

PINEHURST OUTLOOK

Since 1896

The Oldest Sandhills Publication

Daily Except Monday — Member of Associated Press

VOLUME 44, NUMBER 43 Price 3 Cents THE PINEHURST OUTLOOK, PINEHURST, N. C. THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1940

Sandhills Polo Club To Stage Match Sunday

Lineups to be Picked After Tilt Today

The first polo game of the season to be played Sunday afternoon on number two field will provide an opportunity of seeing the Sandhills Polo Club in action for the first time in seven years.

A practice game is to be held this afternoon after which teams will be selected for Sunday's game. Earl Shaw and Merrill Fink will captain the two teams which will play Sunday, although later in the season both of these experts will play for the Sandhills Polo Club in matches to be arranged with Fort Bragg, Camden, Aiken and other teams.

A home and home game, Sandhills vs Camden, is being arranged. Cyril Harrison and the Sandhills Polo Club are working on dates. It is likely that the first game will be played in Camden late this month, and the return match in Pinehurst in February.

Among the players expected to work out in today's practice game are B. R. Brown and R. B. Green from Durham, A. H. Ellor Jr., Winston-Salem; Fred Wilmshurst, Hastings, N. C.; W. V. Slocock, William E. Baker, Mr. Shaw and Mr. Fink, all of Pinehurst.

Trotters and Pacers Arrive at Race Track

Eleven trotters and pacers arrived at the Pinehurst Race Track over the New Year weekend, six under the ownership colors of Mahlon T. Haines of York, Pa., to be trained by Delvin Miller, five of W. R. Lawrence of Colrain, N. C., George Finney trainer. The Haines string will be quartered in the former Stacy Smith barn, which was occupied last year by the Hanover Shoe Farms, the Lawrence contingent to take space in one end of the barn in which Herman Tyson quarters his charges.

WHAT TO DO AND SEE

Today

Polo match at Race Track this afternoon, beginning at 2:30.

Silver Foils tournament today, best ball of pair.

Buffet supper at Pinehurst Country Club tonight, in conjunction with Forum Series guest, John E. Toms, tepor.

AT THE THEATRES

- Southern Pines -
Today at 8:15, matinee at 3:00, "Reno," with Richard Dix and Gail Patrick.

- Aberdeen Theatre -
Tonight at 7:15 and 9:00 "Barbarade," with Alice Faye and Warner Baxter.

- Pinehurst -
Tomorrow night at 8:30, matinee at 3:00, "Swanee River," with Don Ameche and Al Johnson.

GOVERNOR OF NEW JERSEY — AND PARTY

GOVERNOR A. HARRY MOORE of New Jersey seems to be showing fellow-politicians just how long that missed putt was on the championship No. 2 course. From left to right, Judge F. F. Eggers, Judge Hulon Capshaw, Governor Moore and Col. Hugh Kelly. The governor and his party are guests at The Carolina, the governor getting a vacation before the meeting of the New Jersey State Legislature next Tuesday.

RECITAL BY TOMS AND LIVINGSTON AT FORUM IS TONIGHT

The third event of the Pinehurst Forum Series will be held at the Pinehurst Country Club tonight following after the weekly buffet supper. The guest artists will be John E. Toms, tenor, and Herbert Livingston, pianist. Mr. Toms is director of vocal music at the University of North Carolina, has a large following in the east and should prove himself an outstanding attraction.

The program for tonight follows:

Mr. Toms:
Caro mio ben, Giordani; Gia il sole dal Gange, Scarlatti; My Lovely Celia, Munro-Wilson; Air from "Comus," Arne; Ah, Moon of my delight, from the song cycle "In a Persian Garden," Liza Lehmann.

Mr. Livingston:
Etude Opus 25, No. 1, Chopin; Etude Opus 25, No. 9, Chopin; May Night, Palmgren; Jardins sous la pluie, Debussy.

Mr. Toms:
L'heureux Vagabond, Bruneau; Im Zitterden Mondlicht, Haile; Vergebliches Standchen, Brahms; It was a lover and his lass, Quilter; Drink to me only with thine eyes, Quilter; Going down to London, Colby.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

Victor Hugo's Notre Dame de Paris, or The Hunchback of Notre Dame, is a real thriller. Mr. Hugo is to the more sophisticated audiences the same sort of tonic that a Western is to the Saturday night crowds in many a prairie town. The Hunchback was presented yesterday afternoon and last night at the Carolina Theatre by Charles Picquet.

Charles Laughton plays the Hunchback, and rings the bells with confidence. In this respect he has a decided edge over Lon Chaney, the bell ringer of the silent picture, who had to play the part without the aid of sound.

Many a small town publisher will shiver when he goes to this show on a pass and watches Laughton pour that large bowl of Lin-o-type metal through the ears, noses and teeth of Notre Dame's famous gargoyles. They could settle their accounts with their metallurgists with that amount of metal.

