Britain Admits Belfast Damaged

By the Associated Press

Breaking a three-day silence, the British admiralty admitted last night, that "a torpedo or mine" had damaged the 10,000 ton cruiser Belfast last Tuesday at the Firth of Forth naval base with injuries to 20 men.

The admiralty had withheld comments of reports abroad since Tuesday that the Belfast had been damaged with an announcement yesterday by the German high command that the Nazi submarine commander had confirmed the raid on the Firth of Forth.

Nazi air raiders bombed three warships at the strategic naval base Oct. 16, inflicting casualties on the cruisers, Southampton, Edinburgh and the destroyer Mohawk.

The admiralty's statement said that the Belfast was now undergoing repairs.

Meanwhile, the sea lanes on which Britain depends for food bore new losses and there was increasing tension over neutral complaints against the threatened British blockade of German exports.

Mine Sinks Mangalore

The latest victim of East Coast mines — some of which the British assert were laid by Nazi planes, was the 8,886-ton British steamer Mangalore, whose crew of 77 were saved. She was the 83rd British ship, naval and merchant, reported sunk since the war began, Sept. 3.

Roumanian Cabinet Picked

In Bucharest, George Tatarescu, fourth premier of Roumania in two months, set up a coalition government last night, choosing ministers of all shades of political opinion, from anti-Semitic right wingers to Socialists.

Action On Western Front

Paris reports Germany lost a few prisoners in an unsuccessful raid on the French line east of the Moselle River, the French high command reported tonight.

The raid, noted in the evening high command communique, was the only action reported, beside the local artillery action along the Western front.

In the air, it was said that activity had been reduced but the British and French air forces were said to have bagged 14 planes in the last two days.

Words May Bear On Third Term

At Warm Springs, Ga., President Roosevelt, in an offhand statement that might have a bearing on the third term, told villagers that they had a little over a year left "to get a new postoffice."

"I don't know," he said, "that the next administration would give Warm Springs a new postoffice."

NORRIS L. HODGKINS TALKS ON BANKING AT ROTARIAN LUNCHEON

Club to Sponsor Amateur Night Show on Dec. 8th at School Auditorium as Benefit

The Rotary Club turned to home fields yesterday when Garland Pierce, acting for the program committee, introduced as guest speaker at the Club's weekly luncheon meeting, Norris L. Hodgkins, cashier of the Citizens Bank & Trust Company at Southern Pines.

Basing his topic on "A bank and its place in the community," Mr. Hodgkins drew an intimate word picture of the functions and responsibilities of such an institution as the bank he represents. He touched lightly upon the intricacies of credits and exchange from the days when an exchange of commodities represented the medium of barter up to the present time when, to cope with modern conditions, it has become necessary to adapt ourselves to the present economic system under which our financial institutions are governed.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

If you ever get a letter similar to the one which follows you will know that you are a pretty fair sort of a golfer.

Mr. Horton Smith.
c/o A. G. Spalding & Bros.
Chicopee, Mass.

Dear Horton:

It is my privilege to notify you of your selection as a member of the 1939 Ryder Cup team. Your selection for this honored position is based upon your record as a player and sportsman and your ability to represent our Association in a creditable manner.

As you know, these matches have been cancelled for 1939 because of the situation in Europe, but we earnestly hope that conditions will quickly change and permit the British team to come over to play during 1940.

We congratulate you upon your selection to this coveted post and wish you and the team complete success when it finally competes in these International Matches.

Most sincerely,
George R. Jacobus.

President P. G. A.

Mr. Smith, having been deprived of the opportunity of realizing for the time being, International matches, is playing considerable family golf with Mrs. Smith and Pinehurst golfers. NEW HANGAR TO BE BUILT AT AIRPORT

Structure Will Have Capacity to Take Care of Eight Average Size Ships

THANKSGIVING GOLF EVENT TO BE LED BY RYERSON, KNOWLES

George Dunlap, Jr., will Not Play in Tournament Starting Monday at Pine Needles but Will Act as Host

Bobby Knowles of the Country Club, Brookline, Mass., and Jack Ryerson of Cooperstown appear to be the most formidable of the amateurs who will play in the Thanksgiving tournament, starting at the Pine Needles Club, on Monday, November 27.

George Dunlap Jr., has decided to remain out of this contest and act as genial host to the competitors. Mr. Dunlap does not go in for competitive golf as much as formerly. This is unfortunate, for his entry adds greatly to the quality of the field and the interest of the spectators.

There will be a qualifying round all day Monday. Post entries will be taken, and qualifying will be in divisions of eight. There will be a trophy for the lowest qualifying score and prizes the winner and runner-up in each flight.

Players are requested to telephone entries to Ted Turner, Pine Needles professional.

Ryan Will Manage London Galleries

The London Galleries, Pinehurst's newest art shop, is now open under the management of Edward S. Ryan, who was for many years associated with Mrs. Berkeley LeV. Allen. Mrs. Allen has sold her business here to Mr. Ryan and will spend part of her winter in Florida.

The shop, located in the Razook building, will carry a complete and varied collection of fine china, dinnerware, jewelry, antiques, silver, Sheffield, gift and art novelties.

The interior of the store has been entirely renovated, with the addition of cleverly arranged shelves for better display of the many lovely wares in the shop. The establishment is a distinct addition to the Sandhills shopping center.

Contract let to Reinecke-Dillehay Inc. of Southern Pines Yesterday at Meeting of Committee; Firm Bid Low

IMPORTANT ADDITION

SOUTHERN PINES, Nov. 24—A step was taken late yesterday afternoon toward the ultimate realization of making Knollwood Airport one of the foremost in this section when a contract was let for the erection of a new hangar 86 x 86 feet, the builders of which will be Reinecke-Dillehay, Inc. Southern Pines, N. C. who were low bidders.

Meeting at the municipal building in Southern Pines the Airport committee of Mayor D. G. Stutz, chairman; Richard S. Tufts and Howard Burns announced that the low bid of $4,250 was made by the Reinecke-Dillehay firm.

With the two hangars already on the ground, this additional building will bring the housing capacity of the Airport up to about 15 planes. The hangar, which will be built of wooden trusses and corrugated iron, will have a clearance of 18 feet. The front doors, when fully open, will have an opening span of 84 feet.

Made possible through the co-operation of Southern Pines, Knollwood, Pinehurst, Aberdeen and the County of Moore, it will do much toward attracting planes to this section, that hitherto have found it necessary to go elsewhere due to lack of proper housing facilities. The new hangar will have a capacity for taking care of eight average size ships.

Reinecke - Dillehay have announced that work will start at once.
