

TIN WHISTLES FIELD OF 36 COMPETES IN FOUR-PARTNERS TILT

Hunter-Marr-Medlin-Ward Combination Returns Low Score of 7 up on Par to Capture First Place

Three teams of four players each were sitting about in the Tin Whistle room at dusk last evening wondering how they would decide the three cornered they were in for the major Tin Whistle prizes of the day, when from the other side of the tracks, the last group of the tournament came in with the answer. There was nothing left for the three teams to do but go home to supper for the late comers, who were James Hunter, C. B. S. Marr, Dr. M. E. Medlin and W. H. B. Ward, anchor man, brought in old man par completely hors de combat.

The three tied teams had been deadlocked at four up, but when Mr. Hunter, Mr. Marr, Dr. Medlin and Mr. Ward absorbed a two hole penalty for playing number three course, they still were seven up and had won by a margin of three.

All members of the winning team contributed to the victory. Mr. Hunter won the 9th and 13th with natural birdies; Mr. Marr won the 2nd and 17th, Dr. Medlin the 5th and Mr. Ward the 7th and 16th. Mr. Marr and Dr. Medlin were both in on foul blows struck Mr. Par on the 8th and 15th holes, and on the 12th Mr. Hunter's natural birdie four and Mr. Ward's five gross, minus one for a four, gave Mr. Par another K. O.

Only at the 18th was Mr. Par able to rise up and smite this devastating combination. They thought he was out, but he made a game finish.

George Dunlap Sr. and Jr., contributed three deuces to their partnership with L. B. Smith and W. D. Hyatt. George, "senior," holed a 10-footer on 9 for his and junior holed a 25-footer on 15 and a three-footer on 17. This foursome played the championship course.

When three Tin Whistle teams composed of four men each, all under handicap, play on three different Pinehurst courses which are rated at scratch, plus one and plus two, and these four teams finish even, some fancy

CLAYTON HEAFNER'S ACE GIVES HIM LEAD WITH 209 AT OAKLAND

North Carolina Golfer Established As Favorite to Win at End of Third Round; Demaret, Laffoon, 211

OAKLAND, Calif.—As nonchalantly as he used to whip off a batch of fudge, Clayton Heafner, one-time candy maker of Linville, N. C. batted out a hole-in-one today in the third round of the Oakland open golf tournament. That prodigious blow, along with 67 others, boosted him into the lead of the annual $5,000 medal play event, and established him as the favorite to win the 72 hole tournament tomorrow.

By checking in with his two under par 68, the blond from the Tar Heel state posted a 54 hole total of 209. It put him two strokes ahead of his nearest rival.

On the 191 yard second hole, Heafner took a number four iron. There was a slight following wind. The ball sailed straight for the pin. It landed some three yards in front of the cup and rolled in as if attracted by a magnet. His round was 35-33.

Messengers Enter Brussels Theaters and Cafes, Radios Blast Summons to Men on Leave to Join Colors

CUT AIR RAID TRIALS

By the Associated Press

The constant rumble of artillery fire from Luxembourg, coupled with strong German troop concentrations was given in Brussels last night as the reason for a sudden order calling all Belgian soldiers on leave to join their outfits immediately.

Messengers entered theatres, cafes and night clubs, while radios blasted the official summons to join the colors. Last November Belgium mobilized 350,000 men for a state of active defense. It was not announced how many men would be affected by the order. No official explanation was given.

Earlier, defense ministers had cancelled all air raid precaution trials scheduled for Sunday.

POLO TEAMS ALL SET FOR OPENING CLASH, IF WEATHER GOOD

Sports Fans Expected to Flock to Match Today Which Will Usher in Series Reviving Pony Pastime in Sandhills

Everything points to a large attendance of sports fans at the opening game on No. 2 field, Pinehurst, at 2:30 this afternoon of the Sandhill Polo club, which, if the weather is good, will oppose the Blue Hill Farm Club in a match to run six periods of seven and a half minutes each.

Classy players are in the line-ups of both teams, and a hotly contested game should reward the fans, who have been eagerly awaiting the curtain raising contest of the series planned to revive polo here in a big way. It is several years since the pony sport has been engaged in around the Sandhills, and its reappearance is due for an enthusiastic welcome.

Earl Shaw and Merrill Fink, two of the most noted poloists in the east, have been drilling the two teams to clash today with all the assiduity of national series workouts, and men and ponies are in fine fettle. All the teams ask is a fair break from the weather man, and the fans are with them 100 per cent in this wish.

Announcement

Publishers of The Pinehurst Outlook, having intimate knowledge concerning the difficulty of producing a daily newspaper in the Sandhills, were not surprised when they read the young men who, since January 1, 1940, have been publishing the Sandhills Daily News, had decided to suspend that newspaper with yesterday's issue.

During the summer of 1939 the publishers of The Pinehurst Outlook made every effort to effect a conciliation with the publishers of the Sandhills Daily News, but to no avail.

The community will not support two daily newspapers. It will take economical management and plenty of elbow-grease to beat the sheriff to the wire with only one daily journal in the field.

Yesterday, the publisher of the Outlook called on Mayor D. G. Stutz and Town Clerk Howard Burns of Southern Pines, and advised these gentlemen that this newspaper would continue to cover to the best of its ability the news of the resort sections of the Sandhills.

Jerry V. Healy is the Southern Pines editor of the Outlook. He has served in this capacity since the first issue of this season's Outlook and is doing an excellent job of reporting.

Funeral This Afternoon For W. J. Harrington

W. J. Harrington, son of D. T. Harrington of White Hill, and known to many Sandhills residents, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head, on the porch of his father's home early yesterday morning.

He left a farewell note for his father, in which he said that he had been in a "little business difficulty" which bothered him. He recently took over the operation of a filling station near Carthage and his father said yesterday that this is what he referred to in the note.

Burial will be at the cemetery in White Hill at two o'clock this afternoon.

HITLER NOT GERMANY

Edna Ferber, speaking at a book and author luncheon at the Astor Hotel, in New York, said:

"German books are German, Hitler is not Germany. American boys and girls should be told that Germany is Goethe, Schiller and also Thomas Mann. Italy is not strutting, pompous little Mussolini, but Dante, Pirandello and Toscanini. Russia is not Lenin or Stalin, but Chekhov, Dostoevsky, Tolstoi, Stravinsky—music, power, poetry and color."
