THERESE LUKINS WINS AUTOMOBILE IN DRAW FOR PRIZES AT BALL

Mid Pines Cashier is "Cinderella" of Hospital Auxiliary's Annual Benefit Party; Ontario Woman Gets Furs.

500 ON DANCE FLOOR

Miss Therese "Cinderella" Lukins, cashier at the Mid Pines Club was the belle of the ball, in spite of the fact that she didn't attend the affair. Therese, who never had a car of her own, won the Plymouth two-door sedan which was awarded for the benefit of the Moore County Hospital at the benefit ball, held at the Pinehurst Country Club last night.

Others in the draw, who sat on the edges of their seats until Therese, the final winner, was called out, included Mrs. Thomas L. Kirk, Mrs. L. F. Blue, Mrs. Nelson A. Pomeroy and Burke Onley.

The pair of silver fox furs, for which Mrs. Paul Butler and Mrs. Jean Edson worked like Trojans to put over, were won by Mrs. T. A. McGinnis of Ontario, Canada, a guest at The Carolina. Mrs. Walter T. Ives of Southern Pines won the coffee set, and Lloyd O. Yost, who navigates a plane like nobody else in the Sandhills, won the portable radio.

Mrs. L. A. Friend, who registered from the Norris Cottage, won the electric iron, and Mrs. Charlotte Coburn, who makes ladies more beautiful in the Pinehurst theatre building won the silver tray.

To get back to the ball itself, Mrs. Alice Burt Hunt, chairman of the ball called it "just the right kind of success."

The attendance was estimated at 500 or more, and dancing to the tunes of Sydney's Mayflower Orchestra of Washington went on to the wee hours bordering three o'clock.

Author James Boyd proved himself the inimitable master of ceremonies.

PLAY OF AIKEN POLO STARS IN CLASH HERE THRILLS BIG CROWD

Yellow Jackets Win Over Red Jackets in Blazing Encounter Featured by Dashing Horsemanship of National Luminaries.

High goal polo players from Aiken joined with Pinehurst experts yesterday to provide guests of Pinehurst here for the weekend of racing and golf with one of the finest sporting entertainments of the season.

The Yellow Jackets defeated the Red Jackets, 6 goals to 5. It seems that an annual game between Aiken and Pinehurst, as a prelude to the annual Steeplechase, would develop into a very fine attraction. The Aiken players are adept horsemen, and their play was greatly enjoyed.

But Pinehurst was not without honor in this exhibition between Yellow Jackets and Red Jackets. Our men added to the colorful scene and fast riding. Scheduled as a match between a team of Yellow Jackets and Red Jackets, some last minute changes were made in the line-up when la grippe caught up with "Pete" Bostwick, and he was forced to remain in his bed back in Aiken.

With Mr. Bostwick out of the proposed line-up it was necessary to change the line-up. (Continued on page two)

POLO TOMORROW

Pinehurst polo team will play Fort Bragg Sunday here at three P. M.

The Pinehurst team will line-up with Floyd Carlisle, R. B. Green, Merrill Fink and B. R. Brown. For Fort Bragg: Capt. Cooper, Capt. Erskine, Capt. Miller and Lieut. Powers.

GALA STEEPLECHASE MEETING ASSURED AS WEATHER BRIGHTENS

Great Gathering of Sports Followers Will Assemble at Midland Road Course for Hunting Classic Inaugurating Season.

GOV. HOEY TO ATTEND

By Howard Burns

Steeplechase day is here! And a colorful, typical Sandhill resort and residential throng will greet the gallant horses and their equally gallant mounts.

High society on parade again! Listed among the spectators will be Governor Clyde R. Hoey of Raleigh, who announced yesterday that he and his staff would be here for the opening race on the 1940 circuit for which North Carolina has been honored by the National Steeplechase and Hunts Association.

Included in the crowds will be many of the country's leading horsemen, tops in society from the north, the south, the east and the west.

The entries include a string of blue blooded horses, the fastest hunt race horses in this country.

Although the Moore County Sandhills are comparatively new in amateur hunt racing, fifty of the country's leading jumpers are entered on the 5-race card at the Barber Estate course midway between Southern Pines and Pinehurst this afternoon.

