

GATES TRIUMPHS IN AUTUMN TOURNAMENT Wins President's Trophy, Defeating R. C. Shannon, 2nd, in Final Round, 4 and 3.

The Fifteenth Annual Autumn Tournament again demonstrated that the chance of the medalist to run away with the final honors is not much better than that of the man who just barely squeezes into the first division. It is, in fact, quite futile attempt to make any predictions on a matter where so many uncertainties can creep in as are possible in pounding a diminutive rubber ball some 6,000 yards over hill and hollow. Of course, chances are in favor of the favorite. So far, however, this season the favorite has figured among those who also ran.

There were three sixteens and a special eight lined up for match play. The first sixteen in the Qualifying Round handed in the following cards:

Dr. C. H. Gardner	41	44	85
J. R. Bowker	42	46	88
C. H. Baner	42	44	88
Donald Parson	42	46	88
Richard Garlick	45	44	89
H. G. Phillips	46	44	90
Burton Preston	44	46	90
T. A. Kelley	45	45	90
C. K. Becker	44	46	90
T. S. Danforth	43	48	91
Dr. J. S. Brown	40	51	91
G. T. Dunlap	41	50	91
T. S. Fuller	45	47	92
F. H. Gates	45	48	93
R. R. Sharmon	47	47	94
R. C. Shannon, 2nd	48	46	94

In the first round of match play Dr. C. H. Gardner was completely baffled by Howard Phillips, of Moore County, losing by 4 and 3. This was the first surprise for the wise ones. The second was the elimination of Donald Parson, of Youngstown, 2 down by Richard Garlick, also a member of the Youngstown contingent. C. L. Becker, Ekwanok, furnished the second hole in one this season. He took this desperately sensational means of defeating R. R. Sharmon of Youngstown at the 165-yd. 14th and final hole of the contest, and Sharmon could not duplicate this feat and halve the hole.

The most interesting match in the first sixteen was supplied by T. S. Fuller of Ardsley and C. H. Baner of Philadelphia. Fuller went out in 39, including a fine 2 on the eighth, and was 1 up at the turn but finally bowed to Baner at the 19th where his opponent sank a long putt for a birdie four.

In the second round Phillips, again triumphant, came home at the expense of Jock Bowker, one up. As he usually comes thru in some Southern event before the season is over, it is assumed Jock has not yet struck his winter gait.

All matches on the first division were bitterly contested and the fate of at least three was decided by long puts at the eighteenth. Shannon and Richard Garlick staged a particularly harrowing affair which Shannon ended at the 19th, Garlick having one time been three down. The defeat of Baner by Gates, 1 up, left Phillips and Gates, Carolina Champions, scheduled to battle in the semi-finals. A stymie on the home green gave Dr. Brown of Montclair likewise a place in the semi-finals.

In these semi-finals it appeared, by reason of the casual fashion in which he disposed of the Doctor, that Shannon was bent on winning two tournaments in succession. After Gates and Howard Phillips had settled their argument decisively in favor of Gates, Shannon, next morning, faced the Moore County Star and knew that if he proposed to halt the winning pace which Gates had displayed it would be necessary to play the best golf that he had to offer.

It was a rainy morning; they paddled over 9 holes on even terms and then Gates got mad, took a string of holes in succession, and finished four up at the 15th. The President's Trophy awaited him at the Club House.

SUMMARY

We submit for our readers a new method of summarizing the Pinehurst Golf Tournament. All tabulations are baneful, but this one has at least the merit of enabling you to find among hundreds of players those who interest you and avoids the possibility of paralysis of the eye, from looking up and down column after column of scores which all look alike. Criticisms and suggestions welcomed.
