

SOUTHERN PINES

By Jerry V. Healy

Staying at the Pine Cone Lodge for a few days are Mrs. Edwina Glenn Garfield and Miss Dora F. Welti of Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet French entertained at dinner recently at their home on Grover Road for Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George Moore and Mr. J. T. Hunter.

Recent arrivals at the Highland Pines Inn include Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cushman of Bay Shore, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Collett of Washington, D. C., Mrs. J. William Clark and Miss Nina B. Tucker of Bernardsville, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Windatt of Bound Brook, N. J., Charles E. Barnes of Boston, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Davis of Welcome, Va.

Emmet G. Holden, proficient wielder of wood and niblick, won the weekend medal play handicapped tournament held by the Sandpipers at the Southern Pines Country Club with a score of 83-10-73. Three entries tied for second, R. T. Mills with a score of 96-22-74; Dr. Greer Stutz, 88-14-74 and Johnny Schoonmaker, 76-2-74.

An item of good news. Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Betterly will return tonight from Philadelphia, where they have been confined to the Frankford Hospital for several weeks as result of an automobile accident.

The new ping pong table at the Southern Pines Country Club, a gift of the Pine Dodgers and Sandpipers, received its baptism of fire recently when Dick Suggs, major-domo of the club office, Emmet Golden, pre-eminent golfer and Johnny Schoonmaker, par shooting assistant of Roy Grinnell, pounded an elusive white celluloid ball over its shining surface. An added attraction to the club's indoor pastime facilities on a rainy day.

The weekly tournament of the Pine Dodgers will be played today over the Southern Pines Country Club course. Seventeen players entered this match play against bogey event.

Perhaps Mrs. Edna Hayes had heard of people who were first in line at the World Series, first to cross new bridges, or first to fly across the Atlantic. Anyway Mrs. Hayes broke into print yesterday morning when she appeared as the first customer at the opening of Jack's Grill in its new location in the Stevens building.

Weekending at the Dogwood were Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Manley, Elmira, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Jones of Hammondsport, N. Y., Mrs. Charles I. Prescott of Maplewood, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. George Mellor of Stoneham, Mass.

Recent arrivals at the Highland Lodge include Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Chesney of Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dallard Jr. and family of Albany, N. Y., Mrs. H. Charles Miller, Cedar Villa, Richmond, S. I. and Miss Betty Miller; Mrs. A. L. Brinkley of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. Mary Boothe Walker of Portsmouth, Va., and Mrs. Walker Francis of Atlanta, Ga.

The last of the Southern Pines hotels to open, the Southland began its 1939-40 season with the registering yesterday of three former guests who are here for the season, Miss Elsie W. Kormann, Miss Eloise C. Church and Miss Josephine McClennen of Caldwell, N. J.

In the second of a series of duplicate bridge tournaments, played at the Pine Needles Club on Saturday evening, Dr. and Mrs. Beaman Douglass of New York City were again winners as North and South players on team number three, dividing the honors with A. J. McKenna of New York and Leslie M. Brown of Maplewood, N. J., East and West players on team number one.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lauder III of Greenwich, Conn., stopped at the Pine Needles for the weekend on their return from a trip to Florida where they went in search of a boat to charter for a winter of cruising and fishing off the Keys. Mr. and Mrs. Lauder left Greenwich with the intention of completing the transaction in Maryland, but were not successful in their quest until they had reached Daytona Beach. Mrs. Lauder is the sister of Mrs. Gene Tunney, who winters at Hobe Sound.

Among the visiting golfers on the Pine Needles course over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Van Ness of Bronxville, N. Y., Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Pullen, M. A. Lalley, of New York City; F. Bachelor and E. P. Schroyer of Drexel Hill, Pa., and D. S. Fredrick of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Charles Hamilton Maddox and Miss Evelyn Maddox of Washington, D. C., and Newport are visiting Mrs. Maddox' father, S. Y. Ramage of Oil City at the Pine Needles. Other arrivals there include Mr. and Mrs. James A. Holladay, Niagara Falls, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, Boston, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Woodhaus, Menasha, Mich.

HENRY B. LOOMIS OF NEW HAVEN DIES ON WAY TO PINEHURST

Henry B. Loomis of New Haven, Conn., one of the seven surviving members of the class of '75 at Yale University, died of heart disease Saturday at a New York hotel where he had stopped on his way from New Haven to Pinehurst. He was expected to arrive over the weekend at the Carolina Hotel, where he had been a guest for a number of years with Mrs. Loomis.

