HOWARD'S DAY

Downs Whittemore and Splane After a Long Battle in Weekly Trap Shoot

Shooting from scratch, Parker W. Whittemore again approximated the possible on Monday last, in the weekly trap shooting contest at the Gun Club. He broke 97 out of 100 targets, only to find that he was tied with G. M. Howard of Halifax and J. C. Splane. Howard had a handicap of 4, and Splane of 14. Shoot-off was not as simple as it might be supposed. The first frame eliminated Splane, who got a total of 21. Whittemore broke 23, and Howard 22, tying again with his handicap of 1. Those two went at it for a third time, and as before came out even, with twenty-three apiece. Then Howard did a pretty piece of shooting, breaking all but one of the next frame, which with his handicap made the score perfect. Whittemore dropped one, and lost this tough match with 22. The scores were:

Howard	24	25	22	22—93	4—97
				23	23 25
Whittemore	24	24	24	25—97
				23	23 22
Splane	18	23	22	20—83	15—97
					21

THE RANKING GOLFER

Mr. Clark uses only a small selection of clubs and frequently carries them himself, scorning the assistance of a caddie. He can do more with three clubs than the great majority of younger golfers can achieve with a dozen. It is often remarked by those who have followed his game that Mr. Clark had been seen to walk unerringly to the spot where his drive had ended without apparently having taken the precaution of following the flight of the ball. He knows every inch of the two courses so well, and has driven off from each of the tees so often, that it seems as though the mere feel of the contact with the ball is sufficient to tell him where to look for it.

His continued health and vigor, the steadiness of his eye and hand, are attributed by Mr. Clark to Pinehurst air and Pinehurst golf. Anyone can do what he does, he modestly insists, who starts in at Pinehurst early enough and keeps it up.

GOOD HORSEMANSHIP

fications in every respect in the open race for trotters and pacers. She was pitted against Fred Patchin, driven by Thomas, and McCauley's Red Bird, a horse famous in the river country, and among sportsmen over Rockingham way. It was no easy thing, but Swinnerton put it across in good style, and landed the first money.

Dancing

Every afternoon at the club house while tea is being served there is an informal dance going on in the big hall over the lockers to the music of the Thomas Orchestra, which have made such a hit with their fox trots in the evenings at the Carolina and the Holly Inn. The universal pleasure that is evidenced whenever the young and danceful have an opportunity to follow the compelling tattoo of the most versatile of drummers leads us to believe that many who have not found this out will be glad to be informed.
