POLO PARKING SPACES SELLING WELL, CLUB OFFICIALS INFORMED

John R. Bowker, Executive Secretary reports encouraging demand for Reservations; tally to bear guests to games

An encouraging number of season parking spaces have already been sold for the series of Pinehurst polo matches, according to the report of John R. Bowker, executive secretary of the Sandhills Polo Club.

Among those who have subscribed are the Messrs. Struthers, Burt, Clifford A. Sloan, H. Frederick Lesh, C. G. Seymour, Francis T. Keating, George H. Betts, George D. Murphy, Robert Morrison, Thomas Morrison, S. D. Fobes, Julius Mathews and Curtis Wigg. The Dunes Club has also reserved a space.

Mr. Bowker has sent out 75 printed diagrams of the parking positions and their location on the field. The better spaces, which are selling for $25, are going fast. These are, of course, located in the most advantageous spots for spectators viewing the game. The other spaces are selling for $15.

Since the total number of spaces is limited, all those interested in subscribing to this thrilling Pinehurst sport are urged to apply for reservations as soon as possible. For information, you may write to the Sandhills Polo Club or communicate with Mr. Bowker personally.

Honorary spaces have been assigned to Governor Clyde R. Hoey and General William J. Bryden, commanding officer of Fort Bragg. These have been respectfully acknowledged.

As an added attraction, a tally-ho will be driven to the games, bearing hotel guests and any others who care to ride aboard it.

Sunday's game promises to be a thriller. The new amplifying system, with an announcer keeping the public informed on the standing of the score and also describing the play-by-play action, will be another novel feature.

Edgar A. Moss, who has been chosen superintendent of the Pinehurst dog show, announced yesterday in the Greensboro Daily News that the Pinehurst show will be the first on the southeastern circuit. He stated that the circuit would continue with a show in Kingsport, Tenn., March 20-21 and Greenville, S. C. April 1-2. He also reported that a dog show is scheduled to be held in connection with the horse show at Sedgfield on May 18.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

The Greenkeeping Superintendents Association of America is in favor of elimination of sand traps and other hazards on golf courses, thus making the game easier to play.

President Frank W. Ermer, Cleveland, President of the Association, thinks that the number of players can be doubled if courses are designed which will enable the average golfer to play 18 holes in two and one-half hours.

Greensmen point out that the sand bunker is a British invention and was introduced as an artificial hazard on golf links close by the ocean where trees and other natural hazards did not exist.

Johnny Bulla, High Point clergyman's son, playing with Loren La Prade, Phoenix High school athlete, won the amateur-pro event played at the Phoenix Country Club. Bulla had a 65, six under par. His amateur partner had a 72 and their best ball was 60. Bulla won $75.

Stanley Horne has been reappointed as professional of the Islesmere Golf and Country Club, Montreal.

In the amateur-pro event at Phoenix, Leonard Dodson and Ellsworth Vines scored 63 and finished third, behind Jimmy Hines and Edgar Kennedy, with 62.

Bobby Dunkelberger won the medal in the Dayton Beach tournament with a card of 67. It was a new amateur record for the course and marked Bobby's return to competitive golf.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS TALK ABOUT BLACK MOUNTAIN COLLEGE

Dr. Rice, Member of Faculty, describes unique system of education at Institution; McKeithen Welcomed Back

The program committee of the Sandhills Kiwanis Club produced for the entertainment and betterment of its members at the club's weekly meeting, held in the Southern Pines Country Club yesterday, a speaker possessing the power of bringing smiles to the faces of hard-boiled business Kiwanians on a wet and otherwise none too pleasant afternoon.

Dr. John Andrew Rice, of Black Mountain College, was introduced by J. Talbot Johnson. Dr. Rice spoke highly of Southern Pines.

Dr. Rice's educational background includes years spent as a Rhodes scholar at Oxford after his graduation from Tulane University. Teacher of classics and philosophy, he adeptly drew his listeners' strict attention to his conception of education as it should be conducted.

Dr. Rice's explained this modern education which allows the student to elect, under the guidance of his adviser, studies which he feels will be of greatest benefit to him, in the belief that interest is one of the surest guides to real development.

The club also enjoyed a visit from its lieutenant governor, J. Warren Pate of Fayetteville, who spoke briefly.

