WINCHESTER

SELF-LOADING SHOTGUN 12 GAUGE

The Winchester Model 1911 Self-Loader is a wild-fowl gun par excellence. The recoil ejects the fired shell, feeds a loaded shell from the magazine into the chamber, cocks the hammer and leaves the gun ready to be fired again. In wild-fowl shooting, the game often comes fast and when least expected. Shoot a Winchester Self-Loader and you can always be prepared for a series of shots; for the loading and firing of this gun are controlled by the trigger finger. As the recoil of this gun is used to operate the reloading mechanism, the "kick" of heavy loads is minimized, making the gun very pleasant to shoot. It is a hammerless, two-part, take-down, five-shot repeater, that works well with all standard loads. The working parts being made of Nickel steel, make it strong and safe. Ask your dealer to show you the Winchester that's LOADED BY RECOIL, CONTROLLED BY THE TRIGGER FINGER

Mr. Ormsbee's Pet Squirrel

Mr. H. W. Ormsbee has been improving idle moments making friends with one of the gray squirrels in the Deer Park. The result is shown by our page seven picture. "Jack" lives in the tall oak at the right of the picture, responding eagerly to "his masters voice" for he knows full well that there's rich reward.
