

NEW LOW IS HIT BY TIN WHISTLERS

Hurd - Parson - Robertson - Waterhouse Team Makes Runaway of Bestball of Four Partners with 57 Score

The is Registered Between Two Teams for Minor Prizes, Each Scoring 61; Two Hit Best Round of Season

44 TAKE PART

N. S. Hurd, Donald Parson, F. C. Robertson and C. S. Waterhouse ran away with the Tin Whistle bestball of all four partners tournament at the Country Club yesterday when they returned a net card of 57 for the number one course.

A change in course value was tried out, the number three course being placed at scratch, number one at one stroke, and number two at four strokes. Under the former system the winners would have returned a net three.

There was a tie for the minor prizes with these teams returning net scores of 60.

H. A. Lovett, W. O. Smith, P. W. Thomson, B. L. Tyrrel and E. S. Blodgett, G. T. Dunlap Sr., G. T. Dunlap Jr., and C. A. Sloan.

The remarkable low ball of the winning team follows:

Out 344 343 32—27
In 333 542 443—31—58-1—57

Mr. Parson contributed birdies at the ninth and 15th and Mr. Waterhouse scored natural threes at the sixth and eighth for net twos, and at the fifth, where he had a double stroke, he scored a five for a net three.

Two members of the club scored the lowest rounds they have made this season over the long course. They were C. I. Williams and Harlow Pearson, with gross cards of 81 each.

Tin Whistle summary:

N. S. Hurd, Donald Parson, F. C. Robertson and C. S. Waterhouse 57, major winners.

H. A. Lovett, W. O. Smith, P. W. Thomson and B. L. Tyrrel 60, tie runner up.

CHRISTMAS PARCEL WRAPPERS WORK AT REMARKABLE SPEED

Village Chapel Group Carry Out Annual Task of Preparing Gifts for Distribution at Dr. Cheatham's Residence

About 30 Pinehurst residents, young, middle-aged and older, showed a veritable bee-hive of industry at Juniper Cottage, the residence of Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Cheatham last night. Work began around 8:00 o'clock and continued for about two hours.

The occasion was the annual filling of Christmas parcels with nuts, candies and fruit, 1800 of them. They will be distributed in this vicinity among the white and colored population. The gift packages will be taken by "Chief Santa Claus" Dr. Cheatham and Mrs. Cheatham in numbers proportionate to inhabitants, to the Pinehurst High School, to Taylortown, Jackson Hamlet and Eastwood, and left with four assistant Santa Clauses, as the gift of the Village Chapel.

The volunteers, all with a charitable interest, gathered around the large dining room table of the Cheatham household — to work! Roderick Innes and little Donnie Nelson acted as carriers, bringing baskets of the nuts, fruits and candies to the work table from another room, as each item was called for by the table workers. Operating on a revolving basis, at what could be termed almost a frantic pace, the paper bags were filled by boys, girls, ladies and gentlemen standing with just enough space between them for elbow room. To give an idea of the speed at which the work progressed, Dr. Cheatham said that the workers filled 1200 an hour. The charity has

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

Gene Sarazen, on the return hop from an unprofitable jump from his Connecticut farm to Miami, Fla., and return, stopped in at Batch's, a number one Inn on number one Highway yesterday, for spaghetti, waffles and coffee and was not in a talkative mood. The food was too good.

Gene required 294 strokes to complete the Miami open, an event won by Sam Snead with 271. This placed Gene 21 strokes behind the winner and outside the money circle.

For once Gene couldn't think of a story with enough pep in it to make the news service wires. The best he could do was make a few cracks about having already balanced his 1939 budget before the Miami tournament. Gene is one pro golfer who has been balancing the budget successfully for years.

There are 60 Guernsey cows in the Sarazen herd in Connecticut. They are producing enough milk and butter so that the farm is making a profit even if Gene's Miami jaunt was a red episode in the little Napoleon's career.

Sarazen is a cagey young man. It would be just like him to have 60 cows in prize winning form just at the time when his golf game is beginning to show wear and tear. Sarazen is the best business man in professional tournament golf. As a money maker and investor he is out in front of Horton Smith.

Asked if he really thought his Ryder cup side could defeat the regulars selected by the P. G. A., Gene agreed that his story was for the purpose of getting some resort or golf club to "fix up another match with a large purse for the boys."

Gene said he would be in Pinehurst for the North and South.

Taylortown Organizes Chamber of Commerce

At a spirited meeting last night in the Methodist Church a newly born organization got under way in Taylortown. Through the efforts of several of its more civic minded residents Taylortown is now blessed with a Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting held last night was for the purpose of setting up a temporary staff of officers to get the organization started. Raymond Caldwell was elected temporary chairman. A nominating committee was appointed to select nominees for election at the next meeting.

A delegation from Pinehurst was present at the meeting and each member was called on to say a few words. The Pinehurst visitors at the meeting were Mr. E. S. Blodgett, Dr. Alice Presbrey, Mr. H. S. Phillips, Rev. A. J. McKelway, Mr. S. R. Ransdell, and Mr. Leland McKeithen.

