THE PINEHURST WAR CHEST

Mrs. McQueen, Mrs. Lloyd and Miss Tufts Go Over the Top

As was to be expected, Pinehurst came across and delivered its share of the Great National War Chest in the campaign last week. Our quota was $1500. Mrs. J. R. McQueen shouldered the responsibility, and the work was done by her and Mrs. Lloyd and Miss Esther Tufts—as everyone knows. For if you were in the town and not under the bed or up a tree, one of these saw you personally and extracted your quota on the spot. A house to house and man to man canvass was the leading feature of the drive. But the side shows were quite productive.

The girls were heavily reinforced at the opera house Wednesday in the person of Rev. T. A. Cheatham, who is a team in himself. The usual resignation indulged in when a good show is held up for a War spiel rapidly gave way to genuine pleasure and anticipation when the crowd discovered that the Rector was on the bill. In his usual forceful and simple manner he drove home the necessity of the hour to such purpose that Miss Esther Tufts and Miss Alice Page raked in two hats full of change on the spot, aggregating $79.98, of which $25 was credited to the Aberdeen allotment.

Another $80 was easily drawn from the gang in the card rooms of the Carolina of a Bridge evening when Miss Tufts offered a select line of the trophies of the chase to the highest bidders. The total contributed by the division was $2700.

Famous Divine at Pinehurst

Doctor S. A. Watson, rector of the Episcopal Church in Paris, with Mrs. Watson spent a brief period in Pinehurst lately, staying at Mrs. Andrews' Little House and the Pine Crest Inn. They were enjoying a well earned rest, recuperating from exhausting labors in France during the entire period of the war.

They told many interesting stories and experiences of the fearful times. The doctor had innumerable tribute medals and orders given him by a grateful and suffering people for his leadership in the relief work among the refugees and the wounded.

A Valuable Acquisition

The principal and most profitable business in this section of the country is getting to be the raising of commercial peaches. Shipments have increased from ten cars in 1910 to nearly 200 cars last harvest. And next year it is estimated there will be nearer 400 cars. The prices on crates have been steadily mounting, until these last two years an average of $3 net has not been unusual.

For this reason the section welcomes with the greater cordiality the arrival of Professor W. N. Hutt as a permanent acquisition to its councils. He has for some years been the head of the Horticultural Bureau of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, and president of the National Horticultural Society. He has taught us all we know of fruit culture. And so the interest added to the greeting that he and Mrs. Hutt were certain to receive from their many friends here. Mr. Hutt has taken charge of the operation of the Carolina, Derby and Marston orchards.

Planning an Orchard

S. B. Chapin is about to join the legion of fruit growers about Pinehurst. He is clearing the big ridge between here and Aberdeen for peaches. It is said to be one of the best locations in the section.

Surprised

"The Romans had small regard for human life in their amusements."

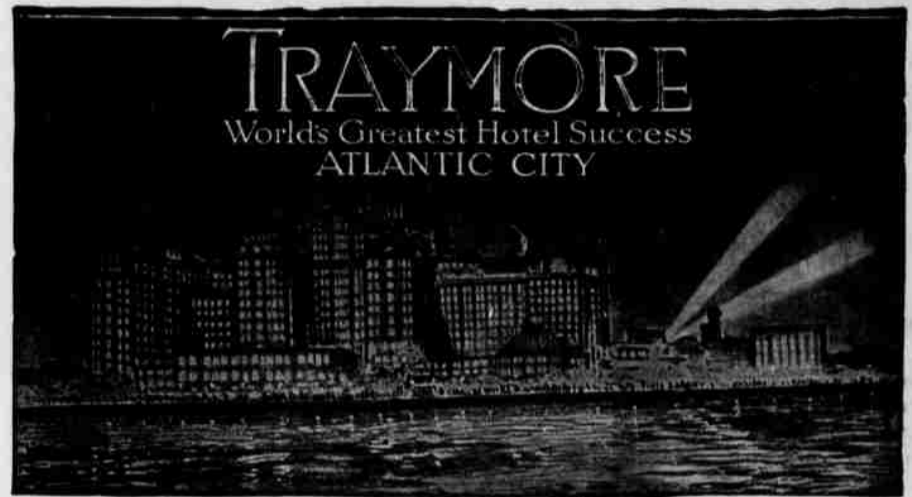

"Yes," answered the man of violent prejudices. "It's a matter of great surprise to me that they failed to discover foot bal"

Cynical

"Which do you think counts for the most in life, money or brains?"

"Well," answered Miss Cayenne, "I see so many people who manage to get on with so little of either that I am beginning to lose my respect for both."
