Back of the boys behind the guns is your order today—are you with them.

The sugar you hardly miss is equal to a week's ration in Belgium. Use syrup.

Save the food and help the fighter fight.

Eat wisely and keep the wolf from the door of the world.

Do a Bit at every Bite—Save Wheat, Butter, Sugar, Meat.

Eat more fish, cheese, eggs, poultry, and save beef, pork, and mutton for our fighters.

The more fats we can send to the Allies, the slipperier will be the skids placed under Germany autocracy.

Celebrates Washington's Birthday

The big dance hall at the Carolina was packed to its utmost and adorned with a profusion of red, white and blue bunting in honor of George Washington, upon the occasion of his birthday. The allies were there not only in bunting, but in person. The service belts of a number of Canadian officers on furlough from the front, and the blue uniform of the Italian service lent a martial aid to the festivities, which was heightened by a new terpsichorean movement and number introduced by Mrs. F. C. Boustead called the Army Quadrille. Twelve couples executed this effective measure to the delight of all assembled. They were Miss Judith Jenks and Lieutenant Capehart, Miss Daisey Porter and Lieutenant Marquis Spinola, Mr. and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Kaescher, Miss Esther Tufts and James Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, Miss Eleanor Abbe and Mr. Dunning, Miss Marian Abbe and Mr. Nagle, Miss Strathan and Mr. Horn, Mrs. Dodge and Mr. Elkins and Miss Nichols and Mr. Boustead.

A further patriotic touch was added when an officer of the Navy mounted the platform and announced that he had just received a telegram asking him to request the company and the village without any delay whatever to supply Uncle Sam with all the Marine Glasses to be found. He said that when the last transport was sunk that there were only six glasses on board, or available to supply the transport. And that at least sixty should have been on hand and in use passing through the submarine zone. Reluctantly the party broke up in the late hours.

A THAGGARTS PARTY

The Lure of the Bridle Paths
Caught a Big Flight Last Saturday

Mrs. Spencer led the old hands and the riding Neophytes in a scouting party horseback to the environs of the famous pond at Thaggarts. The boys from the Pinehurst school, who are at home in the saddle, and who recently impersonated the cavalry leaders of all the allied armies (as beautifully portrayed on the first page of this journal) led the van, and held the flanks, and built the fires and generally made themselves useful and popular.

At Thaggarts the frying pan and coffee pot were brought into active action, and a modicum of bacon and eggs was served hot to the company, preparatory to a baseball game. This was a fast and heavy scoring game scheduled between the School and the Pinehurst Cracker-jacks, Mrs. Bausher in the box. The fans appeared from the village in their automobiles, and added to the diversion.

The company consisted of Mrs. J. G. Bausher, Miss Helen Overton, Miss Sarah Yerxa, Mrs. E. P. Spencer, Miss Katherine Wing, Miss Grace Payson, Mrs. H. D. Dodge, Miss Margaret Thayer, Miss L. A. Thurston, C. L. Bausher, F. C. Overton, Commander Elia and his guest Lieutenant Marquis Ugo Spinola, John Parson, Lambert Splane, J. T. Russell, Louis Rutherford, Winthrop Rutherford, James Kellogg, Miss Daisy Porter, Mrs. W. A. Sanford, Miss Christine Stevens, P. M. Sanson, Mrs. J. J. Carter, Mrs. W. B. Gier, Frank Hitchcock, Mrs. D. G. Wing, Mrs. J. E. Broadhead, Mrs. Walter Broadhead.
