W. R. TUCKERMAN WINS

Defeats C. R. Dennen with Record Cards in Spring Golf Tourney Final.

Monster Field of One Hundred and Eighty-nine Contestants and One Hundred and Sixty Qualify.

PLAYING in fine form throughout the week W. R. Tuckerman of the Chevy Chase Golf club, encountered little difficulty in the sixth annual Spring Golf tournament, winning the President's cup from C. R. Dennen of the Detroit Country club, eight up and seven to play. Going out in seventy-five the Chevy Chase player had his opponent eight down at luncheon, and while Mr. Dennen held his own on the way out in the afternoon, he made no headway in cutting down the big lead and the match ended on the twenty-ninth green. Mr. Tuckerman rounded out the bye holes in seventy-two, his total of one hundred and forty-seven an amateur record for two consecutive rounds on the new course which is liable to hold for some time.

The cards:

Humphreys of the Camden Country club—four up and three to play. In the second round W. R. Simons of Westbrook, was the victim, four and three; and in the first, N. W. Dean of Oakley, was disposed of by two up.

Mr. Dennen's semi-final with C. L. Becker of Woodland, was decided on the seventeenth green, two and one; the second with S. D. Wyatt of the Fon du Lac Country club, was won six and five, and the first, with Allan Lard of Chevy Chase, twice United North and South champion, ended on the sixteenth green, two up in Mr. Dennen's favor.

C. A. Dunning of the Nassau Country club, and F. A. Moore of Apawamis, fought it out in the consolation; Mr. Dunning winning six up and four to play.

In the second division I. S. Robeson of Oak Hill, won a twenty-one hole match from E. L. Scofield, Jr., of Wee Burn, only to lose to Paul E. Gardner of Midlothian, who in turn lost to L. D. Pierce of Woodland, four down and three to play; W. E. Wells of Steubenville, winning the consolation.

Robert Hunter of Wee Burn, won the Secretary's cup from C. M. Jamieson of Greensburg Country club, six up and four to play; J. B. Bowman of the Rochester Country club, the consolation.

four special divisions which provided for the overflow field were: W. E. Truesdell of Huntington, Dr. C. G. Briggs of Mohawk, W. W. Harless of South Shore, and David Mackay of Passaic.

The field of one hundred and eighty-nine participants was not only the largest in the history of golf here, but one of the most representative, and in view of the qualification ties, it is difficult to account for the absence of close matches,

BY THE LIGHT OF THE MOON

Its Rising and Setting Opens and Closes "Summers Eve" Cotillion.

Unique Program Includes Butterfly
Chase, Shooting of Owls and Lions and Opening of Wine Bottles.

ALTHOUGH planned entirely on informal lines, Monday evening's "Summers eve" Cotillion at The Carolina proved one of the most enjoyable of the season, and followed with interest by a large company of onlookers, representative of every section of the Village; the program varied and entertaining and the favors attractive and appropriate.

The surprise of the evening, unknown even to the dancers, was the opening march with no other light save that shed by a monster full moon, which rose majestically from behind a miniature hill to the top of the stage, the effect of night further emphasized by the sparklers and vari-colored lanterns which the dancers carried, and appropriate music.

The novelties in figures included one in which young women secured partners by "shooting," with toy guns, men in huge paper lion costumes, or tore open giant wine bottles for the same purpose. Reversed, the young men "shot" young women wearing grotesque owl costumes, or caught with nets, monster butterflies. Partners were also secured by matching the faces on moon favors, all nation flags and playing cards.

The steeplechase which made such a hit last week, was repeated in new and even more attractive and complete form by rearrangement of the hurdles, and in addition to the judge's stand, where all races were duly "posted", a booth for the "bookmaker,"—plug hat, big seegar and all—(Col. J. E. Smith) who was a whole "race" in himself, not to mention the over zealous "cop" (Mr. Ralph N. Gardner) who strove vainly to preserve "order." Several events were run off—"hunters," "colts" and "under sixteen"—the latter six young women who went around the course with the grace and speed of deer while the crowd went wild with enthusiasm as the pairs came down the home stretch neck and neck. There were blue and red ribbon awards in each class and the way paper green and yellow backs flashed about in the
