

PINEHURST OUTLOOK

Saturday, February 12, 1938

Silhouetted against a setting sun, these Sandhill equestrians, homeward bound, are emblematic of the peace and quiet of the long-leaf pine country. Riding over pleasant miles of bridle paths has become one of the most popular sports here during the past few years