THE FIREWORKS CAME EARLY

Amateur Champion Fownes Leads in Club Championship Tourney

Hunter and Robeson, Morse and Avery Figure in Extra Hole Matches, But Lose in Semi-Final Round

MOST of the fireworks in the annual Club Championship golf tournament, were set off in opening play; the "set piece" in the form of two duplicate rounds of seventy-six, which won the qualification gold medal for National Amateur Champion, William C. Fownes, Jr., the feature of the display. The card:

OUT-5	4	3	4	7	3	5	3	4-38
IN-5	5	4	5	4	4	4	3	4-38-76
OUT-4	5	4	3	5	3	5	3	4-36
IN-5	5	4	4	5	4	5	3	5-40-76

In the first round Robert Hunter of Wee Burn and Irving S. Robeson of Oakhill, led in a match which a fast three captured for the Wee Burn player on the twenty-first green. At the turn, with a card of thirty-nine, Mr. Hunter had his opponent four down, but Mr. Robeson reversed the order coming in with a duplicate score and squared the match on the short seventeenth. The eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth were halved. H. E. Avery of the Detroit Country club and George E. Morse of the Rutland Country club, sent off the last rocket on the twentieth, the score all even at the turn, Morse took the tenth, but was two down on the thirteenth. A brilliant rally, however, placed him in the lead on the sixteenth but Mr. Avery recovered on the short seventeenth, halved the eighteenth and nineteenth and won the twentieth, four-five.

C. N. Phillips of Alleghany and W. E. Truesdell of Brooklyn, popped on to the nineteenth in the second round, the Alleghany player winning. In the semi-final both Mr. Phillips and Mr. Fownes advanced easily, the former defeating W. L. Milliken, two and one, and the latter, Mr. Hunter, seven and six. In the final Mr. Phillips started strong, retiring for luncheon, one up, on his distinguished opponent with the medal scores just turning the eighties. Going out, however, the amateur champion found himself and turned homeward two up. The twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth were halved and Mr. Phillips rallied for win on the thirtieth, but Fownes won the next three holes and the match ended on the thirty-third green. Bye holes were played; the winner's total seventy-five.

FOR GOOD OLD ST. PATRICK

Shamrock Party at The Holly Inn Keeps Patron Saint's Memory Green

Costumes, Decorations and Even Refreshments, Suggest Occasion and The Fair Emerald Isle

FRIDAY evening's "Shamrock Party" at The Holly Inn, was a pretty tribute to good old St. Patrick, the only one of the patron saints whose memory we really keep "green;" costumes and decorations appropriate to the occasion making the affair one which was enjoyed by the entire household. Very dainty were the young women in flowing white robes, relieved by emerald ribbons and set off by helmet bonnets and "wing" sleeves, contrasting vividly with the sombre evening dress of the men and their wide breast ribbons. Above the entrance door to the music hall two Erin flags were crossed, their golden harps suggestive of the gayety of the occasion; emerald streamers stretching out like the dear little shamrock, from the centre of the hall, above the floor. And even the refreshments suggested the Emerald Isle; creme de menthe punch as cold as the "blarney stone," and frosted cakes as exquisite as the spring flowers which dot the moors. Several cotillion figures led by Mr. Leslie D. Pierce and Miss Virginia B. Lopez, and Mr. J. R. Mitchell and Miss Bernadette M. Herman, added to the interest of the dancing which began at nine and ceased at midnight.

The matrons of the evening were Mrs. N. C. Osgood and Mrs. J. M. Thompson; the dancers: Mr. and Mrs. F.H. McGraw, Mesdames C. A. Wilson, J. H. Horner, L. G. Morrill and Frank Wight, Misses Conley, Betts, Osgood, Linsley, Allen, Perkins, Russell and Northrup, and Messrs. Phillips, Hutoff, Crouse, Osgood, Taylor, Hayden, Foot and Perkins. Details of arrangement were in the hands of Misses Lopez, Conley and Herman and to whom the success of the affair was largely due.

Jolly Campfire Supper

Miss E. Marie Sinclair was host at a jolly campfire supper Tuesday, the group including Mr. and Mrs. Beachey, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Tufts, Misses Nason, Osgood and Bradley, and Messrs. Noonan, Taylor and Moore.
