Hudson Leads Off the Tin Whistle Season

Lancaster and Barber Score Victory at Medal Play

MONDAY the 20th was reunion day at the Club House. The old Tin Whistle legions came in from all directions and lined up against Bogey in a handicap event for a substantial reward provided for the occasion by F.C. Abbe. And right then C.B. Hudson of the North Fork Club astonished himself and the neighborhood by rounding out the course one up with no handicap at all, and a full nine up with the aid of the handicap of 8. This completely broke the spirit of all competition, and left him in supreme command of the tournament.

The real contest of the day developed between Dr. C. F. Brown, Dr. M. W. Marr and C. L. Becker, whose handicaps brought them home in a dead heat three up. Lancaster made the next best gross score of the day, an 86, which he improved by two strokes in the medal tournament. Monday.

LANCASTER WINS THE MEDAL PLAY

With a handicap of 13 he proved too strong for the field in the Monday meet, handicap medal play in two classes. With a card of 84—42 in and 42 out—he made a net score of 71, pulling in under Kelly's guns by one stroke. The scores are coming down as the champions get acclimated. Tom Kelly made the best gross of the day, 39 out and 43 in, good enough to have taken the medal in the Autumn if it had been more carefully timed. He was second in the event, his net return being 72. R. H. Hunt of Worcester, Dr. J. S. Brown of Montclair and J. G. Nicholson of New Bedford all showed speed and divided third honors with a 74.

J. R. Bowker of Woodland, invincible on top of making the tenth hole in one, lead the second class by a pinch, his 74 eking out a close victory from J. R. Goodall, the Bellerieve player, and H. S. Houston from Mt. Tom by a single shot. Goodall had the consolation however of making a 91, the best individual gross score of the day in this division.

Played on number one course.

Bowker Humiliates the Tenth

The starch was taken out of that bully of Course Number One, the arrogant 11th hole, with its bunkers gaping out before and its yawning pond beyond. Its spirit was broken and its par was cracked. No longer can it boast its deadly defence to the timorous golfer. For Jock Bowker has its goat. Knowing the treacherous disposition of this deadly hole, Jock tries a new system. He sets his wind gauge Nor' Nor' East, elevates the sights on his putter to exactly 153 yards and lets fire. In vain the ramparts bulge to catch the pill. In vain beckon the hungry waves. Like a meteor in its flight the Silver King follows its orders straight into the cup, not once touching the slippery green. And there it stays, two under par, a record and a noble precedent.

Hughes' Victory

was celebrated election night by Roger Derby and the Republican brigade at the Pine Crest Inn. Great wisdom was shown in selection of the date. All other anti-Wilson celebrations were indefinitely postponed.

Twelve Hundred Acres

of land in the Sandhills were planted in tobacco this year principally by farmers come in here from the old tobacco sections. They all report good yields and good profits.
