The Infection of An Attractive Landscape

It is interesting to look over the early pictures of the Sandhills development and then compare the present with the past.

Sandy barrens then for sure. Sandy barrens now, no longer.

The landscape engineers have wrought a famous miracle, for the Pinehurst territory is now one of the ideals in landscape work on a broad scale.

The new crop of pine trees has come on. The new crop of other trees have kept pace. But the big change is in the limitless planting of shrubbery, small trees, the multiplication of lawns and grassy avenues, interesting roads and bridle paths, fine homes and surrounding neighborhoods.

All that was here to enthuse the early builders of Pinehurst is here now. Along with that is all that has been added between then and now.
