

TOWNSEND'S TRIPLEX

(PATENT PENDING)

The Greatest Grass-cutter on Earth Cuts a Swath 86 Inches Wide

Drawn by one horse and operated by one man, the TRIPLEX will mow more lawn in a day than any three horse-drawn mowers with three horses and three men. Does not smash the grass to earth and plaster it in the mud in Springtime, nor crush out its life between hot rollers and hard, hot ground in Summer as does the motor mower.

Write for Catalogue illustrating all types of Lawn Mowers including Townsend's GOLF WONDER for putting greens. (Free).

What Shall We Say of Schall in a Night Gown? Elopement of Four Couples to Gretna Green

ASSEMBLED Friday last in the sounding lists fair ladies and brave men, noble knights and damsels in fine array, all manner of folk that can ride, and the squadron of horses. Came the populace to cheer and to admire, and great prize have gone to Miss Childs and George Leach, master of hounds. As it was Miss Zogbaum and George Raymond proved themselves most skillful and used to this sort of thing, and carried away the victory to the rousing cheers of the multitude.

Then took place an occurrence so strange that a casual passing wagoner reported to his amazed home folk the passing of sanity of the Yankees. I have his word for it that before his very eyes, bulging with wonder, he beheld a furious quartette galloping down a stretch. At a moment they dismounted in furious haste, and proceeded to don night gowns, and white caps and put up umbrellas, and manifest other certain signs of dementia. Then back onto the panting steeds and off in this guise.

All quite true. But to the initiated this signified the great victory E. C. Schall of New York won in the Saturday people in their benzine buggies, and the inevitable picaninies, scenting out a holiday.

For it was heralded that four couples would then and there be married in haste and for a prize, as one should be, and that withal they would flee the spot at great speed, for the glory of Hymen. And it came to pass. It was called a Gretna Green Race. Down the course came the bridal parties, lippity cut. Off they get, and the ceremonies are performed with no apparent delay. Then back they come, holding hands and in blushing speed. Obviously none can win this kind of game if they let go, or separate during the ride. Else would the

to Monday race outdressing and outriding G. R. Raymond, Richard Park and Master Hoag in this important occasion.

And now came the final trial of horsemanship, an unequal joust between one lady and two knights. The fair horsewoman ties upon her right arm the coveted bow, and these two arrant riders endeavor to remove it from the left side. With Miss Slade in the saddle this was easier said than done. She gave Schall and Park a run for their money, and manoevered until all competition was outdistanced. Miss Zogbaum, pitted against Schall and Raymond, and Miss Park against Hoag and Park made up the contest.
