THE DUTY OF RECREATION

Now that the country is about to enter the arena from which it will either never emerge at all, or else come forth victorious, it is naturally the thought of every community as well as every individual, just what its duty is in the premises.

In this spirit Pinehurst has had to consider to what extent its normal activities and peace time procedure should or could be modified or changed to meet the needs and demands of the moment. The question we asked was the same asked by every loyal individual in the Republic—Ought we to stop doing what we were doing and go to making potatoes, say, or hunting Prussians—or turn our inns into hospitals and our links into parade grounds?

Happily we do not have to repair to our own native conceit for the answer. It has been given by the two highest authorities we have on the subject of training the nation for battle—Field Marshal Haig and Newton W. Baker, Secretary of War.

Said the Field Marshal—"Under no circumstances give up golf. Keep it going." Feeling the back wash of an opinion current at the beginning of the war, an officer of the American Lawn Tennis Association, recently went to see Secretary Baker and asked him if the usual tennis tournaments should be held, or not. The secretary's answer was that they should be held. Not only that, but he laid great emphasis upon the fact that every agency that helped keep the young men in condition, and the older men in trim for the burdens now added to their share, was an important National asset.

This fight is in its essence a prodigious athletic contest. Whatever the brains and genius of our race, whatever its ingenuity, its organizing capacity, its will and its spirit of sacrifice, none of these will prevail on the field of battle or in the work shop, unless physically we can stand the gaff. If nerves and muscles give out, all else will avail nothing.

Hence it is that now more than ever it is a National duty for every possible training ground, playground, tennis court, golf links, ball field and unitely exerciser to be in commission. If proper air and exercise, periods of relaxation and mental change are necessary for business men and athletes to conduct their affairs efficiently in times of peace—as everyone knows they are—how much more vital is it that these agencies be universally employed now to renovate the contestants and maintain the vigor of our personel in a business ten thousand times as important and sustained.

Among the National gymnasia Pinehurst has an important place. Our mission in the world has always been to provide the maximum of healthful outdoor recreation and relaxation from the cares of office and shop. Experience as well as the common sense and the dictates of the authorities demonstrates that our duty is to maintain this playground in its Greatest efficiency.

Not a week passes but that the rosters of the hotels show the arrival of a number of the greater or lesser leaders and lieutenants of the big task, come to recoup energy lost in days and nights of ceaseless strain. The course and the bridle paths are full of soldiers on leave, seeking a few days' respite from drills and wars and the rumors of wars. It is for this reason that it has been seriously suggested, that far from curtailing the opportunities here provided for recreation and leisure, we should as far as possible keep the village and its manifold sports normal, so that it would serve as a real change and place of upbuilding. That perhaps of all places in this State this is the one place where the least emphasis should be laid upon the dreadful problems of the hour. Not but that our hearts and our effort would be all against the wheel. But that our share should be in providing the lights to dispel the shadows, and the cheer and diversion, which with long days in the open, are quite as essential as gunpowder to put the game through.

SILENCE

YOU are requested not to talk about the war in public places.

It is natural for people to tell their friends of news which sons and brothers have written from the front or from the camps. Strangers, both men and women have been observed making notes of these conversations. In this way the Germans have learned the date of the sailings of many transports and prospective troop movements.

Never talk of American War plans outside of your own home.

Never leave about carelessly letters from men in service or in government positions, telling of any camp conditions, plans or prospects.

Never indulge in telephone conversations upon these subjects. Wires have been known to leak.

American Defence Society

Pinehurst Outlook.

GENTLEMEN:

Please publish this announcement.

To All Loyal Americans in the Sandhills.

You are requested to enroll as a member of the Vigilance Corps of the Sandhills. It is now led by the Moore County Militia and the Council of Defence and the sheriffs of the counties.

TO THE VIGILANTES

At the same time please send to me a complete list of all persons whom you know living in this district or coming here who belong in your opinion in either of the following classes:

1. German, Austrian, Bulgarian, or associated with any of these by marriage, sympathy, or inheritance.
2. All persons of no matter what antecedents whose actions, sympathies or words indicate that they are pro-German, anti-American, disloyal, Pacifists, or in favor of any action or propoganda calculated to diminish the prosecution of this war to its utmost limit.

These communications will be confidential.

In case anyone for any reason whatever hesitates to name anyone he or she believes to be in any of the above classes, I or any member of the Vigilantes will be glad to take the responsibility for him upon oral notification.

No person on these lists will be inter-ferred with in any way unless they start something. But it is absolutely essential to have a complete and exhaustive list of all doubtful characters for immediate use in any emergency.

To enroll merely write or notify me that you are at the command of the Council of Defence in case your services are needed for the routing out of spies and traitors.

At the same time send your list of all persons known to you to be in any of the above classes.

Signed FRANK PAGE,
 Captain Vigilantes, Aberdeen, N. C.

Round Up the Pro-Germans

Frank Page, captain of the Moore County Militia and of the Vigilance Corps of the Sandhill Branch of the American Defence Society, has issued a call to all loyal citizens of the United States residing in this district to take an active part in the protection of our homes and the location and capture of all German agents, propagandists and enemies of our country.

Through intercepted communications and evidence found on a score or more of arrested aliens, Government agents have discovered a concerted movement to reorganize German sabotage and anti-war propaganda in this country.

The pro-Germans in this Country as well as actual paid spies of the Kaiser are lined up to systematically interfere with the food administration, with our munition factories, with the draft, and to whisper criticisms and discontent among the negroes and ignorant population in every district. Their headquarters is busy gathering bits of information from all parts of the country, and forwarding it to Germany through a North European Neutral by code communications carried on by members of ship crews and other means.

This means what we have all along suspected. That in this country, as has been discovered in England after great cost and loss of time, no German or German sympathizer is to be trusted.

Of course all Germans in this country are not spies. But they every one have to be watched.

It is the duty of the Vigilantes to watch this situation in their own county, to keep loyal citizens from talking too much, and to prepare for the Government a list of every single man and woman in the section who is either

1. A German.
2. An Austrian or Bulgarian or Turk.
3. So closely descended or allied with any of these by marriage or association as to possibly be in sympathy with them.
4. All Pacifists and others that preach a German Peace or Anti-war preparations, or anti-draft, or other doctrines tending to impair the fighting ability of the Republic, whether Foreign or American.

EVERY PERSON IN THE DISTRICT IS REQUESTED TO MAKE A LIST OF ALL PERSONS THAT THEY HAVE ANY REASON TO SUSPECT OF BEING DISLOYAL, OR WHOSE LOYALTY IS IN DOUBT, OR CONCERNING WHOSE LOYALTY THEY