Turkey Slaughter Trial is Continued

The trial of Clyde Phillips of Glendon, N. C. which was to have been held in Carthage on Monday has been continued until Monday, January 1. Phillips was arrested on December 11 on a charge of shooting over the legal limit of wild turkeys in one day, and having used a repeating gun.

The arrest was made following an investigation by State Game Commissioner Fred Williams of Fayetteville, that turkey recently released from the state farms at Hoffman and Fayetteville, were being killed. The birds had been released under an agreement that they be unmolested by hunters for a year's time.

Phillip's trial was continued due to the absence of a state witness. The missing witness has been subpoenaed in Greensboro and the trial will be held in Recorder's court in Carthage two weeks hence.

Holly Inn Plans Yule Specialties

The personnel of the Holly Inn, who for the last several years have led the way in Christmas decorations in Pinehurst, are again busily at work and are promising that the results will justify all of the excess time and trouble.

The Outlook's reporter found that early in the morning, all afternoon, and late at night, the members of the staff, from the manager and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Horne, down are divided into various groups with their workshops in several of the rooms of the lobby, the back of the dining room and some parts of the basement.

We were not able to discover just what shape all of these, de- (Continued on page two)

VANGUARD OF 12 POLO PONIES HERE

Mounts Belong to String of 40 Owned by Earl Shaw, Who Plans to Arrange Matches And Tourney

PARTS WITH TONSILS CAN'T VOICE GREETINGS

Dr. Francis L. Owens celebrated his birthday yesterday, cake and all. Mrs. Owens was not even able to voice her congratulations. She was taken to the Moore County Hospital yesterday morning, and operated on for a tonsillectomy by Dr. J. P. Bowen of Aberdeen. Dr. Bowen and Miss Lucille Brooks, her nurse, were the guests of Dr. Owens at a birthday dinner last night. Mrs. Owens is doing nicely, and is expected home in a day or so.

Sandhills Series, Similar to Those Held Several Years Ago, Expected to be Scheduled for April

TEAMS TO PLAY

The Carolina moon, a small reception committee and a truck from the Pinehurst Racetrack Stables greeted the arrival last night of 12 of Mr Earl Shaw's polo ponies at the Pinehurst Depot. The 12 ponies left White Plains, N. Y., on Wednesday, and were no doubt glad to breathe in the balmy air of the pinelands after their six-day sojourn in a box car. They arrived on the seven o'clock freight train by way of Star, N. C.

The shipment is one lot of a string of 40 ponies which Mr. Shaw will quarter here during the season. Mr. Shaw plans to schedule several polo matches between a Pinehurst team, which he will organize, and teams from Aiken, Camden, Fort Bragg, and other places. He hopes that a Sandhills tournament, similar to those held several years ago here, may be arranged to take place in April.

Last night's equine arrivals were unloaded at the station and taken to the old Pinehurst Livery Stable, where they will be quartered for the season.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 18—(AP)—Wheat futures bounded up to new 2-year highs today but the Stock Market apparently was unimpressed.

Leading issues milled over a fractionally irregular, route after an early attempt at a rally failed to carry through.

While a number of specialties managed to cling to plus signs of as much as a point or so during the greater part of the session, numerous stocks were unchanged or down sizable fractions at the close.

The ticker tape took frequent naps and transfers for the five hours were around 700,000 shares.

ARCHERS NIP GOLFERS BY ONE SHOT IN TILT REVIVING NOVEL SPORT

Archery-golf, a game so popular at one time at Pinehurst that nine holes of the then No. 5 course were used exclusively for that purpose, made a comeback Sunday afternoon at the Southern Pines Country Club when a group of archers took on a pair of golf pros in a five-hole match.

Led by Carl Thompson, one time Metropolitan and Eastern Archery champion, M. V. Sandeford, C. C. Stott, Robert Battle and O. N. Rich, the latter four members of the Archers Association of Raleigh, N. C., beat golfers Roy Grinnell and Johnny Schoonmaker, by the narrow margin of one up. Shot of the afternoon was the "drive" by Archer Thompson on the 315 yard 16th, when he carried the green in one. The golfers played the five holes in even par; the archers, one under par.

Prior to the archery-golf event, Archer Thompson gave an exhibition, featuring trick shots.

PRESIDENT OF ROTARY INTERNATIONAL HERE

Mr. Walter Head of Montclair, N. J., president of Rotary International, arrived at the Holly Inn yesterday, with Mrs. Head, for an overnight stay. Mr. Head came from Sanford, where he spoke to fellow Rotarians just before the Pinehurst visit. He and Mrs. Head are leaving for Charlotte today, where he is scheduled to speak tonight. The following night he will address a large group at Asheville. The prominent Rotarian is a close friend of Mr. G. Edward Horne, manager of the Holly Inn.

THE WEATHER

Increasing cloudiness, slightly warmer in east portions Tuesday, followed by light showers by night; Wednesday, mostly cloudy and preceded by showers in the east portions.
