BUSY WEEK AT THE TRAPS

One Regular and Two Special Tournaments Provide Keen Competition

Star Attraction is St. Valentine's Day Handicap with Five Sterling Trophies for Highest Scores

THE WEEK has been a busy one for the trap shooters, three handicaps claiming attention with interest centered in a St. Valentine's Day shoot for contributed trophies, a large field participating. Appropriate to the day the provision of sterling trophies was most lavish, five being awarded for the highest net scores.

In position of honor R. J. Donovan, with an allowance of forty was first in ninety-seven, while close after him came C. M. Fink also forty in ninety-four. J. R. Such, whose allowance was twenty-five, was third in ninety-two, A. H. Pease (40) fourth in eighty-eight, and E. A. Tauchert (40) fifth in eighty-seven. Dr. C. H. Gardner (25) made eighty-six, S. H. Dorr (25) and W. J. Bird (45) eighty-three each, E. Sergeant (30) seventy-nine, R. T. Hefner (30) seventy-seven, J. R. Gerride (25) sixty-two, H. B. O'Brien (25) fifty-nine, C. C. Morse (20) fifty-six, and C. W. Chandler (25), who withdrew at the close of the third string, fifty-one.

Preceding the shoot was an invitation tournament for trophies contributed by C. A. Lockwood, Morse, with an allowance of forty leading with a score of one hundred and three, a trifle more than could be expected of scratch, but not unusual in handicap events. In second place Dorr, also forty, made ninety-eight, while Fink at the same mark was third in eighty-eight. G. Edmarde, (50) made eighty-seven, W. J. Bird (40) and Tauchert (40) eighty-four each, Lockwood (0) eighty, Pease (40) seventy-four, and Dr. Gardner (20) seventy.

In Monday's weekly hundred target Country Club handicap Mr. Lockwood shooting with an allowance of eight, was first in ninety-seven, with Pease (35) and R. A. Bowers (15), tied for second at ninety-three. Dr. Gardner (15) was third in eighty-five. Donovan (30) made seventy-eight, Dorr (15) and Sergeant (20), seventy-nine each, Tauchert (20) and E. S. Gregory (15), seventy-seven and Bird, (25) sixty-five.

VARIETY FOR FOX HUNTERS

ished through the scrub oak setting a pace that taxed even the veterans of the hunt. This turn of affairs was something reynard had not counted on and he struck for Little river, crossing on a foot log, and swinging down the bank only to be caught sight of and rapidly overtaken, grimly fighting to the last gurgle. By a fortunate coincidence Master Twitty cut in and the hunt witnessed the thrilling kill.

POINTERS FROM PINEHURST

Sportsmen's Show Manager Plans for Indoor Trap Shoot

Trap shooting by electric light, indoors, will be for the second time, a feature in the coming Sportsmen's Show, eighteenth annual, which will open March first for an eight-day run at Madison Square Garden, New York. A score of flaming arc lights, reinforcing the ordinary lighting arrangements of the Garden, will assimilate daylight conditions. General Manager "Steve" Van Allen who has been taking in the Pinehurst tournament reports that the clay pigeon breaking fraternity is heading strong for the Garden shoot and he predicts that there will be the greatest assemblage of shot gun sharps that the world has ever seen. Philadelphia, which has become the home of top-notch American Trap Shooters will be strongly represented.

The Quaker City contingent will be led by the youthful Harry Kahler, who at Pinehurst scored ninety-eight out of a possible hundred at twenty yards, an unequalled record, and George McCarty, who averaged nine-eight per cent in open sweeps. A suggestion made at Pinehurst for a Philadelphia-New York Championship five-man match at the Sportsman's Show is also developing. From North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Maine, and Illinois will come an enthusiastic delegation; Luther J. Squier of Pittsburg, manager of the shoot.

APPROACHING AND PUTTING

Events for Men and Women Prove Enjoyable Feature of Week

Approaching and putting competitions for both men and women rounded out Thursday very pleasantly for a big field of entries. The program continued through the entire day, twelve prizes in all presented by Mr. Leonard Tufts, being awarded.

In the putting events for men W. L. Baldwin and J. W. Hunt were first prize winners, while P. S. MacLaughlin and J. D. C. Rumsey captured seconds. Robert Hunter and Mr. Hunt and C. M. Fink and J. A. Maxwell in approaching.

Mrs. A. C. Aborn and Mrs. Edward Worth won putting events for women and the Misses Agnes and Margaret Blanche in approaching.

The success of the affair has led to plans for similar events in the near future.

In Aid of Village Club

A card party in aid of the Village Club charitable fund is announced for Monday afternoon next, at 2.30 at The Mystic Cottage, the home of Mrs. Leonard Tufts. The invitation is general, but it would assist the committee greatly if those desiring to attend would send their names to either Mrs. Jillson at the Carolina, or Miss Cummings at The Concord not later than Monday noon.

Dancing Party for Children

A children's party arranged by Miss Ruby Mianda Stone filled in Monday afternoon pleasantly, not alone for the little folks but the older.
