

A Gorham Resolution for 1918

At this season of the year when Good Resolutions are the order of the day, The Gorham Company, sharing the common aspirations and hopes of mankind, renews its annual resolve to dedicate itself to making the world richer for its labors, to esteem silversmithing as an art as well as a business, and to measure its success by the artistic value of its achievements rather than by the volume of its sales.

on the leach, followed by the ranks of the Woman's Division of the Council of National Defence.

The catalogue is almost too much for us. There was the full roll call of the Schools—the Domestic Savings Company, the Potato Boys, the Red Cross Girls, and the sturdy battalion from the Farm Life School. These last in stern array depicted Pershing's Return and called forth rounds of hearty applause, leading the Kaiser to St. Helena tied hindside before on a jackass. Here passed John Brown, going to his famous mouldy couch in custody of the boy scouts of Southern Pines. Here passed the Klu Klux Klan, and Uncle Sam. Old Glory sailed by, a framework for Columbia and the recruiting soldier and marine of the familiar poster. Some old costume that graced the Peace Ball at Albert Hall—now serving a more warlike purpose. The Canning Club Girls drove by with samples of their art. And the mobilized companies of the Red Cross from every town in the district took honored place in the line.

It was an impressive and interesting spectacle for the gallery. But a holiday and a joy forever for the entire neighborhood participating.

THE CHAMPIONS.

THE HOG SHOW.

From the practical end the Fair was noted for the first annual exhibition of the Berkshire Association. Breeders of this valuable strain of pigs gathered in greater force than they have hitherto anywhere in the South, and the final authorities on the subject as well as the finest specimens of the breed were on hand. To the fancier in such matters the list of the champions sold the last day will convey the story.
