THEY COME BY EVERY TRAIN

Week Brings Many Visitors who Will Remain Throughout Season.

Dinners, Dancing and Bridge Parties are Combining Happily with Recreation in the Open.

HE week has been crowded to the brim with social activities, dinners, dancing and bridge rounding out busy days, many visitors who come for the winter, old friends numerous among them, crowding in by every train. Trap shooting, hunting, riding, driving, tennis and fox hunts have all contributed their part in the out door program for those who dropped from the tournament, and a saddle picnic with the start from The Carolina at ten o'clock this (Saturday) morning is planned for today, with the annual dinner of the advertising men at The Carolina tonight.

At The Carolina.

Prominent among returning friends at The Carolina is Bandmaster John Philip Sousa who returns for his annual visit and a long sojourn and will, as in the past, divide his time between riding and shooting. Mrs. Sousa, and possibly his daughters, will join him later on.
