

The Pinehurst Outlook

PINEHURST, MOORE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA

VOL X, No. 13.

SATURDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY, TWENTY THIRD, 1907.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

T. R. NEWBOLD THE WINNER

Defeats George W. Keates in Thirty-six Hole Tie Play-off.

Brilliant Ending of St. Valentine's Tourney Witnessed by Enthusiastic Gallery.

A THIRTY-SIX hole tie play-off between T. R. Newbold of Chevy Chase, and George W. Keates of Brae Burn, brought the third annual St. Valentine's golf tournament to a brilliant close, a gallery of several hundred people holding their breaths while Mr. Newbold made the winning putt on the thirty-eighth green.

Mr. Keates had a bit the better of it on the morning round, maintaining a good lead and finishing three up, but Mr. Newbold rallied in the afternoon, evening the score on the twenty-seventh, gaining the lead on the twenty-eighth and from that point to the end the big gallery was kept on tiptoe. It was stroke for stroke to the thirty-fourth, Mr. Newbold gaining the lead again on the short thirty-fifth, but Mr. Keates evened the match on the thirty-sixth green.

News of the state of affairs spread quickly, and several hundred persons joined the gallery. Mr. Keates had the honor on the thirty-seventh and sent a beauty straight down the course, while Newbold made the trap at the right and lost a stroke in getting the ball into play. Mr. Keates' midiron approach landed him in the pit, and Mr. Newbold followed suit. Mr. Newbold made the green from the pit, Mr. Keates placing the ball at the left of the green, landing it on the green on his approach. Both players had fifteen-foot putts, both laying the ball dead, the hole being halved.

Still holding the honor Mr. Keates drove on the thirty-eighth, slicing badly, the ball landing near a couple of oak trees so that a stroke was lost in getting into play. The third try was short; the fourth placing the ball across the pit at the left of the green.

Mr. Newbold sent a beauty straight down the course, but flubbed his second, carrying the pit and landing at the left of the green on his third. Both approaches were dead to the hole, with Mr. Newbold one to the good and a six-foot putt for a win, which he made amid breathless silence. There was a roar of cheers and applause and a dash of blue as Mr. Newbold's little eight-year-old son Charles dashed across the green crying gleefully, "Papa wins the big cup! Papa wins the big cup!" A moment later he was lifted aloft to fold his arms around his father's neck and shower him with kisses.

The contest for the first division consolation was a pretty one, W. P. Schotz of the Wheaton Golf Club, Chicago, defeating David Fleming, Jr., of Mt. Airy, Philadelphia, by three and two on the sixteenth green, after a contest which and J. H. Clapp of Chevy Chase the consolation, an extra hole being necessary.

J. Roberts Allan of Ottawa won the fourth division and E. L. Scofield of Weeburn, the consolation, an extra hole being necessary.

The fifth or special division was won by E. F. Cook of Philadelphia, and the consolation by N. Harrison of the Highland Golf Club.

There were trophies for winners and runner-up and consolation winners.

T. R. NEWBOLD, CHEVY CHASE GOLF CLUB.

was uncertain to the end, the winner being one up at the end of the morning round.

D. E. Little of the Wollaston Golf Club had a walkover throughout in the second division, and E. B. Bradshaw of the Jackson Park Club, Chicago, won the consolation.

H. S. Cummings of the Weeburn Club, Stamford, took the third division trophy,

Now in Progress.

In the St. Valentine's women's tourney the list includes Mrs. David Fleming, Mrs. J. R. Shoaff, Mrs. St. John Smith, Mrs. I. C. Bates Dana, Miss Ethel S. Check, Miss Pauline Firth, Miss Madeline Tufts, Mrs. T. R. Newbold, Miss Olive M. Spain, Mrs. P. H. Lonergan, Mrs. T. E. Young, Mrs. C. H. Rosenfeld, Mrs. F. A. Potts, and Misses Tooker, Hefelfinger, E. Roe,

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE

Pinehurst Selected as Place of Meeting for Tenth Annual.

Four Hundred Prominent Educators Will be Assembled Here from April 9 to 12.

A S A RESULT of a conference held during the week at The Carolina, between President Robert C. Ogden of the Conference for Education in the South, which has in trust the Rockefeller fund, Dr. E. A. Alderman of the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville; Dr. S. C. Mitchell, professor of history at Richmond College, at Richmond, Virginia; and Mr. William A. Blair of the First National Bank of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, one of the state's prominent educators, the tenth annual Conference for Education in the South will be held here from April 9th to 12th, inclusive.

The organization is the only one of its kind in the country, and its purpose is to promote interest in public education with particular reference to the rural school, its reputation being international and its members the leading business, professional and educational lights of the country. The conference will draw together about four hundred people of this character.

Previously, President Ogden explained to THE OUTLOOK, the conferences have been held in large cities, but the executive committee desires this year to hold the meeting at a retired place where there may be a great deal of conference and careful study. Pinehurst has been selected as admirable for this purpose in every way, and it is confidently expected that the result will be the most helpful meeting in history. "What we want," concluded President Ogden, "is opportunity for heart to heart talks with the prominent people assembled, and we feel that we shall find this here."

The committee left delighted with their impressions of the Village and its equipment; satisfied that the international fame which the Village now enjoys is justly merited, and the members are anticipating their return in April with pleasure.

Fred Emerson Brooks, The Poet-Humorist, Village Hall, March 2.
Tickets at Hotel Desks and Pharmacy.