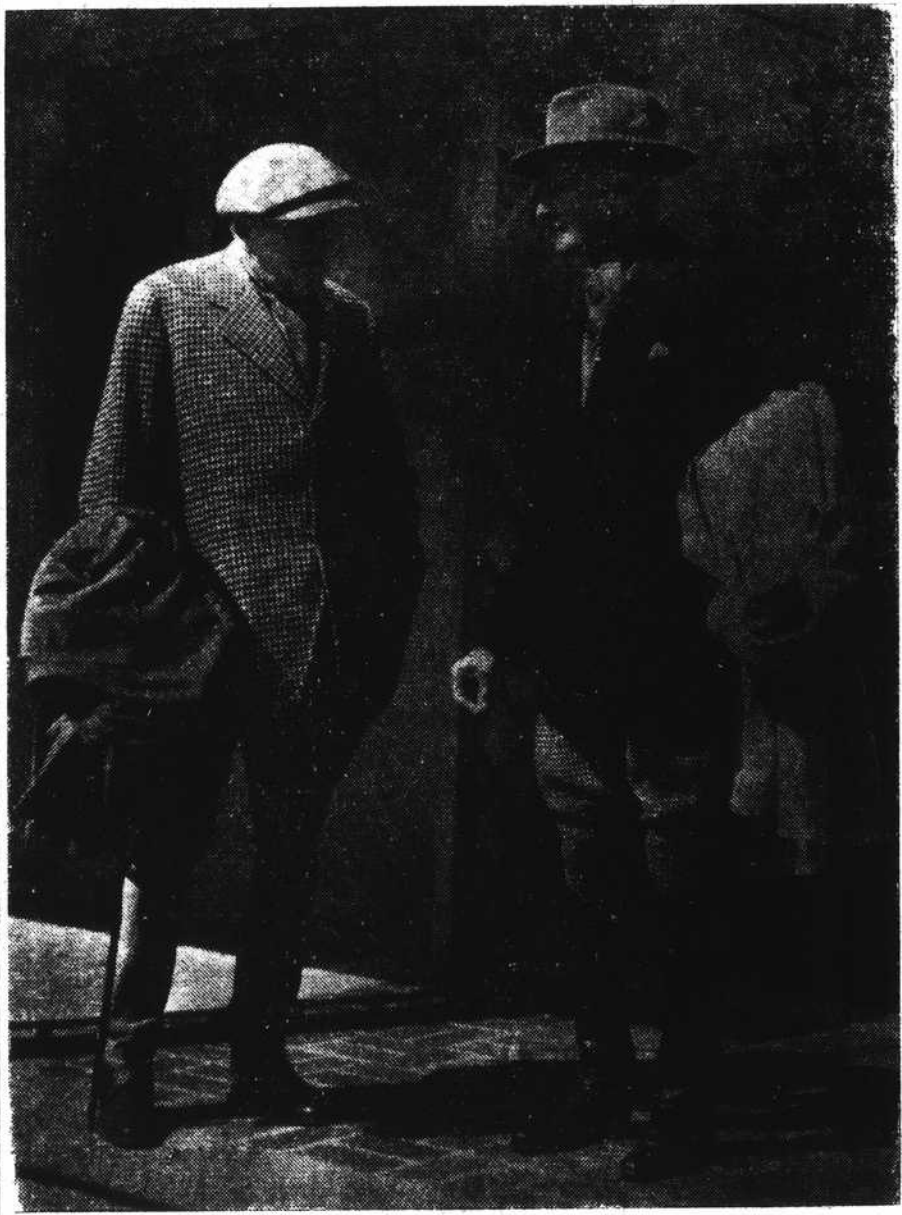

Officials of the Sandhills Steeplechase and Racing Association have announced that parking space has been in great demand for the past month and it is expected that upward of 15,000 spectators will be on hand to witness the sixth annual race meeting.

Richard Wallach, racing secretary, has reported that following the rains the course is in perfect condition for the races this afternoon.

Paul Mellon's Faction Fighter will be entered in the feature race, three miles over timber, for the Sandhills Challenge Cup. Faction Fighter was winner in 1939 and Corn Dodger, another Mellon horse, was winner in 1938. If the Mellon entry wins this year, his owner will become the permanent possessor of the Noel Laing memorial cup presented by Mrs. Verner Z. Reed Jr. of Newport, R. I., and Pinehurst.

Listed among the favorites in the thirteen entries in the Croatan Steeplechase for $1,000 purse are John Hay Whitney's 5 year old bay gelding Sweetie Pie and Mrs. Marion DuPont's Scott's 5 year old Matey. Richard K. Mellon's Frozen North, 5 year old bay gelding, is also given an even chance in the feature brush race.

