D. N. CLARK.

On March 2nd, D. N. Clark of Woodbridge, Connecticut, celebrated his 89th birthday at the Holly Inn. Because of the war the immemorial birthday cake was eliminated from the ceremony, but the lighted candles, the flowers, the presents and the best wishes of his hosts of friends were a feature as always. As his guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hotchkiss of New Haven, Seward Fields of New York, Robert Foote and Noyes D. Clark. A. E. Atherton and Mr. Such presented the quail for the price de resistance. Mr. Clark is recognized as the Nestor of the golfers of America, and still breaks 100 on the Pinehurst links almost at will. He retired from business when 72 years old, and not until then did he take up the game. He came to Pinehurst at this juncture and has devoted six months to golf every year since—four months here, and two months in the summer in New Hampshire. He says that the recreation has kept him in perfect condition.

His Hosiery

The hours I spent in knitting-art
Are as a string of purls; I sigh
To count them over, every on apart—
My rows awry—my rows awry.

Each hour I purl; each purl take care
To drop no stitch, lest I be stung;
I count, yes count unto the end—
And there a foot is hung.

Oh memories that bless and burn,
Of ravelling out at bitter loss,
I drop a purl, yet strive at last to learn
To knit across, sweet art, to knit across.

—Exchange.

I'm afraid he don't mean more'n half wot he says. Well, dat's a whole lot fer a guy to mean when he's courting a goil, you know.—Puck.
