The Champion lost a stroke in coming up, and Guilford duplicated the performance by an over approach; the hole halved in 4, and giving the match to Guilford by four and three. ¶ The cards:

ROBESON AND GUILFORD

Robeson made the turn two up in the second round with Guilford, winning the first, third, sixth and ninth holes, and losing the fourth and fifth where Guilford recorded a two under par 3, the distance 427 yards. ¶ Guilford squared the match with par 4's on the tenth and eleventh, but lost the twelfth to a bogey 5. Bracing, he won the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth in par, bogey, and one over par 4's for a lead of two up. Robeson took the sixteenth in 5, where Guilford was in trouble, and the seventeenth in 4, where both players were trapped on their irons from the tee. Guilford was away and at the front of the green, and he put too much ginger into his stroke and overran. Still away he played a third which was short. Robeson was in a pit at the right and made a good out, pushed his ball up snug to the hole and went down in a winning 4. ¶ Guilford had every advantage on the eighteenth, Robeson pulling off the course to the rough on his tee shot, with Guilford straight down the alley. Robeson's second made a pit at the front of the green which Guilford overran. Robeson lost a stroke in getting the ball into play and his fourth was at the very edge of the green, by fortunate chance close to the cup which had been moved away from the center, because of water. Guilford's third, however, was short and likewise his fourth, and both missed puts which under normal green conditions would have been easy, halving in 6.

Some of the Club House gallery turned out for the nineteenth hole in spite of the driving rain which was coming straight down the course with a wicked swish. Guilford had a bit the best of it at the start but Robeson recovered from a sliced tee shot and saved the hole for a halve in 6, both missing short putts. ¶ Guilford's tee shot on the twentieth was his undoing, a sliced and topped drive because the wet club handle slipped in his hands, which skidded some forty yards at right angles and landed in the scrub oak. On his second he was only able to make a short pitch out into the foreground rough, his third was short and his fourth overran. Robeson's tee shot was a beauty but his second was short, and likewise his third, but he went down in 6 at the length of about as many inches, while Guilford was fortunate in recording a 7 at an equally short distance. ¶ The cards:

ROBESON AND KERR

Robeson and Kerr were all even at the turn, with three holes won, lost, and halved, making the journey in forty-one each. ¶ Halving the tenth, Kerr won the eleventh, lost the twelfth, and won the thirteenth maintaining the lead thus gained with halves on the next three holes. The crisis was the short seventeenth where Kerr laid his iron from the tee "dead" for a two which wouldn't die, missing and halving in 3. Robeson's fine 4 on the eighteenth tied the score and he won the nineteenth in 5—6 for the match. ¶ The cards:

HUNTER AND TRAVIS

Hunter and Travis were going very fast in their first round, making the turn in thirty-eight and thirty-nine, with Hunter one up through a winning 4 on the third, the eight remaining holes halved. ¶ Coming in it was more of give and take; Hunter's 3 on the seventeenth, one of several long putts, giving him the lead. The sixteenth was a halve in par 4, and Hunter pushed down a long 2 for the match by two and one on the seventeenth. ¶ The cards:

HUNTER

TRAVIS

In the second round Hunter turned the trick by six on five on T. W. Case.

SULLIVAN, WORTHINGTON AND CARTER

J. H. Sullivan, Jr., eliminated not alone the title holder, R. S. Worthington, but Philip Carter, by many regarded as Ouimet's most dangerous rival. ¶ All square on the fifteenth, which Worthington won in 3, Sullivan won the sixteenth in 4, and the match by halving the seventeenth and eighteenth in 3 and 5. ¶ The cards:

SULLIVAN

OUT—	5	4	5	5	5	3	5	3	3	—38

WORTHINGTON

OUT—	6	4	3	3	4	3	6	3	3	—35
IN —	5	5	5	4	5	3	5	3	5	—40

A 3 on the ninth gave Sullivan a one up lead over Carter who halved the tenth and won the eleventh to tie. Sullivan took the next two holes for the lead, halving the fourteenth. Carter rallied for a 2 on the fifteenth but lost the sixteenth to a 5, and the match by two and one with a halved 4 on the seventeenth. ¶ The cards:
