

KRUPP SHIPYARDS IN ISTANBUL ARE SEIZED BY TURKEY

Dramatic Action of Authorities Unexplained except by remark, "Spring is Coming"

MORE SEIZURES DUE

ISTANBUL, Jan. 8—(AP)—Turkey, non belligerent ally of Britain and France, and guardian of the dardanelles, suddenly seized the German-owned Krupp shipyards today, and placed her own marines in charge.

Confiscation of the Krupp works will be followed by government seizure of other German property in Turkey "sooner or later," it was reported tonight. Official quarters refused to explain the reason for the shipyards seizure declaring only "spring is coming," which many observers fear will bring a Russian or German drive through the Balkans to seize the Dardanelles.

JOE CORIA CARDS 63 AND WITH PARTNER TOPS AMATEUR-PRO

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 8—(AP)—One of the babes of the winter trail shouldered golf's biggest name to the rear today as Joe Coria of St. Paul matched Brackbridge Park's competitive course record with a 63 in the pro-amateur event of the $5,000 Texas Open tournament.

Coria carded the first nine in three strokes below par, and then showered five birdies on the incoming nine for 33-30-63.

Coria teamed with Ed Brady Sr. of San Antonio to carve out a winning 60, eleven under par, in the pro-amateur event.

Two Texans were just behind Coria's individual score. Jim Demaret, leading money winner of the tour at his Oakland and San Francisco triumphs, and Ray Mangrum each carded 65.

The 72 hole open event with 225 entered begins at daybreak tomorrow.

WOMAN WRITER FINED

NEW YORK, Feb. 8—(AP)—Adela Rodgers St. John, the writer, paid a $12 fine when she pleaded guilty today to charges of passing red lights and driving without license. Judge Kenkin Hockert dismissed drunken driving charges when the novelist convinced him she was not intoxicated but terribly nervous and exhausted when she borrowed a taxicab in her haste to get home early on the morning of Jan. 31.

LEADING STABLES ENTER HORSES IN SANDHILLS RACES

Richard Wallach Jr., Manager of Steeplechase, Gathers Entries From Camden and Aiken

Timber and brush jumpers and flat runners from ten leading stables have been entered in the sixth meet of the Sandhills Steeplechase and Racing association to be held at the Barber course on March 16.

Richard Wallach Jr., manager of the meeting, spent a number of days in Camden and Aiken recently and returned with entries from the following stables:

F. Ambrose Clark, three; Richard K. Mellon, Paul Mellon, G. H. (Pete) Bostwick, Louis Stoddard Jr., and Jock Whitney, two each, and one entry from S. A. Warner Baltazzi, Mrs. Randolph Scott, James E. Ryan, and Alvin Untermeyer.

A number of local entries are expected. Clark N. Taylor of Southern Pines is the first of the local horsemen to enter a jumper. Many others are expected to swell the entries.

Mr. Wallach has opened steeplechase headquarters in the office of Dr. J. I. Neal, at the track. The course is being put in first class condition.

NOTED SOCIETY EDITOR VISITS SANDHILLS

Mr. Howard White, society editor of the New York Herald Tribune, arrived at the Carolina Hotel yesterday as the guest of Mr. Richard S. Tufts, president of Pinehurst, Incorporated.

Mr. White's visit at Pinehurst and Southern Pines is one of many Mr. White makes on a tour of Southern resorts each winter as a representative of the Herald Tribune in contacting the society correspondents at the various resorts. Yesterday he conferred with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Koch, his Pinehurst correspondents, and Mr. Howard Burns, of Southern Pines.

The noted society editor plans to visit Camden, Aiken, Augusta, Sea Island, St. Augustine, Ormond Beach, Daytona, Winter Park, Sebring, St. Petersburg, Miami Beach and Palm Beach, following which he will return to his desk at the Herald Tribune.

He is accompanied on his Sandhills visit by Jack Shuster of the Circulation Department of the Herald Tribune.

Mr. White is shown at the left in the photo above, with Mrs. Koch and Mr. Tufts.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

Pinehurst and Southern Pines came in for some fine publicity last Wednesday during the Carolina Motor Club radio broadcast, which was carried by seven stations throughout the state. The five minute review of current events and highway happenings which is sponsored by the motor club, supplied a good calendar of events in the two resorts.

About Pinehurst the broadcast said, "Lincoln's birthday in the Pinehurst datebook looks like a Roman holiday . . . The Midsouth resort will start celebrating the event on Saturday next, and the calendar is crowded. Golf, equestrian activity, tennis and other outdoor diversions are combined at Pinehurst with a series of social events. The Tin Whistles Club will hold a best-ball tournament over the number three course Saturday. Saturday afternoon there's a tea dance at the country club followed by a Lincoln's birthday ball in the evening. Sunday afternoon the Sandhills Polo Club will hold a team match at the number two field.

"Incidentally the Pinehurst poloists are making somewhat of a name for themselves on sectional playing fields. . . In another announcement comes proof that Pinehurst is not all golf and polo. On Saturday afternoon from four to six a famed collection of rare prints will be on exhibition at the Pine Needles club. The art work is from the New York galleries of Harry Galloway.

