

The WORLD of TODAY

By the Associated Press
 Nazi Germany used the firing squad again Saturday and then added martial law to its stern measures to stamp out anti-German moves in the protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia. The execution of three more persons, two policemen and an unidentified Czech brought to 12 the number shot to death within the last 48 hours. Nine students were executed yesterday.

The Netherlands passenger liner Simon Bolivar sank in the North Sea with a possible loss of 140 lives yesterday after striking a mine which the British Admiralty charged Germany had laid without notifying neutral shipping. The 8,309 ton vessel carried 400 persons, including women and children. A total of 260 survivors landed at an unnamed East Coast British port.

Four bombs exploded last night in the smart Picadilly Circus area and startled theatre-goers in what police termed was a renewal of the outlawed Irish Republican Army terrorism. This was the first such serious outbreak since the war began. No one was hurt.

United States

NEW YORK, Nov. 18—(AP)—A contract for 400 to 600 North American aviation training planes and extra parts for an undetermined number of planes — an order aggregating approximately $20,000,000—was signed today by representatives of the Ingleside, Calif., company and the British purchasing commission in the United States.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18—The State Department reported 48 cases in which belligerents had detained American ships for examination of papers or cargo. Of the total detentions, Great Britain was responsible for 33, France for 10, Germany for 4 and an unidentified vessel for one.

CAMDEN, S. C., Nov. 18—Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark of Westbury, L. I., has reentered the steeplechasing field and will have six horses here this winter to be trained on the Springdale course. Mrs. Clark's Kellsboro Jack won the Grand National at Aintree four years ago.

Too Much Fresh Fish, Villagers Are Gainers

The night before last was a little more than just another Friday fish night. Night Club impresario and Izaak Walton Karl Andrews journeyed to the shore of Ye Atlantic on a piscatorial expedition early that fine morning. When he returned to Pinehurst that evening the baggage compartment of his deluxe Buick was packed with fish — everything from speckled trout to sheepshead, to sturgeon — 60 pounds of them. Well, sir, Karl bought that car load of fish down to the center of the village and started showing them off to the populace. Karl has established quite a reputation down here regarding his appetite, but 60 pounds of fish, eet ees seemly moch too moch. To make a long story short, practically everybody from the town crier to a couple of caddies had fine fresh fish for supper, including the staff of your favorite paper. And by the time he was finished, poor fella, they say that all Karl had for his own supper that night was a seven-pound sea bass.

Foreign

CAIRO, Nov. 18—Premier Ali Maher Pasha assured Great Britain today of "all possible help." He spoke at a new session of the Egyptian Parliament, opened by King Farouk. Egypt severed diplomatic relations with Germany Sept. 4, one day after the British and French declaration of war.

BERLIN, Nov. 18 — Robert Ley, leader of the Nazi Labor front announced today that a ten hour day would be established in essential industries.

The pay scale for the ninth and tenth hours will be the same as for the first eight but will be tax free. An extra pay rate will be established for night and holiday work but women will not be asked to work nights.

Ley declared Germany's position was improving all the time.

