U. S. Challenges Blockade Plans

By the Associated Press

Complications of a serious nature were forecast in Washington last night as Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of War, advised Great Britain that the United States was not to be understood as endorsing any principle of interference with its neutral trade.

The announcement followed shortly after the British Embassy had disclosed that effective December 1, the British would start a pre-sailing system of investigating American exports to ten European neutral nations.

Apparently the notice to Britain that this country was reserving its full rights under International Law to genuinely neutral trade was given when the export checking plan was discussed, but Welles did not make clear in what way it applied, or what eventualities it might cover.

This news followed shortly after an announcement from London that Britain would wage an unrestricted sea blockade of Germany in "retaliation" for mine warfare which counted the 11,930-ton Japanese passenger liner Terukuni Maru as its newest victim.

A mine-sweeping trawler of the British navy and two other trawlers also were added to the mounting list of maritime losses yesterday.

German Bombing Plot Arrests

German Secret Police tonight announced the arrest of a man charged with the November 8th, beer cellar bombing attempt on Hitler's life, and the capture of two British Intelligence agents accused of plotting German revolution.

While the official announcement of the police did not connect the arrest and capture, they did charge Otto Strasser, one time Hitler lieutenant, with organizing the bombing plot, and the British Intelligence service with furnishing the money.

The man charged with the bombing was named as George Elser of Munich, who was said by police to have confessed.

In London, the British Foreign Office said neither the British government nor any agent of it had any knowledge of the German citizen described as having placed a bomb in the Munich beer cellar.

Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot Winds Up Today

Not the fate but the "Journey's End" address of 12 Thanksgiving birds (Turkeys to you) will be decided at the new Pinehurst Gun Club, located at the Pinehurst Kennels on the Aberdeen Road at four o'clock this afternoon.

Glenn Davis, manager of the shooting iron house declared yesterday that not a single member of that one dozen gobblers weighs less than 15 pounds.

In other words, this is the last day of competition in the Thanksgiving Turkey Shoot, which has been running for a number of days at the Gun Club. Three of the competitors will be named as judges for the final award of the birds. Everyone is invited to participate during the last day of the contest. Classes include revolver, rifle, shot gun, skeet and trap. If you have any kind of skill with a shooting iron, we suggest that you enter, for this is the last chance. If you possess no such skill, be on hand anyway, for spectators are welcome.

A PADRE PLAYS PAR GOLF

Rev. J. W. Holland

Visiting in Pinehurst once again is the Rev. J. W. Holland, Padre of the Holy Trinity Church of St. John, N. B. One of the most rugged men of New Brunswick, Rev. Fr. Holland is noted for the excellence of his golf. He is just past 60 years of age, but still plays golf close to par figures. He has often been the principal opponent of Eric Thompson of Pinehurst and St. John, in city championships and other competitions in the New Brunswick city.

Last season the Padre played the number three course in par. He is also an excellent curler.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

Jack Ryerson of Cooperstown, N. Y., where some say baseball was started, is one of America's most ardent golfers. He has been playing the game since he was a boy, and keeping records since 1917. He finds that last month he completed a round which gave him the unusual record of having played 500 different golf courses.

Mr. Ryerson considers Pinehurst is "tops" as a golf resort. He has been coming here for many years, and in 1934 won the Mid-winter tournament. In 1931 he was runner-up in the North and South amateur championship.

Jack has played golf in Canada, Mexico, Hawaii, Great Britain, France, China, Siam, India, Malay and in practically every state in this country.

Born in Chicago and educated at Yale, Jack has made his home for many years in Cooperstown, where a golf course is included in the family estate. This course was formerly the property of the Otsego Golf Club. In recent years Jack has managed it.

Among important incidents in the golfing career of Mr. Ryerson, are the following:

He has made three holes-in-one. The 12th at Pebble Beach in California; the 14th at Pine Valley and the 12th at Cooperstown.

He has participated in 250 golf tournaments and has won 32. Most important wins were in the Southeastern amateur championship at Phoenix in 1926; the Cooperstown invitational, five times; Eastern New York state in 1938; Florida winter championship, St. Augustine, twice; Mason and Dixon, White Sulphur, twice; Lake

Maurice Writes On Clinic Issue

Robert E. Harlow, Esq., Editor, Pinehurst Outlook.

