Dr. Cushman Delineates World Peace Barriers

Kiwanians Hear Scholarly Talk by Savant Tracing Great Wars of the Ages

Established Law and Order is Artificial State, He Contends, and Frail Structure; Linguistic Influences Stressed

FACE FACTS, HE URGES

Herbert Ernest Cushman, Ph. D., member of the Tin Whistle Club, and winter resident at the Berkshire Hotel, turned his attention yesterday to more serious matters than the holing of a four foot putt, and in a profound speech to members of the Kiwanis Club, discussed various factors which he declared made it difficult to predict permanent peace in the world.

Dr. Cushman, who lectured in philosophy at Tufts college, Dartmouth, Wellesley, Harvard, and other institutions of learning, was introduced by Rev. T. A. Cheatham. John H. Howarth, president of Kiwanis, presided.

Dr. Cushman's speech did not have the energetic ring of a politician trying to convert people in an oration of words from a balcony. Nor was it the speech of an attorney before a jury, or an evangelist under cover of a tent. Dr. Cushman is advanced in years, as well as in thought, and his address was that of a philosopher.

The speaker pointed out that the great divide, separating the Orient from the Occident, the East from the West, had been contested since the beginning of recorded history, with armies shuttling back and forth across this line, marked by Danzig, south through the Polish Corridor, Constantinople, Palestine, along the river Jordan, through the Dead Sea, on to Cairo and farther into Africa.

The Persians crossed into the Occident. Alexander the Great retaliated by conquering a large part of Asia; the Crusaders, because of religious and commercial objectives, crossed the line into

CAKE SNOW CASUALTY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—(P)—President Roosevelt was seated behind his desk and all ready to accept a 300 pound birthday cake today.

But the cake was one of the casualties of the season's heaviest snowfall in the capital. It broke into pieces when a truck bringing it to the White House bumped over ruts at a street car track. It was the gift of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers union.

VIRGINIA HIGHWAYS BLOCKED AS HEAVY SNOWS DELUGE EAST

New Cold Wave Accompanied by Buffeting Winds Isolates Communities; Drifts Scale Up to 10 Feet

By Associated Press

A new cold wave, stupendous snowstorms and buffeting winds flayed a winter-weary nation yesterday.

Temperatures fell in the path of a mass of frigid air moving eastward across the midwest, while snow isolated many communities in the south and east.

Snow hills scaling up to ten feet blocked all highways in east Virginia.

The storm left as much as 17 inches of snow in lower Delaware. Seven to ten inches of snow fell in New Jersey.

Many hamlets in upstate New York were still cut off by snow hummocks eight to ten feet high.

Jitterbug Contest Will Feature Ball

Many colored folks of Taylortown, Smoke, Jimtown, Eastwood, Jackson Hamlet and other communities of this vicinity, are looking forward to the first annual ball of the Pinehurst Colored Golf Association which will be held at the Academy Heights school in Taylortown tomorrow night. A highlight of the affair, which is being held for the benefit of the proposed Taylortown golf course, will be a jitterbug contest at 11:00 p. m.

Music will be by WBT artists, Jimmy Gunn and his Dixie Sun-aders.

VOLUNTEERS END WIN STREAK OF A. A. TEAM

The Pinehurst Volunteers basketball team defeated the Southern Pines Athletic Ass'n 39-38 in a torrid and close game at the Pinehurst High school last night. It was the first time that the Southern Pines team had been beaten in a run of record play. Robinson of Southern Pines was high scorer with 16 points.

HE SEES LITTLE HOPE FOR PEACE

who covered a lot of history and philosophy in a 20 minute talk to members of the Kiwanis Club yesterday, in which he declared that things were not favorable for permanent peace on earth.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

Ralph Trost, sports writer for the Brooklyn Eagle reports that Harvard, within four years, will follow Chicago's lead and abolish intercollegiate football. This writer predicts that Thomas Lamont, important factor in Harvard affairs, favors the idea and regrets that Harvard was not the first to adopt it. Intramural athletics will be the thing, and Trost figures that Yale, Princeton, Amherst, Williams, Brown and Bowdoin, will follow Harvard.

Mr. Trost also has written quite an article to the effect that the pro golfers should "soft-pedal" themselves and give the amateurs a chance. There is something in this if it could be done, but news is where you find it, and for the past few years writers have found so much more news around the professional golfers than around the amateurs, that a situation has come up. The professionals are not really responsible for the publicity they have had. The winter and summer open tournament schedule provided the vehicle on which the pros have taken the spotlight. The U. S. G. A. refuses to put any professional promotion behind amateur golf, and so, from year to year, the situation grows worse. The U. S. G. A. must have been lulled into unconsciousness during the era when Bobby Jones was being widely publicized, and imagined that there would be a permanent Jones, or substitute, in amateur golf. Even while Jones was fading the pros were galloping into the front page spot. It would not make much difference if club officials had not voted a recession of interest on the part of the amateurs who really support the game.

