Seniors Sixth Annual Tournament

WE ring the changes on the proposition that youth must be served, but the seniors in tournament formation last week showed youth that the athletic spirit, and even the athletic skill may be preserved well into the twilight zone.

Five men of the more than sixty entrants in the sixth annual tournament broke ninety, and one of them within two years of the allotted age to man—George W. Statzell, of the Aronimink Club, Philadelphia, went around the No. 3 course in a brilliant 83, being three strokes under his nearest competitor.

The youngest of the five men to score under 90 has passed the three-score year mark, while the medalist is the oldest of the quintet. The oldest man in the tournament was Robert Foote, of New Haven, 75 years young.

Here is the list of honor competitors, who broke 90, together with their scores:
