"The Pinehurst Hat"—a "protest against monotony"—is the newest creation. "Reputation on the move!"

THE UNITED CHAMPIONSHIP

United North and South amateur championship which takes place the week beginning March 30.

Mr. Anderson long has desired to see the golf courses at Pinehurst. It might be added that a trip to that Southern resort will go a long way toward rounding out his unusual "golf-course education." In other words, he has played on a majority of the most famous courses in the British Isles, if not all of them; he has played on La Boulie (and was defeated only at the thirty-eight hole for the French amateur championship) and other courses of the European continent and he has played on many of the leading courses of the East and Middle West in this country. He naturally does not feel that he will make much of a showing in the championship tournaments at Pinehurst, for he will have only a day or two to familiarize himself with conditions which will be new to him; also, it does not look as if there would be much opportunity for practice on the local links for some time to come. — Boston Transcript.

Taken all in all, the field will be a fast and representative one in spite of the loss of Open Champion Ouimet and others, whose early sailing for Europe makes their presence impossible. Former International Champion Walter J. Travis arrived Wednesday and George T. Brokaw, a low handicap man in the National list, Chisholm Beach of Fox Hills, and Dr. C. H. Gardner, Rhode Island champion, are among those who join Whittemore, Robeson, Becker, Truesdell, Hunter, Fownes and others here. Percy Rothwell, H. B. Lee, Harold Weber, H. A. Stiner, R. S. Worthington, Garfield Scott, E. C. Beall, C. W. Derbel, W. M. Paul, F. K. Robeson, R. H. Fortune, R. F. Robinson, and M. F. O'Connell are among other fast ones already entered.

NOTE—The withdrawal of Anderson's entry owing to serious illness of his father, has just been received. — EDITOR.