It would take a Dies investigation committee to find out the cause of all the actions of the U. S. G. A.

For example, the U. S. G. A. used the numerical draw in placing the field for match play in the women's national championship at Noroton, Conn., but did not adhere to this system in the national amateur.

In the women's event the winner of the qualifying round, Miss Beatrice Barrett with 74, was placed at the top of the first quarter, Miss Pam Barton, fourth qualifier, on top of the second quarter, Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, second qualifier with 75, on top of the third quarter and Miss Marion Miley, third qualifier, on top of the fourth quarter.

In the amateur draw apparently no heed was paid to qualifying scores.

Pinehurst Bank Votes Common Stock Increase

Plan of Directors to Revamp Capital Structure Is Approved at Stockholders' Meeting

FOILS TO PLAY BRIDGE

The Silver Foils tournament, scheduled for today, will not be golf, but contract bridge. This announcement was made yesterday by Club Captain Mrs. J. Pryor Williamson. All members of the ladies golf organization are urged to come out to the club and play. Mrs. Williamson will be at the Country Club from 10:00 to 11:00 o'clock this morning to receive entries.

PINEHURST REALTY TRANSACTIONS SET 15 YEAR HIGH MARK

Agencies in Village Report Small Boom in Property Purchases and Rentals; Summer Sales Notably Good

According to the real estate dealers of the village, Pinehurst is experiencing what might be called a small boom in real estate. Both H. G. Phillips and H. B. Emery concurred in the opinion that more property transactions have gone on here in the past year than in 15 years previous. Business has been unusually good during the "off" season, particularly with a good many sales during the summer.

One of the loveliest new homes was built since last season by Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. White on the Linden road. The house, a white clapboard cottage, was erected on land sold to Mr. White by Bid-

Tax Experts Will Aid Compilation of Returns

Information, which may be of valued assistance to residents of the Sandhills, has been received from the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue, Greensboro, that they are giving February 15 through March 15 for filing period to assist the taxpayers in making their income tax returns.

Representatives from the treasury department will be at South-ern Pines, in the post office building, on February 26 and in the Pinehurst post office building on February 27, to aid the taxpayers of this vicinity in filing their income tax returns.

PALMER RENTS CORRAL

The firm of A. S. Newcomb Realty announces the rental of The Corral, the property of Webster Knight II, off Bethesda road not far from The Paddock, to Carleton H. Palmer of New York.

Mr. Palmer, who leased this property a few years ago, will arrive with his family February 1 to remain the rest of the season. He will bring his groom and several horses to participate in Sandhill equestrian activities.

Amendment of Charter to Add $50,000 to Share Issue Unanimously Indorsed; R. S. Tufts Again President

OFFICERS REELECTED

Stockholders of the Bank of Pinehurst at yesterday's meeting voted to amend the charter to increase the common stock from $50,000 to $100,000 and to recommend to first and second preferred share holders that they convert their holdings into common stock. The vote was unanimous.

Richard S. Tufts was reelected president and all directors were reelected.

According to the plan recommended by the directors, holders of the second preferred stock will receive three shares of common for each two shares of second preferred, and holders of first preferred will receive share for share in common stock.

Stockholders were advised that the bank had had a very good year, according to the annual

FINNISH SHIP SUNK AS SOVIET BOMBING PLANES STAGE RAIDS

HELSINKI, Jan. 25—(P)—Soviet bombers, swarming again over Finland yesterday, sank a Finnish ship with a shower of bombs in the Aland Islands and tried to bomb a German vessel, while Finnish armies maintained a steel trap around a big Soviet force cut off from help northeast of Lake Ladoga.

Dumping 10 or 15 bombs, a plane sank the 1,133 ton Notung at a small island in the eastern part of the archipelago. Other bombs barely missed a German ship. A third ship, unidentified, was machine-gunned from a plane.

No Ship Tragedy, Except Radio Drama

BOSTON, Jan. 24—(P)—The possibility that a dramatized radio program based on a ship disaster might have led to the false report of an SOS which sent coast guard vessels scurrying around last night off Cape Cod was considered today by authorities.

Several residents of Martha's Vineyard, where retired army Captain Byron C. Brown, 48, reported hearing an SOS from a ship supposedly sinking off the Cape, said they had listened to a "ship tragedy" at the same time Brown said he heard the distress call.

The retired officer was arrested on drunkenness charges by state police. In district court at Edgartown today he was convicted and his case was continued for one week for disposition.
