SINGS MATIN CHANT TO SPRING

Mocking Bird's Song is Prophetic of Weeks Which Lie Before

HIGH up on swinging pine branches the mocking birds are singing their first matin chant to waking spring. Afar off the distant hills lie purple against great banks of fleeting clouds banked high against skies as blue as turquoise. ¶ Memory days, indeed, and all Pinehurst is living much in the open air. ¶ In sports the annual spring golf tourney has claimed the lion's share of attention with tennis and trap shooting in the background, afternoon rides and motor picnics, and drag hunts to round out perfect days. ¶ Socially numerous affairs have claimed attention, among them several Carolina dinners at which Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Morse of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Palmer of Erie, and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Potts of Lakewood were the hosts. ¶ At the Country Club President Leonard Tufts entertained the Board of Governors on Tuesday evening, and for Tuesday evening next, the annual banquet of the Tin Whistle Club is scheduled. ¶ Mesdames Abbe, Green, Olmstead, Blancke and Roach were the prize winners at the usual Monday morning Carolina card party, and for the regular Carolina and Holly Inn dances and the Saturday afternoon Country Club dansants, the entire Colony is gathering. ¶ Midseason arrivals are filling every nook and corner of the Village, and prominent among returning friends is Secretary John A. Heydler of the National Baseball Association, who emphatically denies the rumor that he is using golf balls with chestnut burr covers to prevent over running when the putting greens are keen! ¶ Senator J. S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey returns for the second visit of the season, bringing Mrs. Frelinghuysen. ¶ Judge W. A. Day, President of the Equitable Life Insurance Company, completes a trio of distinguished visitors.
