10 CENTS

THE BIG SHOOT

F. D. Kelsey Wins Midwinter and Tracy H. Lewis Takes High Average for Week

After the snappy, frosty weather which prevailed during the first two days of the shoot, the weather man favored the contestants in the Fourteenth Annual Midwinter Handicap Target Tournament, which held sway at Pinehurst during the week past, with delightful summer-like weather, and the majority of the shooters were at their best.

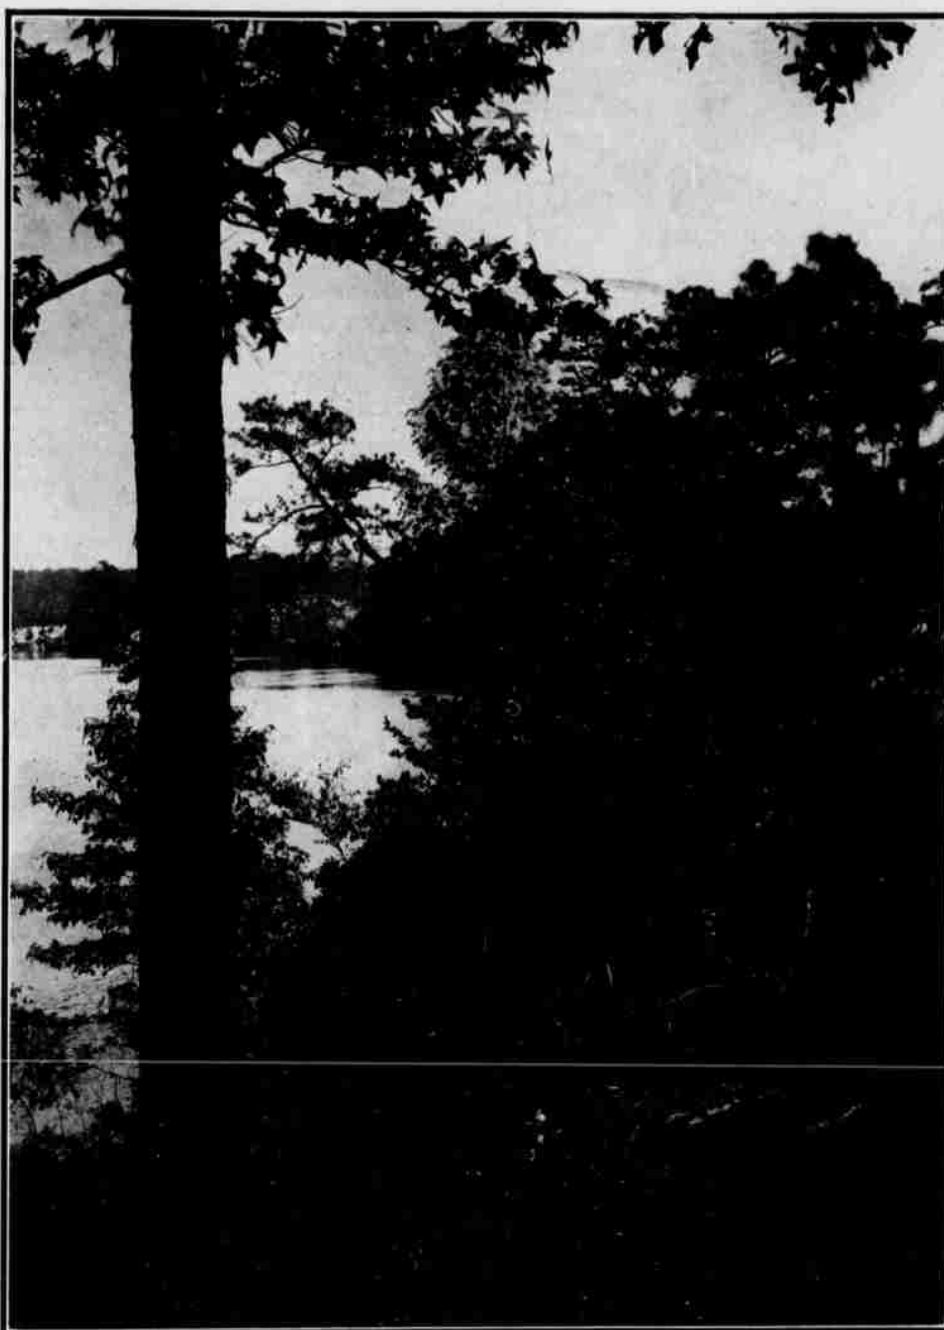

The week's program started on Monday with the Pinehurst Introductory, and continued daily with special 150 target events until Thursday, Friday and Saturday, when the Preliminary, Midwinter and Consolation handicaps respectively were shot.

Frank D. Kelsey, who hails from East Aurora, N. Y., led the big field of contestants in the Midwinter Handicap, the stellar event of the week, by breaking 98 out of the scheduled 100 targets from the 18-yard line, and added to his glories by annexing first money in the Consolation event the following day with 97 breaks. This is the first time that anyone has won two handicap events here, and so far as is shown by the records available, this feat has been performed on only one prior occasion in this country, when Woolfolk Henderson, the Kentucky star, won two handicaps in the Grand American at Dayton, Ohio, several years ago.

Mr. Kelsey, who is sixty-six years of age and the dean of the trapshooters assembled, was Frank Wright's predecessor as chronic champion of New York State. He dropped two birds out of his first 80 in the Midwinter, and when he started his last string he faced the necessity of breaking the entire 20 in a row in order to win the classic event, for S. H. Sharman of Salt Lake City, shooting from the 21-yard line, had already wound up his session with 97 breaks. The elderly gentleman was equal to the occasion, and when his last target went to ruin he was greeted with a great ovation by the large crowd of spectators that gathered to witness the outcome of his efforts.

His scores were:
Midwinter 20 20 19 19 20—98
Consolation 20 19 19 20 19—97