Dear Mr. Harlow:

The interesting story appearing in the Outlook on Tuesday, November 21st, regarding the problems of syphilis treatment in the Pinehurst area, has perhaps not made completely clear the attitude of the Moore County Hospital toward this question. I shall appreciate your courtesy if you will print the following amplification.

Because the Moore County Hospital exists to serve this section, and because it is supported by the people of this whole section, it always seeks to present to the public the full facts in regard to any matter of policy. In considering the treatment of syphilis, the hospital emphatically begins with a premise that syphilis is a great scourge, that it should be fought efficiently and continuously, and that the present campaign against it is a vital undertaking.

The problem is — can the Moore County Hospital best serve in this fight by holding a weekly clinic on its premises?

After careful consideration the medical staff of the hospital voted to advise the directors that in their judgment a syphilis clinic for the Pinehurst area should not be established at the hospital, but should be continued, instead, at some other point.

At the meeting of the staff on November 13th Dr. J. C. Knox, state epidemiologist, who has general supervision over syphilis clinics in North Carolina, brought out the fact that of 225 active clinics now functioning throughout the state, only 6 are in hospitals. Many clinics which were once located in hospitals have moved elsewhere.

It appeared to the majority present at the above mentioned staff meeting that the establishment of a clinic at the Moore County Hospital would present grave difficulties.

Lou Koch with String of 142 Sets Up Mark for Bowlers to Shoot at Over Perfect Alleys

A RECREATION CENTER

3 HISTORIC EVENTS ARE COMMEMORATED AT FAYETTEVILLE

Governors Enact Roles in Pageant Depicting Epochal Happenings; Pinehurst Group will Witness Highlander Parade Today

Bowling, a healthful recreation, which requires skill and gives much pleasure was brought back to Pinehurst last night when four modern, streamlined alleys were put into play in the Pinehurst warehouse, directly above the plant of the Pinehurst Printing company on the Aberdeen road.

From shortly after the noon hour until early this morning the talented bowlers of Pinehurst and the Sandhills were rolling balls down the perfect alleys and scattering the pins. It was not until after two a. m. that the last ball had been delivered.

Raymond Johnson is to be complimented for the establishment of a recreational center in Pinehurst, equipped with the latest and best for bowling. Members of the winter colony and hotel guests will find a great deal of amusement and pleasure in participating in the various league games and individual competitions which Mr. Johnson plans for the season.

The alleys are the Dixie sectional, made from specially selected and kiln-dried maple. They were placed in the Pinehurst building by experts representing the Saunier - Wilhelm company of Pittsburgh.

Rev. A. J. McKelway, pastor of the Community Church acted as captain of a side of nine bowlers last night, which was defeated by a team headed by Meredith Herndon. The score was 801 to 769.

Chester Williams was among those who bowled, and he was asked to select a team from among the membership of the Tin Whistle Club for an early match, against a side selected and captained by Rev. Mr. McKelway.

In last night's match Myron Barrett rolled the highest string. He toppled 101 pins. William Wilson was next best with 100 fallen pins.

Best string of the night was rolled by Lou Koch of the Pinehurst Press Bureau and Pinehurst Outlook staff. Shortly after one a. m. this morning he bowled over 142, eclipsing the record of 122, made earlier in the night by W. R. Murray of Southern Pines. Mr. Koch's score by frames:

10 9 18 19 16 19 14 9 18 10—142

This is a good string in any man's league.

Howard Dupont, who has had experience in handling results on official scoreboards for the United States Golf Association and the P. G. A. is bowling secretary. This assignment is one he is well fitted to handle, as he is an expert on athletic records.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 21—(AP)—This old city, settled by Scottish clans, commemorated today in pageantry three epochal acts of the Constitutional Assembly here 150 years ago.

In one day, on November 21, 1789, the assembly ratified the federal constitution, ceded the territory of Tennessee to the government, and chartered the University of North Carolina.

Today these were reenacted. Governor Clyde Hoey of North Carolina, in powdered peruke and velvet coat, impersonated his colonial predecessor, Samuel Johnston, Governor Prentice Cooper of Tennessee filled the role of John Sevier, hero of the territory's fight for statehood.

Last night, as a part of the city's sesquicentennial celebration, a folk play by Paul Green, putting into song and drama the saga of the Highlanders, had its premiere in the old Lafayette Opera House.

TO WATCH HIGHLANDERS

A large number of Pinehurst people plan to attend the marching of the Highlanders, who will be on parade today in connection with the celebration in Fayetteville, to commemorate the coming of the Scotch to the Cape Fear Valley.
