

EIGHTY-ONE YEARS OLD.

Mr. D. N. Clark Observes His Birthday at The Magnolia.

The eighty-first anniversary of the birth of Mr. D. N. Clark, Pinehurst's oldest and most enthusiastic golfer, was pleasantly observed Wednesday evening at the Magnolia, where Mr. and Mrs. Clark and their son, Noyes D. Clark, are spending the winter. This is Mr. Clark's ninth season at Pinehurst. Every pleasant day finds him on the golf course for his usual eighteen holes, and it speaks well for the Village that some seasons he has played eighteen holes on one hundred consecutive days, barring Sundays.

The celebration of Mr. Clark's birthday was really begun in the morning, when guests found the dining room prettily decorated with carnations and roses. In the evening the guests and a few of Mr. Clark's friends from other hotels, assembled in the parlors. On a line across the back parlor were suspended some thirty packages, and each guest, after being blindfolded and turned around several times, was given a stick and told to select a present by touching some package with the stick. This created much amusement, as each gift was concealed by several paper wrappings. There was a large variety of articles, including pictures, toys, bric-a-brac, etc. Mr. Seltzer drew a dozen golf balls, and Mr. Clark immediately advised him to get a set of clubs and enjoy the game.

An enormous birthday cake, surrounded with eighty-one lighted candles and "sparklets", was the feature of the evening. Refreshments were served and then Mr. L. C. Hopkins of Brooklyn, with appropriate words in behalf of the guests, presented Mr. Clark with a handsome scarf pin. In returning thanks Mr. Clark said that he should always treasure the gift as a reminder of this pleasant anniversary, and he expressed the hope that all present would reach his age in as good health as he had. All joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne" and then said good night.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hopkins, Mrs. H. Erwin, Mrs. F. H. Boardman of Brooklyn, Mrs. H. E. Tisdale, Miss Tisdale, and Miss Whittier of New York, Judge Henry Stoddard and Mrs. Stoddard and Miss Hawks of New Haven, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Seltzer of Pottsville, Pa., Miss M. R. Marvel of Philadelphia, Miss Rudolph of Stamford, Mr. J. E. Kellogg of Fitchburg, and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Pottle of Jefferson, N. H.

Governor Letcher's Viewpoint.

"There's everything in the force of example," remarked the observant guest. "Take for instance, Governor Letcher when he first visited Sulphur Springs, Virginia. To make an impression on him his physician poured some whisky in the water, which immediately turned as black as ink.

"You see what it does, don't you?" queried the doctor. "Yes," responded the governor, "and I promise you I'll not touch a drop of that water as long as I stay here."

"BRUSH" SHELLS

A Boon to Bird Shooters

Winchester "Brush" Shells have won the enthusiastic endorsement of the most critical bird shooters. They not only help wonderfully to make big bags when used in any gun, but they enable a sportsman to use a full choked trap or duck gun for bird shooting and get as good results as a brush gun would give. Remember the big even spread of shot that Winchester "Brush" Shells give is obtained without the loss of velocity or penetration—the all important factors in a good load. Red W Shells and Guns are sold everywhere.
