

THE TROPHY IS HUNTER'S

halves on the sixteenth and seventeenth. A poor tee shot cost him a stroke on the eighteenth, and he failed to run down a goodly putt for a halve; Gardner winning, 5-6, to tie. ¶ Straight down the alley were the drives on the nineteenth, with 30 yards of distance for the Fox Hills man. Gardner put his second just short of the green; Beach just over. Away, Gardner putted snug up; Beach overrunning and laying himself a dead stymie which cost him the hole and the trophy. ¶ Hard luck? ¶ Surely! ¶ The cards:

GARDNER
OUT—	5 6 5 5 4 3 4 4 4—40
IN —	4 4 5 5 5 6 5 4 5—43—83
BEACH
OUT—	5 4 4 5 5 4 3 5 4—39
IN —	5 4 4 4 6 5 5 4 6—43—82

Fay gave Beach a brisk match in the semi-final. Making the turn two up and winning the seventeenth in 3 to tie the score, he lost the eighteenth and the match. Johnson was the six and five victim in the first round. ¶ Gardner won from Appleman by seven and five, and Truesdell by seven and six.

Dr. Gardner was indebted to Becker for his place in the consolation. All even up at the turn the Woodland golfer became three up on the fourteenth, lost the fifteenth, halved the sixteenth and won the seventeenth in 3 for the match by three and one. ¶ Three down to Becker at the turn, D. L. Armstrong halved a twenty-footer for a win on the tenth, halved the eleventh in 3, won the twelfth, 4-5, halved the thirteenth in an indifferent 5, where Becker required three putts, and won the fourteenth, 5-6; Becker topping his drive. Armstrong lost the fifteenth with three putts, halved the sixteenth in 6; Becker squaring matters by halving a fifteen foot putt for a 3 on the seventeenth, but losing the eighteenth to a 4 which Armstrong plunked down at a distance of eighteen feet.

Thorington and Shannon were both eager to advance to meet Travis from second round play. Two up at the turn, the Springhaven lad took the tenth but the Oak Hill golfer reduced the lead with a 3 on the tenth and halved the next two holes. Thorington came back with a win on the fourteenth but lost the next three holes, and even up, won the eighteenth in a bogey 5, for the match. ¶ The cards:

THORINGTON
OUT—	6 5 5 5 6 3 3 5 5—43
IN —	6 4 5 3 5 5 7 4 5—44 87
SHANNON
OUT—	7 6 6 4 5 3 4 5 5—45
IN —	7 3 5 3 8 4 6 3 6—45—90

And here you have an outline of the first division "fireworks." ¶ Yes, there was also something happening in the other divisions, many give and take matches, a number of which overran the eighteenth, but the summary must suffice for these. Play was on No. 1 course throughout.