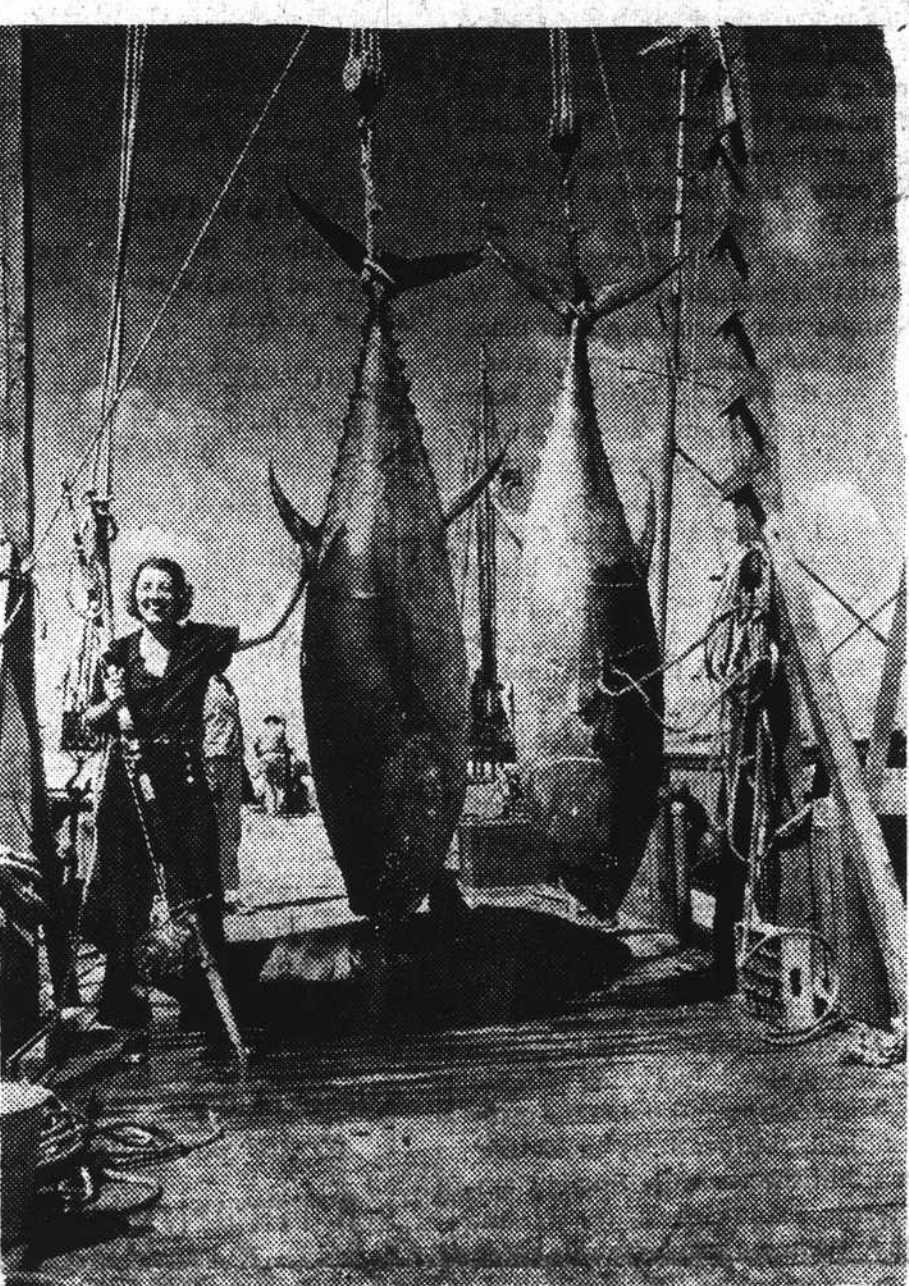

BERLIN, Nov. 18 — French troops were reported today by DNB, official German news agency, to be digging in east of the Moselle river during a lull in fighting on the Western Front. Emplacements for long range artillery have been constructed by the French in this sector, DNB said.

Cullom Is Slightly Hurt In Collision

A motor accident took place on Midland Road at the Knollwood intersection yesterday morning at 9:00 o'clock. F. Shelby Cullom of Pinehurst was driving toward Southern Pines, planning to go straight ahead past the Mid Pines Club, and W. M. Martin of Aberdeen was driving on the same road, coming toward Pinehurst. Attempting to make a left turn into the West Southern Pines Road, Martin's car met Cullom's and overturned, landing against a telegraph pole with glass flying — its driver escaping without a scratch in spite of the fact that one side of the car was badly damaged. The front of Cullom's car also was considerably damaged, and Mr. Cullom was taken to Moore County Hospital with a bruise over one eye, which at first looked serious. He was able to leave the hospital in a few hours, after receiving treatment.

THE WEATHER
 Cloudy, occasional rains Sunday and Sunday night and probably Monday morning.

MRS. JULIAN BISHOP IS TUNA CHAMPION

Mrs. Bishop won the first lady's day competition at Cat Cay fishing Club last June by landing this 548 pound tuna after an interesting battle. She used a 40-oz. tycoon rod, 54 thread line and 16-0 Stevens reel.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

There was Julian Bishop, blasting away with an automatic from the poop deck of his boat, Eugenie II., in a gallant effort to drive off an attacking army of sharks. They were coming in waves, like infantrymen, seeking to capture the 548 pound blue tuna, which Mrs. Bishop had hooked, and was trying to bring aboard before the man-eaters made a meal of the prize catch.

Mrs. Bishop was a contestant in the first tuna fishing championship in Bimini waters, off Cat Cay, for women anglers. It was the first time Mrs. Bishop had ever engaged in fishing since as a child she reached into a bowl of goldfish and found it immensely entertaining sport.

The Captain of the Eugene II., having caught a glimpse of the gigantic tuna on the end of Mrs. Bishop's line, realized that the sea was about to give up one of its best selections, and, provided the fish could be landed without being mutilated, it would probably be the biggest reported, and win first prize.

After two hours of battling, the tuna had been brought close enough to the boat for the mate to grab the leader wire, toss the gaff in, lasso the tail and make fast to the block and tackle. The gasoline engine used to wind in the fishes was started. This threw the tuna into reverse. The fish took off for home, pulled the block and tackle loose, and the mate with it.

