IT TASTES LIKE MORE

Novices on the Polo Field Entertain Themselves and Onlookers

PINEHURST has a taste of polo, and like good wine it thrills. As the result of preliminary practice, the "Wanderers" and "Weary Willies" lined up early in the week for an informal game, and a three to two win for the "Willies."

Opening cautiously, the trios divided honors, two and two, but warming to the work in the final test, they gave the crowd of onlookers an interesting suggestion of what the real game is like.

M. F. H. Twitty acted in the dual capacity of referee and coach, several ladies graced the occasion with their presence, and the Country Club secretary contributed souvenir horse-shoe trophy favors which the winners are

Dr. T. D. Myers rarely misses a day and is meeting with good success, and H. A. Waldron has enjoyed excellent shooting at Eagle Springs.

THE MIDWINTER TOURNEY

Fast Field Assured for Fourth Annual Tennis Championship

Indicative of the prominence of winter tennis is the annual Pinehurst's Mid-winter Handicap. January 26 to 31, inclusive, are the dates selected, and the trophies offered for events, including men's singles and doubles, women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles, are a lavish array. An innovation of the present season is challenge cups which must be won in three tournaments before ownership can be obtained.

The Country Club tennis program also includes women's singles, February 18,

WEARY WILLIES	WANDERERS
Russell G. Harper of New York	J. William Southar of New York
G. Faunce Whitcomb of Harvard	Joseph T. McCaddon of St. Luke's
John G. Alley of Princeton	Sidney Schwab of New York

QUAIL ENJOY RARE TREAT

Undisturbed, They Feast on Cow Peas Stored in Abandoned Cabin

A. Bryan Alley and his son "Jack" are among the number enjoying the excellent quail-shooting; their best bag eighteen birds. Late last week they enjoyed the novel experience of locating no less than four big covies in and around a deserted cabin.

On approaching the house one covey flew from an angle, while a second flushed from the porch. Later some twenty birds went skimming out of the broken windows. ¶ Investigating, the sportsmen found that the cabin had been used to store cow-pea hay, and the birds were enjoying an undisturbed treat.

19 and 20, and a similar event for men on February 25, 26 and 27.

The annual Club Championship which occupies the full week from March 9 to 14, rounds out the season, the events including men's and women's singles, mixed and men's doubles.

Awaiting Berkshire Opening

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Emery and Miss Pearl Louise Emery of Everett, Mass., are at The Carolina awaiting the opening of The Berkshire on Thursday next. ¶ Advance bookings include many old friends who come during the week.

Guest of His Parents

Mr. B. T. Hudson spent the week at the Dogwood with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hudson.

Very, Very Soon Now!

January 12th is the tentative date announced for the moving picture opening.