No writer has a reputation for depicting Paris sewer life as well as Mr. Hugo. He is credited with doing a better job on the sewers than Thomas Hardy did on old English Cathedrals. Mr. Hugo knew the underprivileged of Paris and gives them to his readers in the raw, without a shave or a haircut. The motion picture directors enjoy putting this sort of copy on film because it photographs with authority.

Mr. Laughton makes a fine hunchback. He is well gotten up. He got a workout in a Victor Hugo classic when he played the Captain of Police in Les Miserables and followed Jean Val Jean through at least 1000 pages of terrific fiction before he made the coup.

There are tender sports in The Hunchback, just as there are desperately cruel spots. Mr. Hugo was an expert in contrast. He could skip from the depravity of a beggar's dive to the degeneracy of Fontainebleau without as much as a transfer. From the cat to the mouse.

Film directors like this sort of stuff. It gives them something to work with. It takes off the veneer and gives them a chance to make candid camera shots of what makes people tick.

In 1852 Hugo was exiled for his political opinions. The nobles became irked at reading his essays and poems about the underprivileged. He made them think that something ought to be done about it and they were too busy having a good time. They preferred the philosophy of Marie Antoinette, who suggested that they should, "eat cake," but did not give them the address of the baker.

Pinehurst Field Trial Club To Hold Contests

Amateur Stakes Monday Will Open Series Which Will Attract Entries from Noted Eastern Breeders

Roosevelt Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3—(AP)—Here in brief is the program recommended to Congress by President Roosevelt today:

1. Additional taxes to finance "emergency" expenditures for national defense.
2. Extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act "as an indispensable part of the foundation of any stable and durable peace."
3. Increased appropriations for national defense but reductions in "practically all other important items" of the federal budget.
4. Continued search for a solution of the unemployment problem.
5. Development of a spirit of national unity, in Congress and out.

Twenty-third Annual Meet Will Include in Order, Amateur All-Age, Derby; Free-For-All and Open Derby

PUPPY CLASS LISTED

The twenty-third annual events of the Pinehurst Field Trial Club, a member of the Amateur Field Trial Association, will be held over the Pinehurst courses beginning next Monday, Jan. 8 and the open stakes Wednesday, Jan. 10. Headquarters will be at The Holly Inn. The order of running will be, amateur all-age, amateur derby, free for all and open derby. The open puppy stakes will be held when convenient, either Tuesday or immediately following the other open events.

The club secretary, James W. Tufts, asks that all entries be received as far in advance as possible. Entries will not close until the night of the drawings, however. Drawings will be held at the Holly Inn for the amateur stakes Jan. 7, for the open puppy Jan. 8 and the open stakes Jan. 9.

The amateur all-age will be open to all birds dogs handled by amateurs with trophies for the first four places. The amateur derby (ten or more dogs to start) is open to all bird dogs whelped on or after Jan. 1, 1938 and handled by amateurs, with trophies for the first three places. The free for all is open to all bird dogs, $500 guaranteed, divided 50 per cent, 30 per cent, 20 per cent, and 75 per cent of entry fee received in excess of guarantee divided equally among the three places. The open derby is open to all bird dogs whelped on or after Jan. 1, 1938, 75 per cent of entrance and starting fees to be divided 50 per cent, 30 per cent, 20 per cent. The open puppy stake (eight or more to start) will be open to all bird dogs whelped on or after Jan. 1, 1939. Trophies will be awarded for first three places.

THE WORLD OF TODAY

(By the Associated Press)

At Minneapolis at least 17 and possibly 20 persons lost their lives yesterday when an early morning fire ravaged the Marlborough apartment hotel.

Firemen, who fought the blaze in sub-zero weather, were still searching for bodies hours after the alarm was sounded.

Four of the victims were killed as they jumped from top windows in the three-story brick building. Others were trapped in blazing hallways, or dashed to death when the floors burned through and fell.

The number of injured was tentatively set at upwards of 25.

STEAMER TORPEDOED

At New York the Mackay Radio yesterday picked up an SOS from the Swedish steamship Kiruna, saying: "Been fired at by U—"

(Continued on page three)

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY COMPLIMENTED FOR EXCELLENT RECORD

Impressive reports of work accomplished during 1939 were read yesterday at the annual meeting of the Moore County Hospital Auxiliary.

Members of the organization were highly complimented by George H. Maurice, president of the hospital, on their splendid record. Mrs. Paul Dana, retiring as chairman of the auxiliary after three terms of service, welcomed the new chairman, Mrs. A. J. McKelway.

During the past year, from dues, contributions, and the proceeds of money-raising activities, the auxiliary received $8,450. It made a $4,000. cash donation to the hospital, which was

(Continued on page two)

Fownes Scores Ace

Heinie Fownes had the pleasure of making a hole-in-one on the ninth of the number two course yesterday while playing with three notable golfers, Jim Barnes, former U. S. and British open champion, Harold Callaway and Purvis Ferree. This was the fourth ace made here this season.