Camera!
 The mate was half out of the boat, caught in the tackle. The sharks were advancing and the tuna making a final bid to get away from it all. The situation was critical. It was at this time that Mr. Bishop started to open fire. He threw thirty rounds at the sharks, repulsing them single handed.

The mate untangled himself, placed the block and tackle back in position, and the tuna was brought on board, unutilated.

Mrs. Bishop sat back in an easy chair and enjoyed the proceedings. She wanted to catch some more of the same size. She did catch another, but it weighed only 399, which is at least one pound under par for the Cat Cay course.

Meantime Mr. and Mrs. John K. Weeks, Jr., were out in another boat, and Mrs. Weeks had landed two tuna weighing 445 and 346 pounds. The Weeks thought the 445 pounder would win the prize for the largest fish, and that the total weight of Mrs. Week's double would win the ribbon in this contest.

Mrs. Bishop weighed in with 947 pounds and Mrs. Weeks with 791. Mrs. Bishop went to Cat Cay for a vacation and did not intend to fish. Mrs. Weeks finished third.

In the men's tournament Mr. Weeks finished about nineteenth, and Mr. Bishop was likewise out of the money. Mr. Bishop said he shot the eyes out of a few sharks.

Girls Fly Their Favorite Colors From Hats As Duke Conquers

BEST BALL OF PAIR TOURNAMENT STAGED BY TIN WHISTLES

Blazing Round of 61 Turned in By Comstock and Fitzgerald Over No. 1 Course, Giving Them Major Prizes

With little thought to the football fever which had gripped many of Pinehurst's regulars, the Tin Whistles went on as usual with their third event of the season. While radios in the club blared out first downs and blocked kicks an unusually large entry went about the more important business of bestball of pair.

S. E. Comstock and J. J. Fitzgerald, and Warren Bicknell and Maurice Hoopes were the successful pairs in winning major prizes. Mr. Comstock and Mr. Fitzgerald returned a net score of 63 and Mr. Bicknell and Mr. Hoopes were 66. Minor prize winners were Walter D. Hyatt and H. A. Lovett with a net of 67. Each prize-winning pair played on number three course.

Mr. Comstock and Mr. Fitzgerald went out in a blazing 28, and returned in 33 for a 61. As number one course calls for a two stroke penalty, their net was 63.

Eric Thomson and Dr. E. M. Medlin had the lowest score on number 1 course, a 34-33-67 plus 2 — 69 and J. T. Hunter and J. P. Hotchkiss with 35-36-71, were low on number two.

- Forty-two participated.
- Summary:
 S. E. Comstock and J. J. Fitzgerald 63.
 Warren Bicknell and Maurice Hoopes 66.

North Carolina Takes Lead With Field Goal, but Tobacconists Turn on the Pressure and Land Victory by 13 to 3

GAME THRILLS THROUGH

By ROBERT E. HARLOW
 DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 18—The game has ended, but the final score on North Carolina highways in the vicinity of the Duke Stadium may not be completed until sometime tomorrow. Duke was the better team, and won, 13 to 3.

The girls are wearing new hats, in the Arabian style, with long ribbons falling down behind.

North Carolina folks did not intend to miss a single instant of this spectacle, and when the ball was kicked off there was enough crowd present to last the United States Golf Association for a dozen national amateur championships.

The score by periods:
 Duke 0 0 7 6—13
 N. C. 0 8 0 0—3

When the teams came out on the field and saw the vast amphitheater filled with eager spectators, the boys knew they were really up in the big time, and it appeared to give them stage-fright. For many minutes the game was loosely played. There was very little continuity to it. Plays which were designed to develop according to well laid plans, were detoured. Backs found themselves in awkward positions, completely surrounded by the enemy.

Intense Young Men
 Seldom have young men been more tense than they were in this Duke-North Carolina game. The build-up, the crowd, the atmosphere, made them so keen that at the beginning they were too eager and did not have proper control.

This made for a very interesting game, with an exceptionally large number of unexpected plays.

Duke indicated power at the start, but when one of the famous McAfee brothers dropped a punt in the second period, which North Carolina recovered and parlayed into a field goal, to lead three to zero, North Carolina was hopeful. This field goal just made it, having been booted from the 45 yard mark. The ball had inches to spare as it crossed over the bar.

The girls are wearing long, red, brown, blue and various other colored ribbons from the backs of their hats. They flutter in the breeze like flags on Decoration Day. It appears to be the gag of the millinery people. You can tell immediately if a girl is in the latest hat style.

Early in the third period Duke blocked a North Carolina punt from inside Carolina's twenty-yard line. The ball rolled back of the N. C. goal line and Duke fell on it and converted. Score then read:

Duke 7, — N. C. 3.
 The North Carolina kicker did not use his head. He tried to get the kick away too fast, and from a point too close to the line of scrimmage. He needed a niblick on his shoe to get quick ele- (Continued on page six)
