

The Pinehurst Outlook

PINEHURST, MOORE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA

VOL. XVI, NO. 3

SATURDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 21, 1912

FIVE CENTS

TIN WHISTLE TOURNAMENTS

Sixty-Six Trophies Provide for Twenty-one Events of Season's Schedule

Golf Program of Novelty and Variety Extends from December 16th to March 31

TWENTY-ONE golf events constitute the annual tournament program of the Tin Whistles, which started with a medal play handicap December 16 and concludes with a gold medal for the best qualification score in the annual United North and South Championship, March 31. The annual Club Championship, March 17, 18, and 19, is preceded by the annual team match and dinner, March 10th. The invitation mixed foursomes, always anticipated, are scheduled for February 24 and three events:—foursomes, approaching and putting contests—are announced for March 1. In all sixty-six trophies are offered, the list of donors including Messrs. E. A. Johnston, J. M. Thompson, W. E. Truesdell, R. C. King, I. S. Robeson, J. G. Nicholson, H. C. Fownes, H. W. Priest, J. L. Wyckoff, Robert Hunter, Leonard Tufts and Dr. J. S. Brown. The tentative program is as follows:

DECEMBER 16—Medal play for first and second prizes.

DECEMBER 23—Cemetery contest for prize presented by Dr. J. S. Brown, and second prize.

JANUARY 1—Four-ball medal play (combined scores), partners by lot, for first and second prizes.

JANUARY 6—Four-ball match play vs. bogey, best ball, for two prizes presented by Mr. E. A. Johnston, and second prizes.

JANUARY 7—Gold medal for best Tin Whistle score in Midwinter tourney.

JANUARY 13—Swatfest match play vs. field for prize presented by Mr. J. M. Thompson, and second and third prizes. (Gold medal for best net.)

JANUARY 20-21-22-23—Three-ball match, twenty-seven to qualify, play off on six point system, for prize presented by Mr. W. E. Truesdell, and second and third prizes. Gold medal for best net score in qualifying round.

JANUARY 27-28-29-30—Round robin, twenty-eight to qualify. Gold medal for best net and gross scores. Best eight gross scores form two sets of four to play off at scratch. Best twenty net or remainder form five sets of four each to play off at handicap. Prize to winner and runner-up in each set of four.

FEBRUARY 3—Match play vs. bogey, for prize presented by Mr. R. C. King, and second and third prizes.

FEBRUARY 4—Gold medal for best Tin Whistle score in St. Valentine's tourney.

FEBRUARY 10—Four-ball medal play (best ball), for prizes presented by Mr. I. S. Robeson, and second prizes.

FEBRUARY 17—Medal play, best selected twelve holes (six in each nine),

MARCH 3—Gold medal for best Tin Whistle score in Spring tourney.

MARCH 10—Third annual Tin Whistle team match and dinner. Details later.

MARCH 17-18-19—Tenth annual Tin Whistle Championship, 54 holes, medal play for Championship trophy; also prizes for best 54-holes net, second best 54-holes gross, second best 54-holes net, and best 18-hole rounds, gross and net.

MARCH 24—Medal play, three classes, for prizes presented by Mr. Robert Hunter and the Club.

CLUB CAPTAIN C. L. BECKER OF THE TIN WHISTLES

four classes, one prize in each class. Prizes presented by Mr. J. G. Nicholson, Mr. C. N. Phillips and the Club.

FEBRUARY 24—Mixed foursome, medal play, for prizes for first, second and third pairs.

MARCH 1—Foursome, medal play, for prizes presented by Mr. H. C. Fownes, and second prizes; Approaching contest for prize presented by Mr. H. W. Priest, and second prize. Putting contest for prize presented by Mr. J. L. Wyckoff, and second prize.

MARCH 27—Special tournament for those who have not won a prize. First, second and third prizes.

MARCH 29—Medal play (36 holes) for prize presented by Mr. Leonard Tufts, and second and third prizes.

MARCH 31—Gold medal for best Tin Whistle score in North and South.

TROPHIES AT THE CAROLINA

The trophies, displayed at The Carolina, are a dazzling array which arouse great admiration; their total value $3000.

AMERICAN GOLF'S INCEPTION

Mr. Alexander P. W. Kinnan Played in the First Foursome at Yonkers

February 22 Date of Game Which Led to Formation of the St. Andrews Golf Club

"IT'S HARD to realize that American golf had its inception barely twenty-one years ago," commented Mr. Alexander P. W. Kinnan, President of the Union Dime Bank, New York, at The Carolina the other evening, "but that's the fact in few words. John Reid of Yonkers and the Jordan L. Mott Iron Works was responsible for it as the result of a trip to Scotland. 'Come out tomorrow' he said to a few of us on February 21, 1891, 'and we'll try a Scotch game I enjoyed on the other side.'

"Accepting the invitation were John B. Upham, a New York broker, Harry Holbrook now deceased, formerly of Holbrook Brothers, and myself. The clubs used were several sets which Mr. Reid provided and six impromptu holes were laid out on what is now North Broadway in Yonkers. Tomato cans served as cups and Mr. Holbrook's sons, Fred and Warren, acted as caddies.

"Two years later the formation of the St. Andrews and the parent American Club, resulted—and what has come as a natural consequence you all know quite well. Your four Pinehurst courses show what the game means from resort standpoint; courses everywhere indicate its national prominence and all because it's a game for young and old, strong and weak, and its joy is unending."

Wanderlust Auto Tourists

Enroute for Florida by automobile, with sun-burn on their faces and wanderlust in their eyes, Messrs. W. L. Cook and J. L. Taylor of Plainville, Conn., passed through here Monday.

Garbed in rough and ready attire, their machine adorned with equipment like Santa Claus' traditional pack, they made a picturesque pair which attracted much attention.

Rigged for fair weather or foul, they are prepared to take things as they find them, reveling in the joy of life and the thrill of conquest. They will be on the road some four weeks in all.