Mr. Loomis, who was 86 years old, was born in Tallmadge, Ohio. His father, the late Elias Loomis, was professor of natural history and astronomy at Yale from 1860 to 1899. Mr. Loomis was admitted to the California bar in 1881 and, in 1890, to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States. He established the Henry Bradford Loomis Fellowship in chemistry at Yale and, with his brother, Professor Francis E. Loomis, established the Francis Englesby Fellowship in Physics.

Mr. and Mrs. Loomis acquired a number of friends during their visits to Pinehurst. One of their hobbies, receiving considerable note, was a "sunshine calendar," on which the 12 months of the year were represented with colored discs denoting the weather. The elderly couple kept this daily calendar for a number of years. It was considered a treasure in their old age and proved a fascinating pastime for them and for their many friends.

tiny. What we sow, we reap. There is a cause for every effect. Thought is the most potent force alive in this world today. War lords and dictators through their power of thought can build powerful war machines, but these same war machines generally turn around and eliminate the originator," Professor Douglas stated in an interview yesterday. There will very likely be some sort of a revolution in Germany during which Hitler will lose his power, according to Douglas' belief.

Regarding Stalin, Prof. Douglas asserted that unless he stops now, in the event Russia suffers a severe defeat on the battle front, there will very likely be a revolution in progress within her borders. This may not come for some time yet, he added, "but the prediction is that Hitler and Stalin, or perhaps I should say Germany and Russia will be tearing at each other's throats."

"Just as Hitler timed himself into a zero hour when his armies invaded Poland, just so did Stalin, when he invaded Finland," according to the astrologer, who is planning to stay in the Sandhills a few days while organizing an astrology lecture program here.

According to the many letters of appreciation which are in his possession, Prof. Douglas is well qualified to lecture on the subject of Astrology. During the past ten years he has entertained thousands of people through his lectures and individual analyses in such leading hotels as the Flamingo, Lincoln, Nautilus, Tatem, Good and Roney-Plaza, of Miami Beach, a number of leading hotels at Virginia Beach, The Shoreham in Washington, D. C. and numerous others from Maine to Miami. A few of the many leading theatres at which Prof. Douglas has appeared include the Florida theatre, St. Petersburg and the Olympia at Miami.

A "bumper" crop of game fish eggs is being "harvested" in Wyoming this year. The state game and fish department expects to gather 12,500,000. The eggs are hatched in state fish hatcheries and the fish are released in Wyoming lakes and streams.

MRS. PAGE REPEATS ACE ON SAME HOLE, WITH SAME PLAYERS

(Special to the Outlook) CHAPEL HILL, Dec. 4—History might not repeat, but Estelle Lawson Page does. About a year ago Mrs. Page scored a hole-in-one on the ninth hole of the Chapel Hill course.

Yesterday afternoon, using the same club (a no. 8 iron) on the same hole, and in the same foursome as a year ago, she got another ace.

Her husband, Julius A. Page, Jr., and Coaches Johnny Vaught and Chuck Errickson of the University of North Carolina staff, were in the foursome. Mr. Page and Errickson had birdie 2's while poor Coach Vaught could do no better than a par 3 on the 87 yard hole.

Mrs. Page's drive hit on the front of the green, bounced once and snugly fell into the waiting cup, in almost the same manner as the one last year.

OYSTER BAR AT HOTEL

"Just supposin" it was a dark, rainy night and you found yourself outside a small Inn whence came the gleam of soft light and the strong flicker of a fireplace glow. And that the ripple of the lake below was the wash of, let's say, Long Island Sound. Then a whiff of steaming oysters. Perchance it would be that you were gazing into a crystal ball? No, say we—the Crystal Lake Hotel at Lakeview, N. C. A spot where table talk is of the things one found to do during the day, from golf on nearby links to hunting over the 1800 acre preserve owned and leased by the management. And the management, Mr. Ted Barrow and his son, Ted Jr., are adding to the cause of good living an oyster bar where this shell-fish can be obtained in any way, shape or manner.

Where Will The Red March Stop?

Silhouetted soldiers indicate relative sizes of the armies in the path of Russia's westward march. The march started with Poland, continued when Russia won "mutual assistance" pacts with Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, making these countries virtual Soviet protectorates. Note that if Russia makes Finland knuckle down, she will gain an ice-free port to the far north and more bases on the Baltic. Some authorities say she wants at least economic domination of Sweden.
