The Village Gossip

Dear Duchess:

The shooting season is in full swing.
And more birds than I ever saw before.
Off with the golf stockings and on with that fine old coat you've thrown away the last ten Winters. We take a Ford and a piece of cheese and Pointer and Setter and make for one of the plantations—the Drowning Creek or the Kahn of Samareands. There are some keen sportsmen here now. G. M. Howard is out most every day that he can spare from Tin Whistling, and is getting as crafty as a native on the retreats of the Bob White. The rarest sport is to cover a point with Mr. and Mrs. Butler—Annie Cakley of shooting fame. The survivors rightly consider themselves a subject of charity, and the day's sport is enriched by many a yarn drawn at random from the margins of the world.

I want you to tell Jimmie to ship down my hunter p. d. q. Col. and Mrs. Swigert are back in the Waldheim, and the Colonel has sprung a bunch of races here that are worthy of Ballerabon. Rodman Wanamaker and Nat Hurd and a lot of youngsters have gone out into the prairie and picked up a string of mounts to snag the steep chase, and I have it in my mind to get back into the saddle and do a little Ascot stunt for them.

The boys are getting on to a trick that is worth imitating. They buy or swap a hat for a new Ford to knock around with all Winter, and swap back in the Spring.

Howard and Hunter and Newcomb and Commodore Newton all play the game. The commodore has opened La Casita, and Mrs. Newton is expected very soon.

The tea fighting season is on, opened with a very pleasant little informal affair by Mrs. Brayton from Fall River, who has the Craddock for the Winter. The Tufts had given a dinner party Monday evening at the Carolina for Mr. and Mrs.
Prescott of Boston, and there was a bit of fox trot and limbering up afterwards.

We've all got the Opera fever. It isn't exactly the same thing as Covent Garden or the Russian ballet, but it's a pretty good performance just the same. Last evening we rambled down after our cigars to take in a performance of Seventeen, based on Booth Tarkington's clever story.
Folks are beginning to learn what these moving pictures are. It's a social performance. The cars are banked about like dance night at Sherries—The country squires are all in, and there is a general howdy-do and palaver that suits my fancy.

Harry Blagdon, the naturalist, is here at the school—and a blessing it is to find a man who can see something else besides bunkers in the landscape. I'm told that as a plain matter of fact there is as large a collection of migrating birds to be found hereabouts as anywhere else in the Union. I have the notion to catch Frank Chapman next time he comes this way, and make a nature faking expedition with him and Blagden into the vast reaches of the Lumbee. Thine, DUKE OF ABERDEEN.

REPORT OF ROAD CONDITIONS ON CAPITAL HIGHWAY

Washington, D. C., to Fredericksburg, Virginia

For the benefit of those who are anxious to motor to Pinehurst this year, the OUT-LOOK prints herewith a detailed report of the road condition between Washington and Fredericksburg, which was made by Mr. Henry MacNair of New York, publisher of the Dixie Motorways. Mr.
MacNair accompanied by Mrs. MacNair and two children arrived in Pinehurst October 22nd, having been just a week on the road from Boston. This fact of itself shows that the trip can be made without mishap under touring conditions, and in a reasonable time, with ample opportunity for visiting the innumerable points of historic interest en route.

The road from Boston to Washington is all good macadam and concrete, susceptible of being travelled any month in the year. From Richmond to Pinehurst is nearly all of sand-clay construction, portions of which are very fine indeed.
The only rough stretches are between Richmond and Petersburg, Va., 20 miles, which can be avoided by a detour through Chesterfield which was selected by Mr. MacNair, and the rather rough road through Oxford County, North Carolina, which can be avoided by taking the Goodes Ferry route from South Hill, Va., to Henderson and Raleigh, which is 26 miles shorter, and with the exception of about two miles on the south side of the Roanoke River is all fair-to-good sand-clay upon which one may motor com-

Canoe Trips

On the Lumbee River may be arranged on short notice for guests of Pinehurst or vicinity.

This river is only nine miles distant and parties may safely go to the sea canoeing, 300 miles. The trip generally taken is that of one day, leaving the Carolina Hotel at 9.00 A. M. by auto and returning by auto at 5.00 P. M. This gives one a refreshing day's outing without upsetting their routine of pleasure at golf or other sports.

No danger such as rapids are incurred but the current is swift enough to make it interesting.

You simply go down the river with the current 18 or 25 miles, enjoy the wild scenery, midst a veritable forest garden 80 feet high. Mistletoe and holly are at their best now.

Guides and an out-door camp lunch are provided for those who desire a day's real outing.

Parties of 2, 4 or 6 may be arranged easiest.

Charges are reasonable.