T. R. Johnson said Kiwanis International President Ben Knudsen of Albert Lea, Minn., would be the guest of Judge Frank Armstrong of Pinehurst this coming weekend. President John Howarth announced he would appoint a committee from the club to call on President Knudsen during his stay.

OUTLOOK BASKETBALL TEAM WILL TANGLE WITH CANDOR TONIGHT

Pinehurst Quintet Meets Athletic Club on Local High School Court; New Girls' Team Also To Perform

The Pinehurst Outlook basketball team plays host to the Athletic Club five of Candor at the local high school gym tonight.

The Outlook quintet has won four out of five games since their organization last month. Their only defeat was at the hands of Carthage last week and from which they got their revenge Tuesday night by winning 25-24. Candor boasts an undefeated team, with a few high school and ex-college players making its line-up. Therefore the game should be a good one, with a large attendance of local sportlovers.

An added attraction will be the introduction of the Pinehurst Independents, a newly organized girls' team, captained by Miss Dorothy Ehrhardt, and made up of local high school teachers and players. This team will play a girls' team from Candor in the preliminary to the Outlook match.

The first game starts at 8:15 p. m.

Deer Being Shipped To Pisgah Forest

Deer from the nearby Fort Bragg reservation are being shipped to the western part of North Carolina to be turned loose on lands owned by the Pisgah National Forest. Several loads arrived and were released on February 2 and more shipments are planned for the immediate future. It is hoped that this restocking will cover the entire western section of the state where there are many thousands of acres of deer browsing territory which contain no deer at all.

Downs Mrs. Hockenjos in Surprise Victory; Plays Jean Bauer, Jameson Meets Hicks

PALM BEACH, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Grace Amory created a mild surprise in the Palm Beach golf tournament today by moving into the semi-finals with National Champion Betty Jameson and two other favorites.

The Palm Beach socialite turned back Mrs. William Hockenjos, finalist here for the last two years, in a tense one up match. Tomorrow Miss Amory will play Jean Bauer, last year's winner, who had a hard tussle eliminating Naomi Copic, one up.

Miss Jameson trimmed Mrs. Richard B. Jarrett 6 and 5, and will meet Elizabeth Hicks in the semi-finals. Miss Hicks defeated Mrs. Briggs Cunningham four and three.

'INFORMATION, PLEASE' PROGRAM OF FORUM CONDUCTED TONIGHT

Eagerly awaited, Pinehurst's first "Information, Please" will be held at the Forum in the lounge of the Country Club tonight at 8:45. The master of ceremonies and questioner-general will be Homer H. Johnson, and the questionees will be Rev. F. Craighill Brown and M. Struthers Burt of Southern Pines, and Donald Parson and Rassic Wicker of Pinehurst.

Questions submitted and used, if unanswerable by sages or audience, will bring $1 to the person who submitted them. Naturally, the committee and the person who submitted the question will not be able to participate. However, no one who submitted a question would risk losing the dollar by answering anyway.

For every one attending tonight, the request is made that when, as, and if the sages are stumped and you are not, you raise your hand to signify that you know the answer. For all anyone knows, the audience may be able to answer more questions than the chosen four.

Whether you know the answers or whether you don't, come over to the Forum this evening and join in the experiment.

Catherine Adams Dies in County Hospital

WILLIAMS HURT

Catherine Adams, about 35 years old, an employee of the Southern Pines Laundry, died in Moore County Hospital at 10:40 last night as a result of a fractured skull she sustained when an automobile in which she was a passenger, was hit by a South bound express train on the crossing at Connecticut avenue and West Broad street, Southern Pines, shortly after 9 p. m.

The woman was riding with Lacy Williams, manager of the sub station of the Carolina power and Light Company. Williams is in the hospital suffering from multiple lacerations. His condition is not serious.

The train, due at Southern Pines at 6:45 p. m. was more than two hours late. Williams' car was headed East on Connecticut avenue, and witnesses said that he drove on the track, and that the express smashed into it.

The car was dragged about 100 feet down the track, and finally broke clear of the engine and fell upside down upon the station platform, with the passengers still inside. Miss Adams was unconscious, but Williams, although unable to move, was talking when taken from the wrecked Chevrolet.

Bystanders removed Miss Adams and Williams from the car and an ambulance from Powell's Funeral home carried them to the hospital.

J. A. Robertson, engineer of the train, stopped for about twenty minutes, during which he obtained the names of a number of witnesses of the accident. He then climbed back into his cab and proceeded South.
