First Annual All-Season Members Tournament

(By E. A. DENHAM)

THE Pinehurst Country Club's First Annual Season Members' Tournament was sprung last week and about thirty full-fledged and presumptively full-paid members of the Club took part in the qualifying round and were led into camp by Howard G. Phillips, whose 76 was good for the medal with five strokes to spare.

E. L. Scofield, who has generally been there or in the immediate vicinity when medals have been handed around this season, passed up his usual role and contented himself with an 84. This was good only for third place, with John D. Chapman figuring as the runner-up to the medalist, at 81.

Scofield atoned, however, for his temporary lapse by wading through the field in the match rounds and winning the tournament. His victims, in the order of their demise, were Frank T. Keating, John D. Armstrong and R. C. Shannon, 2nd.

When the first round of match play began, the next day, Phillips, the medalist, withdrew and allowed his match to go to Shannon by default. Phillips' medal winning round of 76 had also brought him the major prize in the Tin Whistle Swatfest, for which the qualifying cards of the Season Members were accepted, and Phillips figured it was somebody else's turn to do a lot of work directed towards the acquisition of the final tournament trophy.

E. L. Scofield's winning ways came into evidence in a defeat of F. T. Keating by 1 up, at the end of the only really close match of the round, and he passed into the semi-finals in company with John D. Chapman, R. C. Shannon, 2nd, and John D. Armstrong.

The semi-final round brought Scofield into the final by virtue of 2 and 1 win over Armstrong and resulted also in the rather surprising defeat of John D. Chapman by R. C. Shannon, 2nd, who won by 3 up and 2 to go.

Shannon started out by taking the first hole in a stroke under par. He won the second also, with an inglorious 6 and he was 3 up at the tenth hole. Then he saw all his accumulated gains swept away by Chapman, who took three in a row and evened the match, only to lose it when Shannon gathered in the fourteenth with a birdie 4, the fifteenth with a perfectly good 3 and the sixteenth and last hole of the match with a 5 to Chapman's 6.

Their cards were as follows:

Shannon, out4 6 5 6 4 4 5 3 4—41
Chapman, out5 7 5 4 5 4 4 4 4—42

Shannon clashed with Scofield in the final round, played on Friday, and Scofield won the match and the tournament, 4 up and 2 to play. Scofield went out in 39 and was 3 up at the turn and 4 up at the tenth. Shannon registered his first and only win on the eleventh hole and all the others were halved until Scofield brought the match to an end by winning the sixteenth. Scofield's birdie 4 on the fourteenth threatened to bring the contest to an earlier conclusion but Shannon couldn't see it and ran down a long one for a 4 of his own.

The cards of the trophy match:

R. H. Hunt won the second division trophy by successive wins against E. H. Wiswell, H. H. Rackham and Dr. J. S. Brown. It was a 19 hole affair with A. S. Higgins that landed Dr. Brown in the final round, where defeated him by 2 in 1.

James Barber carried off a popular victory in the third eight. The Englewood veteran took his first round match by default and then defeated Pat O'Brien, 2 and 1, and, in the final, won against Charles S. Waterhouse by the safe and sane margin of 8 up and 6 to play. O'Brien, Barber's victim in the semi-final, was on the winning end of a 19 hole match with B. V. Covert, in the first round.
