SILVER FOILS CHAMPIONSHIP

Wins Tie From Mrs. Barlow by One Stroke Added to Mrs. Hurd's Laurels

Mrs. Behrend a Close Competitor and Winner of the Prize for the Best Net Score

EXCEPT for the law of chances, which never allows anything on earth to remain constant for a long time, it is quite certain that Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd and Mrs. Roland H. Barlow would spend the rest of their lives trying to determine which was the better player. For they are as nearly equal on the golf course as two human beings can possibly be. This was demonstrated in three days' play for the championship of the Silver Foils on Thursday, Friday and Saturday last. The championship was determined by thirty-six holes of medal play on number one course, and there were prizes in addition to the best net scores. On the first day Mrs. Hurd led the field, and Mrs. Barlow by three strokes, returning a card of 89 against Mrs. Barlow's 92. The next day the tide turned as evenly as the pendulum swings. Mrs. Barlow made the eighteen holes in 93 and Mrs. Hurd in 96. So they tied at 185 apiece. The play-off demonstrated how even they are. The first four holes were tied. Mrs. Hurd got the best of the fifth by two strokes, but Mrs. Barlow won the sixth and the ninth both by one stroke, and the ninth hole found them all even again at 45 apiece. This was the best golf so far seen in the tournament, but not as good as that to come in the struggle for the trophy. Mrs. Hurd came in with five fives and four fours, and a total of 41, just exactly one stroke ahead of last year's champion, who had 42. Eighty-six to eighty-seven. And had it been match play, even up. It was a magnificent finish, and worthy of the distinguished record of both players.

Their cards showed:

MRS. HURD
Out—	5 6 5 5 5 4 5 5—45
In —	5 4 5 5 4 5 4 5 4—41—86
MRS. BARLOW
Out—	5 6 5 5 7 4 4 5 4—45
In —	6 5 4 4 5 5 4 6 3—42—87

None the less noteworthy was the exceedingly close race given the leaders for the championship by Mrs. E. H. Behrend of Erie. Her's was the best score made by anyone on the second day, a ninety-one. And her gross for the thirty-six holes was 186, only a single stroke behind Mrs. Hurd and Mrs. Barlow. She won the prize for the best net score by a safe margin from Mrs. H. H. Van Cleef of Poughkeepsie with 162. Mrs. Van Cleef, with a handicap of 36 and a gross score of 100—105—205, finished with a 69, seven ahead of Mrs. Channing Wells of Southbridge.

Miss Louise Elkins, with 198, made the fourth best gross score of the tournament. The scores for each day's play, the gross total, gross handicap and total net are shown below:

MIRIAM H. VINDICATED

A Spectacular Finish by Gladiator and Polly in the Hurdles

Herbert Cameron Wins the Guests' Purse and Miss Maitland the Ladies' Event in Trotting Meet

COLONEL SWIGERT had reason to be proud and happy driving home in his chaise through the winds on Wednesday evening. For now hardly a month old, the Racing Association, child of his fancy, had come forth into a full fledged meet, and provided a spectacle of jumping and racing, of limousines parked along the course, and pretty figures ahorseback that might have done credit to the Meadow Brook. The polo field was brilliant with the waiting riders, and inspecting experts, excited cousins and fair damsets, all anxious for the event.

The gong rings, drivers bring their eager charges to the mark, and the trotting race is on. The old thrill, which is always new, runs through the crowd, and holds it breathless as the horses take the turn and swing into the stretch. Mr. McCauley's Red wonder is in the lead, and Are Am Bee, rigged like a frigate working like clockwork, scarce a length behind. On they came like a whirlwind, a scene dear to the hearts of men since the days of Ben Hur, and the dramatic soul of the populace is satisfied to see the famous horse nose the victory, travel-