"Over in Southern Pines the February sports calendar includes a number of golf equestrian events. Center of activity is the country club where the spring horse show will be held on Friday, February 23. Close to 100 horses, all of them thoroughbreds, are expected to be entered in the event.

"For sportsmen whose taste run in other channels, there is always at Southern Pines a number of things to do. Golf we've mentioned, and archery, tennis, hunting . . . Not even the sky is the limit if you want to fly a kite."

BETTY JAMESON LOSES

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb 8—(AP)—Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Texas, National Women's Golf Champion, was eliminated from the Palm Beach tournament today on the twenty-third hole of a grueling battle with Elizabeth Hicks of Long Beach, Calif.

Miss Hicks' opponent in tomorrow's final match will be Grace Amory of Palm Beach, who defeated Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., the defending titlist, in the other semifinal, 3 and 1.

PAGE AND DUCKETT WIN ST. VALENTINE'S TOURNAMENT WITH NET 68

Former National Champion Had Painful Fall But scored a Gross 75.

Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, of Chapel Hill, former woman's national golf champion, won two major prizes yesterday while at Pinehurst. Partnered with Mrs. Alfred Duckett of Durham, this team won the annual St. Valentine's tournament with a net card of 33-35-68 over the number one course.

The Silver Foils Club, of which Mrs. Page is a member, conducted their weekly competition, a bestball of all four partners, and Mrs. Page teamed in this event with Mrs. Louis Fownes Blue, Mrs. John Weeks, and Mrs. Julian Bishop, to win the Silver Foils event with a low score of 65.

Mrs. Page scored a gross medal play round of 38-37-75. She was somewhat lame, following a fall Wednesday when she slipped on ice on the back porch, fell into the ash barrel rolled out two empty cases of pop bottles and finished under the automobile which her husband, Julius, had just parked.

Speaking of the excellent talent now playing the Citrus league in Florida, Mrs. Page said she was thrilled at the fine golf the girls were playing in Florida and wished she could be there.

In the St. Valentine's event Mrs. Page and Mrs. Duckett returned a net bestball of 33-35-68. Their card:

Out	543-442-434-33
In	434-444-444-35-68

Mrs. Page's individual card read:

Out	545-542-535-38
In	434-544-454-37-75

SILVER FOILS RESULTS

The weekly Silver Foils tournament resulted in a victory for Mrs. Julian Bishop, Mrs. John Weeks, Mrs. Louise Fownes Blue and Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page. This fourball combination returned a net score of 32-33-65 over the number one course.

Other scores:

Mrs. F. C. Robertson, Mrs. H. H. Rackham, Mrs. A. C. Aborn and Mrs. George Dunlap, 35-31-66.

FORUM QUIZ PROVES SANDHILLS ENTITLED TO HIGH I-Q RATING

'Information, Please' Program Provides Instructive and entertaining feature for large attendance of Public

SAGES EARN PRAISE

By Robert E. Harlow
Pinehurst and Southern Pines experts and a large Sandhills audience were entitled to a mark of A last night for the manner in which they passed an Information Please quiz, which proved a popular event on the program of the Pinehurst Forum.

Any four gentlemen who are residents in a small community display great fortitude when they agree to don their dinner jackets and present themselves to such a test before the home town folks. They are entitled to every consideration.

The four experts were Rassie Wicker and Donald Parson of Pinehurst and Struthers Burt and Rev. Craighill Brown of Southern Pines. Dr. Dewitt B. Nettleton, acted as chairman of the Forum and Homer Johnson put the questions.

Audience Too Eager

The audience was too eager to show how smart it was. It did not give the four experts a proper opportunity to demonstrate. But it was noticed that on some of the "tougher" questions the audience was willing to sit back and watch the experts suffer mental torture.

Mr. Johnson was not a strict disciplinarian. He permitted the audience to ooze information before the experts had been given time enough to answer. One of these interruptions, however, furnished the best laugh of the evening.

When Mr. Johnson inquired the names of five songs, the titles of which are imperative, Mr. Donald Parson called, "Kiss me Again." Mr. Brown added, "Drink to me only with thine eyes." The experts had given four correct responses, when from the audience Ed Scofield shouted:

"Waltz me around again Willie." (Laughter)

And from the back of the room, Bing Hunter added:

"Get out of Town."

Lou Koch of The Outlook staff said:

"Roll out The Barrel."

In this instance it was good sport for the audience to chime in, but there were other times when the act really belonged to the actors upon the stage and the audience should have waited for its turn to play "smarty."

Parson Was Brilliant

Mr Parson gave a brilliant performance. He really came up with some answers that only a true scholar could have known. Mr. Wicker demonstrated a thorough knowledge on matters pertaining to Pinehurst and North Carolina, and was good on quotations from nursery rhymes.

Rev. Mr. Brown earned his position on the 'Varsity team, when he answered that tough one, "What is a Bushido?" The answer is, "A Japanese code of chivalry." He scored again when he knew (Continued on page two)
