

At the Gun Club

Charles S. Strout, of Biddeford, Maine, a veteran sportsman equally skilled at golf, archery and rifle shooting, won the Christmas Turkey Shoot at the Gun Club last Monday with a score of 16 and 14, Strout captured two large gobblers to lead the list of prize winners, who included also Ted Turner, John Capello and Edward Frye. E. L. Scofield, Mrs. Billie Rounseville, Frank Maples and Willie Wilson also competed.

At a ladies' tournament on Monday afternoon, Miss Marie Pierce, of Boston, won first place with a score of 138 out of a possible 150, Miss Margaret Garth, of Fredericksburg, Va., taking second with 136. Earlier in the day Miss Garth had won the brush at a fox hunt, Miss Pierce following close on her heels.

Mr. C. S. Strout, Pinehurst cottager and all-round sportsman.

Tuesday's Hunt

The fox hunt last Tuesday was the largest of the season, computed from the size of the field. It may have been something of a disappointment to those who would have enjoyed running behind the hounds for more than about twenty minutes. The fox was caught and killed in that time. The reason for this is probably that the new dogs that we have been advised were recently purchased by Mr. Tate down at the Pinehurst Stables are too good. However, they were not too good to give a lot of fun to the merry hunters on the drag which was laid immediately thereafter.

Among those present were Miss Emily May Wilson, of Southern Pines; Miss Elizabeth Rountree, of Knollwood; Miss Lucy Otterson, of Plainfield, N. J.; Miss Elva Statler, of New York; Miss Ethel Harmon, of Atlanta; Mrs. P. S. P. Randolph, of New York; Mr. Allen Lincoln, of Springfield, Mass., and Mr. Thomas Brown, of Perth Amboy, N. J.

Mr. H. Stacy Smith, of Goshen, N. Y., owner of a large stable here, driving in the last matinee.

Answers to the Questionnaire

(We are forced to the conclusion that last week's questions were still a little too hard. No correct set of answers were turned in. The nearest approach was the set by Miss A. H. Hilton, whose answers are given below.)

1. A brumbaugh is a deceased governor. (A tuft of grass on a golf links, called after the bushy eyebrows of Governor Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania.)
2. (Rev. T. A. Cheatham is chaplain of the Tin Whistles.)
3. (There is a squash racquets court at the Paddock, the hunt club near Southern Pines.)
4. Miss Glenna Collett is the present North and South women's champion.
5. She is also national women's champion.
6. There is a miniature golf course on the Barber estate, recently purchased by Mr. Meehan, and another one in a local barber shop, to name only two.
7. Why are Sandhills? Because they are hills of sand. (They are sand dunes, left by the ocean, which receded from this region much more recently than from the rest of the State.)
8. The Woman's Exchange is the oldest building in Pinehurst.
9. (There is a disused tennis court behind the Carolina Hotel.)
10. (The Pinehurst Dairy was originally on the land occupied by the present Number One course.)
11. Carthage is the county seat of Moore County.
12. (The Pinehurst jail is near the power plant.)
13. "In Southern Pines it is more than advisable to stop at any intersection of May Street."
14. "Three common birds found in the Sandhills all winter long are the mocking-bird, quail, and a certain screech owl which I hear every night."
15. (Blue's Bridge is on State Highway 701, on the Lumbee River.)
17. There is winter canoeing on the Lumbee River and Drowning Creek.
18. Before the time of golf, croquet was the leading Pinehurst sport.
19. Croquet, or roque, is still played scientifically at Southern Pines.
20. Col. G. P. Hawes, U. S. A., retired, referees most of the Pinehurst polo games.
21. Two brothers, each an M. F. H., are James and Jackson Boyd.
22. There is no mayor of Pinehurst.
23. The owl is at the Country Club—referring to the new night club; there is also an owl in the Deer Park.
24. There is no Seaboard Air Line station at Pinehurst; the Norfolk and Southern has the only station here.
25. Don't you think you are pretty foolish to read through all these questions? "Not so foolish as the one who compiled them."
