

The Pinehurst Outlook

PINEHURST, MOORE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA

VOL X, No. 12.

SATURDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY SIXTEENTH, 1907.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

SPORT ROYAL IS ASSURED

Coming of Mr. Jordan and his Pack of Fox Hounds is Welcome.

First Hunt of Many to Come Indicates What is in Store for Devotees of the Chase.

MANY a rare day's sport is assured lovers of fox hunting through the coming of J. F. Jordan of Greensboro, who, with his family, is spending the winter at the Arlington cottage. Several preliminary runs have been enjoyed since Mr. Jordan's arrival, several weeks ago; but the first important hunt, and one of many to come, was held during the week, a large party accepting Mr. Jordan's courteous general invitation.

While no kill resulted, there were several bursts of music, which plainly indicate what is in store for devotees of the sport, for Mr. Jordan's pack runs as one hound and its music sets the blood tingling.

In the hunt were Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tufts, Mrs. Herbert L. Jillson, Miss Firth, Miss Partridge, Mr. J. Cushing Todd, Mr. T. H. Bauchle, Jr., Mr. N. S. Hurd, and Mr. Chester U. Palmer.

ABOUT THE HOUNDS.

Mr. Jordan's pack numbers an even score, among the hounds being "Beck," who won first in the All-age stake, and "Belle," who took second in the Derby (two out of five judges voting to give her first) in the Virginia-Carolina Fox Hunters Association's annual trials at Chase City, a year ago last October.

In the All-age race were forty-three picked hounds, representing the best of Maine, New York, Kentucky, Virginia and North and South Carolina, eight on the list being Mr. Jordan's entries. The heat lasted five hours and twenty minutes, and at the "death" were only ten dogs; the eight entered by Mr. Jordan and two other hounds also owned by him which had escaped from the kennels and joined in the race!

Mr. Jordan has been a breeder of hounds for nearly thirty years, and his present pack represents the best strains of Virginia and Carolina "red bones" combined with the "Goodman" of the famous blue grass region of Kentucky. The result is hounds of medium size, notable for nose, speed, endurance, voice and intelligence.

ABOUT MR. JORDAN.

Mr. Jordan's name is known to sportsmen everywhere, for not only is he a "thoroughbred," but a "dead shot" and a "good fellow." In no less than eight clubs he is prominent, and as an organizer of several he has been active. Associated with J. H. Alexander of Elizabeth, N. J., H. D. Spears, John Dillon and Strother Jones of New York, 10,000 acres are controlled at Manchester, and close at hand, is another preserve known as the Crotan Club, and embracing 22,500 acres; both of these clubs co-operating in the maintenance of excellent shooting and fishing. This territory is barely 30 miles east of Pinehurst, and the members believe it represents the very best section of its character in the country.

Associated with Mr. Jordan in the Crotan club are capitalists representing the control of one hundred and sixty

Pinehurst is glad to welcome his coming and to drink to him Rip Van Winkle's famous toast:

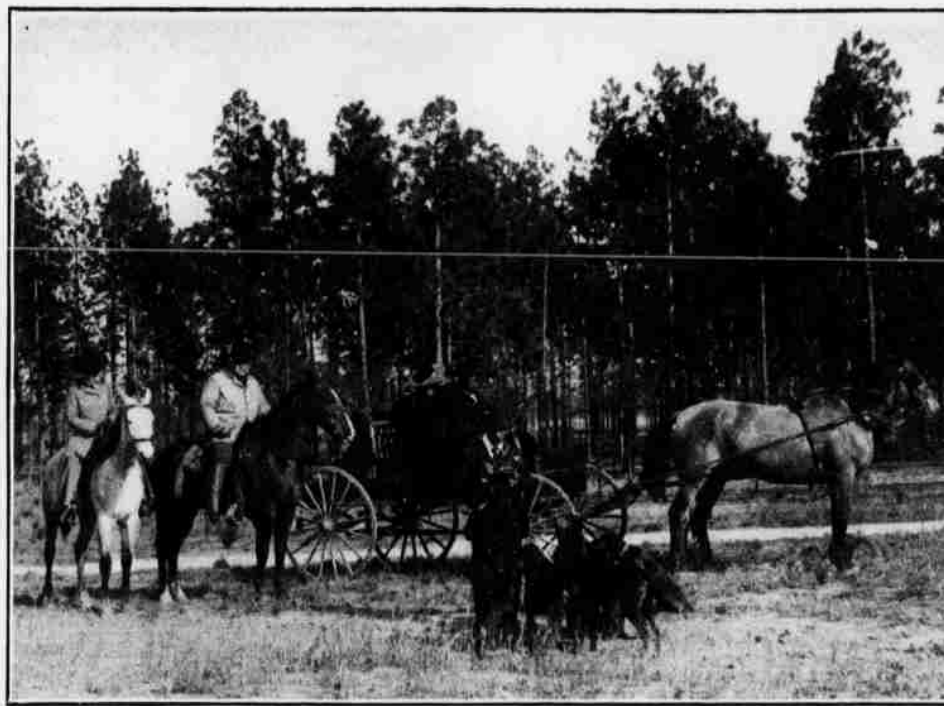

"Here's to your health and your family; may you live long and prosper!"

Miss Elizabeth's Guests.

Little Miss Elizabeth Ball, daughter of Mr. G. A. Ball of Muncie, Ind., delightfully entertained a party of young friends at The Carolina St. Valentine's day.

The table was daintily decorated, with a Jack Horner pie as the central feature, snap dragons containing paper caps, and bright paper boxes filled with confectionery, and adorned with hearts and cupids, resting at each plate. A merry romp in the music hall followed the spread.

The guests included Misses Anne

READY FOR THE CHASE.

millions of dollars, among them Cord Meyer, Oakley Thorn, William Woodward, James T. Woodward, D. M. Look, W. M. Barnum, A. W. Smith and J. H. Smith and A. W. Dickerman of New York; William Du Pont of Wilmington, Delaware; Gen. John Gill and W. M. Baker of Baltimore.

Mr. Jordan is a resident of Greensboro, N. C., actively engaged in real estate business, but finding time to gratify an in-born love for sport. His kennels are among the finest private kennels in the country, devoted to bird dogs which are bred uniform in size, color and disposition, purely for the love of it. Mr. Jordan also trains all his dogs, laughingly remarking that a sportsman may find time for anything if he only has the inclination.

Talbot Day, Eloise Pauley, Darthea Crocker, Georgiana Partridge, Catherine Greuner, Miriam Hostetter and Virginia Rinehart, and Masters Edward and John Hutchins and Charles Newbold.

At The Magnolia

Mr. and Mrs. Archdale Wilson and Miss Katharine Wilson of Hamilton, Canada, guests at The Magnolia the past six weeks, left on Thursday for Philadelphia, where they will spend February. Mr. Wilson is an enthusiastic golfer and hopes to return to Pinehurst next season. The ladies were leaders in several pleasing entertainments during their stay here, and their return will be anticipated, for they leave behind many friends.

THOMAS CONCERT COMPANY

Widely Known Organization Coming February Twenty-First.

Varied Program of Songs, Recitals and Vivid Impersonations of Peculiar People.

THE second event in the series of entertainments announced for the Village Hall, and which began last night with the appearance of Opie Read, is booked for Thursday evening February twenty-first, in the appearance of the widely known John Thomas Concert company.

No organization of its character is better known in the South and a full house is assured. The program will be a varied one, including songs, recitals and vivid impersonations of peculiar people.

The company includes John Thomas the humorist, Annie Webster Thomas, violin virtuoso, and Clare Stone, pianist. The program announced follows:

Piano—March Militaire. (Clare Stone.)
Peculiar People—In the Family. (John Thomas.)
Violin—Fantaisie, "Linda di Chamounix," Alard (Annie Webster Thomas.)
Peculiar People—In Music. (John Thomas.)
Piano—Pasquinade, Gottschalk (Clare Stone.)
Peculiar People—In Politics. (John Thomas.)
Violin—Scene de Brillante, De Bériot (Annie Webster Thomas.)
Peculiar People—Ad libitum. (John Thomas.)

Everywhere the company has received the heartiest commendations from the press, and the evening will be one long to be remembered. Tickets are on sale at the hotel desks and the Pharmacy at fifty cents and one dollar.

The St. Valentine's Tourney.

The final rounds of the third annual St. Valentine's golf tournament are in progress as THE OUTLOOK goes to press. A complete story of the tournament will be printed in next week's paper.

Sunday Services.

Rev. J. F. Bullitt will conduct vesper services at the Village Hall, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with sermon by Rev. Dr. Lowry of the Atlantic City Baptist Church.