Mr. Clark is America's outstanding patron of steeplechase racing and his horses have carried his blue and gold silks in the Grand National in England and in all the prominent meetings of the National Hunts and Steeplechase Association. Mr. Clark will start La Touche in the Yadkin race today as well as horses in other events.

PINEHURST SCOREBOARD

by ROBERT E. HARLOW

SANDHILLS FORM SHEET

In order to fortify readers of The Outlook with proper information so that they will be able to make profitable wagers on the steeplechase races which will be run over the landscape of the Barber Estate course, located, as it is, "in the middle," The Outlook has gone to much trouble to obtain dope on this sort of sport, and will proceed to "tout" its readers.

According to Esquire magazine, which is not any more authoritative than it should be on sporting matters, a horse to win a steeplechase race, has to combine the qualities of an antelope, a kangaroo and an acrobat. Therefore, any horse which comes to the Barber Estate course wearing tights may be considered of the gymnast breed, and worth a shilling wager.

Beware of a horse with a big manly chest and powerful forees. In taking timber and brush, especially three miles of it, a horse with insignificant front and powerful hindquarters is the steed to put your half crown on. A horse needs a Mack truck motor in the rear for lifting weight over fences, and the lighter forward load, the more chance he has of a perfect landing.

BEWARE OF SWITCHING TAIL

Local Owners Enter Dogs

While the great majority of dogs entered in the Sandhill Kennel Club show on March 18th will come from out of state and other sections of North Carolina, the local dog colony will be well represented.

Mrs. William Kennedy Jr. has entered her giant great dane, Hercules, who is expected to make many of the outsiders step high, wide and handsome for top honors. Hercules went best of breed at Portland, Me., show.

Another dog certain to give plenty of trouble in the class for sporting dogs is Dr. F. L. Vinson's Rowdy of Rocksboro, a beautiful English setter, that has almost completed his championship. Rowdy will be sent from Baltimore, Md., just for this show.

A complete list of judges is as follows:

Col. G. P. Hawes, collies.
Mr. Turner, Cocker Spaniels, Scottish Terriers and Pekingese.
Mrs. Smith, Manchester terriers, Sealyham terriers.
Mr. Vogt—All other breeds, groups and best in show.

KING CAROL BALKS AT OIL DEAL FOR FRONTIER GUARANTEES

Rumanian Monarch Adamant in Refusal to Include Old Guard Member in Cabinet, Hitler Condition.

"BEGINNING OF END"

BUCHAREST, March. 15.—(AP)—King Carol II was reported in official circles tonight to have balked at Nazi Germany's scheme to pledge Russia and Hungary to long guarantees of Rumania frontiers in exchange for unlimited flow of Rumania oil.

Carol was adamant in his refusal to grant one of Hitler's conditions—that one of the Iron guards, Rumanian Nazi party, be allowed seat in his cabinet.

Carol felt that would be beginning of the end of Rumania as an independent state.

Germany was reported to feel such cabinet member was necessary to Hitler's plan.

BOBBY JONES IS DUE IN PINEHURST TODAY ON BUSINESS VISIT

World Renowned Golfer From Atlanta to Attend Spalding Co. Session; Drive to be Launched.

Bobby Jones of Atlanta, world renowned golfer, will arrive in Pinehurst this morning, along with L. E. Coleman, vice-president of A. G. Spalding & Bros., and A. H. Williams, Philadelphia, also of Spalding.

Even on race day in Pinehurst, with the village filled with horse people and horse talk, Jones can hardly be overlooked. His "grand slam" is still the biggest rubber on the International scoreboard, and likely to remain so.

Mr. Jones comes to Pinehurst each spring for a meeting of Spalding officials. They select the annual North and South championship as a proper time to launch their spring campaign, and last year introduced the tournament "dot" and "dash" balls here. These balls were popular in 1939.

An important announcement is likely to be made here this week.

FIVE FAST BOUTS ON BOXING CARD TONIGHT

By attending the boxing session at the Amusement Center in Pinehurst tonight sport fans can top off a day at the Steeplechase or on the golf course in an enjoyable manner. They will see some peppy scrappers in action, especially in the main bout, in which two heavyweight leather pushers, Horace Jones and Mat France, will mingle. These colored boys can give it and take it, and every moment of every round is charged with dynamic action. Jones in a recent bout at the Center kayced a doughty adversary in Ham Braboy. He thinks he can repeat the act with France.

There are four preliminaries, Matchmaker Myron Barrett announces. There are only 53 reserved seats.
