the old standby, made off with the consolation, trimming Tom Kelley in the final round four and three. His closest match was against S. M. Morgan of Altoona, who pushed him to the last putt and the home green.

Joe Bydolek of Buffalo made way through a strong contingent in the sixteen playing for the Governor's trophy, and found no dangerous competition until he ran against G. J. Moran of Rhode Island. Jock Bowker went down before him three and two; H. C. Davis, the rangy Woodland driver four and three, and J. D. Armstrong to the same tune. But Moran, who had done for Howard Phillips, sometime best ball of the Tin Whistles in the semi-finals, drove Bydolek to the limit, and in a very fast match succumbed only one down. In this division A. M. Reed of Ekwanok made way with the consolation by defeating S. A. Hennessee four and three in the last round.

Setting a standard of play in no wise behind the Governor's division, R. H. Hunt of Worcester worked his way into the finals, of the Secretary's division and took the trophy handily from J. H. Turner of Fox Hills two up and one to go. There were two memorable battles in this division, both the G. W. Statzell-R. T. Hall and the H. P. Hotchkiss-Athel Denham matches running to twenty holes.

The consolation narrowed into a victory of Hall's over George T. Dunlap, the publisher, from Canoe Brook, three and two.

GOOD GOING

For interest and standard of performance the contest for the fourth division trophies were not one whit less sustained or excellent than that witnessed in the three preceding sixteens. The most common remark current at the Club and the hotels during the week were something like this "I give you my word for it he went out in 39 and made a three on the tenth. How the devil did he get in the fourth division!" based on facts, too. Here was Dr. J. S. Brown who did not return a card with a medal score less than 80—and who had to be content with runner-up at that. In order to beat A. L. Carr of Bellevue, T. A. Cheatham contracted his accustomed score to a 39 going out and a 41 coming in—and just got off with it then. He kept the pace throughout the game—he had to. His next match was with C. L. Jones of Oakmont, whose handicap in Pittsburg is the same as that of the redoubtable Fownes that were leading the whole show. But Cheatham was not to be denied, and went on with his First Division Stuff for a win on the seventeenth. Colonel H. W. Ormsbee played his usual steady game, but couldn't stop the advance.

In this division the prevailing epidemic of hard battles was continued. It took 19 holes for H. T. Libby to put out Fred Page, and 20 for Dr. Brown to win from A. W. Ford of Binghamton. And in the second round Dickinson Bishop was run to the nineteenth before he could score over Col Ormsbee.

We regret that the physical limitations of paper and ink forbid our giving the details of the play of the hundreds of other matches in which the trophies were settled in thirteen divisions. The winners were as follows:
