

VOL. XVIII, NO. 2

SATURDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 12, 1914

FIVE CENTS

Qualification Tie Followed By Match Play Victory for Wee Burn Golfer

J. A. Allen Consolation Star, Scoring Two Nineteen-Hole Victories and Six and Five Waterloo

QUALIFYING in eighty-five each, Hunter of Wee Burn and Becker of Woodland advanced easily to the match play final for the President's Trophy in the eleventh annual autumn golf tourney. The score was four and two and Hunter the winner, but the match was one much keener than the figures indicate. ¶ On the outward journey the Woodland veteran had a bit the best of it, winning the first, third, fifth (by aid of a stymie) and ninth holes, losing the fourth, sixth and seventh and halving the remainder, making the turn one up. The Wee Burn golfer, however, rallied for wins on the tenth and eleventh, maintaining the lead thus gained with halves on the next two and taking the match with wins on the fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth; Becker's short work his undoing. ¶ The cards:

HUNTER-Out- 5 4 6 4 7 3 4 5 6-44 BECKER-Out- 4 4 5 5 6 4 5 5 5-43 HUNTER-In- 4 3 5 4 6 3 6 * * Becker-In- 5 4 5 4 7 5 7 *

In the semi-final Hunter recorded four and three in his match with Beekman of Metacomet; in the second round, six and five over Rhea of Columbia; and in the first, five and four with Hennessee of Cooperstown. ¶ Becker's wins were from LeRoy, by four and three; Moran of Metacomet, by the same score; and Goodall of Bellerive, by six and five.

'Twas the consolation where the battle royal raged, Allen of Baltusrol the victor with a six and five Waterloo over Kelley of Southern Pines; the two preliminary matches won from the Rev. Cheatham of Salisbury, and Hudson of North Fork on the nineteenth green.

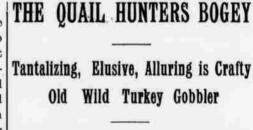

Mr. Cheatham was two up on the tenth and honors were divided on the next two holes, the next three halved, the Salisbury player winning the sixteenth, losing the seventeenth to a three, halving the eighteenth in six, and losing the nineteenth four-five, through putting. ¶ In the match with Hudson, Allen was one hole to the bad at the turn, but he squared the match on the eleventh, halved the next seven holes and won the match on the

HUNTER AND BECKER LEAD | nineteenth where Hudson failed to run | down a short putt which a fine record down a short putt which a fine recovery from a trap had made possible for a halve. ¶ Going out Allen laid his opponent four dead stymies, and his win on the eleventh, which squared the match, was a two.

Langenberg of St. Louis dropped Mr. Cheatham into the consolation with a nineteen hole win, and Hudson was indebted to Moran of Metacomet for his place in the beaten eight.

GARLICK AND SHANNON IN SECOND Garlick of Youngstown captured the second division trophy by three and two from Hunt of Worcester; his keenest match with Brown of Huntingdon Valley and his best card forty-three out and thirty-seven in. ¶ Shannon of Oak Hill took the consolation in brisk play with Parson of Youngstown, both advancing 'under fire."

Garlick and Hunt made the turn all even in forty-three, with three wins each Beekman's defeat of Johnson of Arcola and three halves. Hunt was in the lead

David Gregg, Jr., Sees the Real Not the Phantom Bird-and-Movie Pantomine Will Tell the Story

THE quail hunters' bogey is a Christmas turkey, as elusive, tantalizing and alluring as the golfers' "par." ¶""Bin er scratchin" heah-roosted heah last night-crossed this road not mor'n an' hour ago,'' says the loquacious guide, but like the "monster gray moose" of Northern Maine, it is mostly "signs" that make up the sum and substance of the chase. ¶ This king of game birds is, indeed, the ideal of the quail hunter and anticipation makes the pleasure of pursuit fully as enjoyable as possession.

David Gregg, Jr., of Brooklyn, is the lucky hunter. Has made some fine bags of quail, but they're not in the reckoning when "the big 'un he lost" is considered. Came face to face with a monster gobbler taking a peek at an adjoining field. slipped a handy charge of buckshot into the right barrel, drew a bead on the bright wattled head, pressed gently on the trigger * * * "Don't shoot," called the guide, "that's a tame turkey." * * * * A rush, a whizz and the big bird was up and off like a Zeppelin * Chapter two with a special movie film tells what followed!

E. R. Johnson and B. G. Royall of Philadelphia, rounded out a three weeks' stay here with average bags of twenty quail, and an occasional wookcock, dove, squirrel and rabbit. ¶"Best place I know anything about," was Mr. Royall's comment, "More territory, easy of access, fine dogs, good guides, plenty of birds, excellent cover-and-best of all, home comforts at The Carolina with a chef as knows how to grill 'em to a crisp brown.''

R. E. Townsend and Harry Cotton of Boston, H. H. Stambaugh and John Stambaugh of Youngstown, are among others who have had fine sport. J. H. Wesson, D. B. Wesson and V. H. Wesson of Springfield, return for their annual visit, bringing their car as usual. ¶ J. D. Foot of Rye, Dr. T. D. Myers of Philadelphia and I. S. Robeson of Rochester are among those booked for the near future. ¶ From dawn till dusk "the hunter's joy''-God's Glorious Open!

MR. ROBERT HUNTER OF WEE BURN

in the second round of the leading eight, | on the tenth, but lost the eleventh, halved was spectacular. Three down at the eighth the Arcola golfer squared the match on the twelfth, halved the thir-l and winning the fifteenth and sixteenth. teenth and gained the lead on the fifteenth, only to lose it in the sixteenth. The seventeenth was even honors; the Rhode Islander holing a 75-foot approach for a winning five on the eighteenth with Johnson's ball dead to the hole for what would otherwise have been a win or a halve.

the twelfth; Garlick taking the thirteenth by aid of a stymie, halving the fourteenth, The cards:

GARLICK-Out- 4 5 4 4 6 4 3 6 7-43 HUNT- Out- 5 5 5 4 6 3 4 5 6-43 GARLICK-In- 5354746  HUNT- In- 4555757 Shannon won three, lost two and halved four holes going out, making the turn one (Concluded on page three)