AT THE CEDARS.

Large Company of Old and New Friends Assembled Here.

A large company of old and new friends is assembled at The Cedars and Lenox, among the late arrivals being Judge and Mrs. Charles N. Wells of Peekskill, N. Y., who will remain through the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Larselere and son of Norristown, Pa., come for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Roe, Miss E. L. Roe and Mr. Edgar Thomas of Elmyra, N. Y., are here for their second season.

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Clark of Westville, Conn., are located here until the opening of The Berkshire. Mr. Clark has been a delighted visitor annually since the inception of Pinehurst.

Miss Florence Gray of Riceville, Pa., returns for her fifth season.

Mrs. H. P. Bailey and Miss M. C. Brooke of Orange, N. J., will remain until spring.

Mrs. C. H. Platt of New York, returns for her second winter here.

At The Magnolia.

Manager Pottle of The Magnolia is entertaining his first guests with a goodly number booked for the immediate future.

Among the early comers are Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Dilts of Fulton, N. J., who will spend December here.

Mrs. T. H. Mackinnon and Master Frank Mackinnon of Brooklyn, will remain several weeks.

Mrs. H. F. Thayer of Manchester, N. H., is spending a short time here on her way south.

At The Lexington.

Among the late arrivals at The Lexington are Mr. and Mrs. Sprigg and three children of Essex Fells, N. J., who will spend the winter here.

Mr. William W. Warner of Titusville, Penn., comes for a long sojourn.

Mr. D. C. White of Hillsboro, Alabama; Mr. J. Bishop of Rutherford, Alabama; Mr. J. C. Kendall and Mr. R. S. Curtis of Raleigh; Mr. E. Shelley of Olney, Ill.; Dr. H. B. Anderson of Carthage, and Mr. and Mrs. Seawell of Carthage, were visitors during the week.

Late Cottage Arrivals.

Mr. G. N. McMillan and family of Gorham, N. H., are booked to arrive at the Mistletoe cottage today, where they will spend the winter. The McMillans have been annual visitors at The Carolina for many years and have a large circle of acquaintances here.

Mr. J. F. Jordan of Greensboro, N. C., takes the Arlington, and will be here shortly.

Mr. Prescott Christens Cup.

A pleasant feature of the week at The Inn was the christening of the President's cup won in the Thanksgiving week of golf tourney, by Mr. Prescott. A score or more of friends were present, and the occasion was a merry one, for the "champ," as he is now good naturedly called, is a general favorite at the hotel.

GOLF FROLICS BEGIN.

Monkey Golf Tourney Entertains the Playful Golfers.

The golf frolics which are always an enjoyable part of the winter's fun here, were begun last week with a "monkey tourney," two teams of six members each fighting it out to the nineteenth hole.

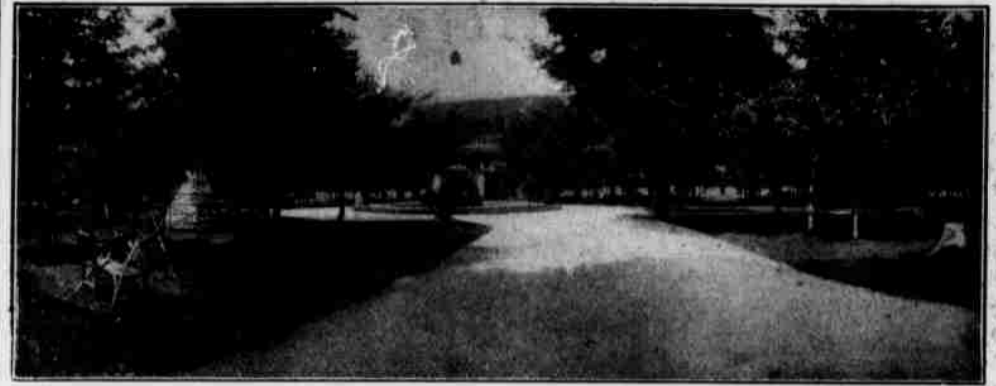

The "official scorers" declare that the aggregation of comets, paced by O. B. Prescott, won by a single stroke and one up, over an array of satellites coached by T. R. Newbold, but official scorers count for little in this game, and the decision has, as usual, been protested.

The make-up of the teams included Prescott, mashie; White, niblick; Dodd, midiron; Goodall, cleek; Dr. Hill, putter, and Lyon, brassie—Peacock, mashie; Rollins, niblick; Ormsbee, midiron; Lightbourn, cleek; Robinson, putter, and Bruce, brassie.

The alleged medal play scores were 134 and 135, respectively, in detail containing numerous sixes, sevens and eights with an even half dozen that took two figures to record. Fearing that some expert would figure the result out differently than that announced, and thereby cause a riot, the Country Club Secretary has filed the card in his archives and refuses to give it to the press.

MR. AUG. F. BROMBACHER,
Who returns for his annual sojourn and golf.