A number of the long distance men gave a particularly good account of themselves in this event. Sharman's 97 took second money and Harve Dixon, Missouri State Champion, led the 22-yard men with 96 and was tied for third place by C. C. Fawsett of Washington,

On the Margin of Little River

who shot from the 20-yard line. Dixon was tied with Kelsey at 78 out of the first 80, but dropped two of the last twenty while Kelsey broke them all. C. A. Bogart of Sandusky, Ohio, a 22-yard contestant, broke 95 and was tied at that figure by E. M. Berlin of Greensburg, Pa., 19 yards, and M. P. Howland of Philadelphia, 18 yards.

In this event 37 contestants broke 91 or better and divided twenty-six moneys aggregating $3,340, ranging from $68.00

ROUND ROBIN CLAIMS ATTENTION OF THE TIN WHISTLES

P. W. Whittemore Wins Chief Honors

Chairmen of tournament committees of golf clubs throughout the country would do well to consult a program of the Tin Whistles at Pinehurst, for they would discover an unsurpassed assortment of golfing competitions.

The most recent of this assortment was a Round Robin tournament staged on Number 2 course on Monday last, in which the members qualified in two gross and two net divisions of four players each. The four's then played off, each man having three matches on his hands in one round. The gross divisions played from scratch and the others with handicaps.

This made a very entertaining competition. A player might easily, in the circumstances, be two up on one member of the four, all even with another and two down to the third. It would even be possible for all hands to end up all even on the home green, thus calling for additional holes, but it so happened in this case that one of the players in each four won from all his opponents.

P. W. Whittemore, Brookline, won the major trophy in the final round of the top four from Howard Phillips, T. A. Kelley and F. T. Keating. Donald Parson triumphed over his three antagonists in the second four, and C. H. Lay carried all before him in the third four. George Van Keuren and H. C. Fownes brought home the bacon in the fourth and fifth four's respectively.

A special medal play handicap for those who failed to qualify in the gross or net four's resulted in a victory for Rev. T. A. Cheatham with 89-13-76. J. M. Robinson finished second with 105-28-77.
