are in a thoroughly equipped modern hotel accommodating three hundred guests. Beautiful grounds surround the house, where tropical trees shed an inviting shade, and easy chairs upon the spacious verandas bespeak of peace, happiness and comfort.

Almost the entire staff of heads of departments are in their old positions, insuring the same excellent service that has gained for the Magnolia its reputation. A mistress of ceremonies will, as usual, have charge of the card parties, dances, children's frolics and the like which are always a delightful feature of life here, and outdoor sports and pastimes will be made much of.

Early bookings were never more satisfactory, prominent among which are returning friends. Among the arrivals of the present month will be a party of one hundred from Indianapolis, which will come just before Christmas, and fifty from Chicago, who will dine here upon Christmas day.

Messrs. Palmer & MacDowell, the managers, are also connected with the Kensington, Saratoga Springs, the Breslin, Lake Hopatcong, and Avon Inn, at Avon-by-the-Sea, giving them a hotel experience which is calculated to fit them to care for a discriminating clientele.

At Gay Palm Beach.

PALM BEACH, FLA., December 3.—Palm Beach is, as usual, planning for a gay season, the formal commencement beginning with the opening of the big hotels. The first to open will be the popular Hotel Palm Beach upon January eight, the Royal Poinciana receiving guests January tenth, and the Breakers December 22, all being under former management.

The opening of the grand highway between here and Miami promises to do much towards attracting motor enthusiasts, a seventy mile run over a foundation of Florida coral rock, now being possible, and, as usual, the races, in January, will attract the attention of enthusiasts from all parts of the world. Closely following them, from January twenty-eighth to February third, will be the usual motor boat races on Lake Worth.

The Gun Club grounds have been put in splendid shape, and the usual target and live bird matches will be a feature of the season. The golf schedule begins upon January fifteenth with an opening handicap, and there will be the usual semi-weekly events during the season.

The cottage colony, as a rule, will return en masse, somewhat earlier than usual, and the demand for winter homes is far in excess of the supply.

"Whitehall," the palatial home of Mr. H. M. Flagler, is being put in order for occupancy by its owner, and the extensive grounds are more beautiful than ever.

Mr. Charles I. Craigen of Philadelphia, whose celebrated place is visited by thousands each winter, will again open his "Garden of Eden" to visitors. His cacti beds are famous and his gardens are looked upon as being equal to any in the state for rare plants and tropical grandeur.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maddock of Brooklyn, will again occupy their winter bungalow, "Ducks Nest," one of the most attractive winter homes here.

Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Mulford of Saratoga, New York, are already in their cottage.

Mrs. James McFarlane of England, will probably spend the winter on the Lakeside. Mr. McFarlane, who died this fall, will be greatly missed by those who have been entertained at the McFarlane's beautiful winter home.

Mr. George B. Cluett of Troy, is occupying his new and spacious mansion, recently completed. Large and imposing, this new home adds to the beauty of the Lake shore and will make one more point of interest to tourists.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bingham of Cleveland, are occupying their cottage, "Oceanside."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Clarke of Pittsburg, is being put in order for their early arrival.

Dr. J. Littleton of Philadelphia, has rented a cottage for the season.

Lieut. Hugh L. Willoughby of Newport, is already on the ground and planning to build a winter home. For some years past the Lieutenant has preferred to live on board his splendid houseboat, cruising about as fancy dictated, but he now feels like settling here more permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Robert of New York, are booked for the coming week
