Pinehurst Horse Show To Be Colorful Affair

Close to 100 High Class Entries to Vie for Prizes at Gala Event Tuesday; Expect Record Attendance

Eighteen topnotch classes are scheduled for the annual Pinehurst Horse Show, which will be held at the Race Track show grounds Tuesday. Officials of the show, which has been changed from a two-day affair to one day this year, expect the largest crowd ever, to witness the colorful Pinehurst event. Close to a hundred high class horses will vie for the many trophies and ribbons being awarded.

The program will start at 9:30 Tuesday morning, with Class 1, for green hunters over the outside course. The rest of the morning program will consist of the handy jumpers class, thoroughbred type hunters, bridle path hacks, the class for children up to 18 years, working hunters and open jumping, four feet.

The afternoon program will consist of the hunter hack class, ladies' hunters, a class for children 12 years and under, light-weight hunters, two year old harness horses, middle and heavyweight hunters, three year old harness horses, hunt teams, open jumping stake, championship hunters and the class for children up to 18 years, which will wind up the show.

As a social feature of the show, a special luncheon will be served at the Pinehurst Country Club, between the morning and afternoon classes.

GOLDEN OAK WINS IMPERIAL CUP BRUSH EVENT AT AIKEN

AIKEN, S. C., March 23.—Golden Oak, a speedy six-year-old bay gelding carried the colors of Mrs. Esther Dupont Weir of Wilmington, Del., to victory today in the third annual Imperial Cup steeplechase. His time for the two-mile brush course was 3:45. A crowd of 5,000 saw the Weir entry romp home a length ahead of the 1938 winner, Bachelor Philip, from the stables of F. Ambrose Clark of New York.

Battleground II, Raritan stables, New Jersey, dropped to the rear after leading most of the way. Little Hurd, owned by Samuel Wolfe of Aiken, was third.

The Aiken steeplechase, two miles over brush, for four year olds was won by Parma, owned by L. W. Robinson Jr., Philadelphia.

CHILLY EASTER

ALBANY, N. Y., March 23.—Snow, drifted by wind locked rural roads and tumbling temperatures turned spring into winter today for the fourth consecutive day, and presaged a chilly Easter in New York state. Continued cold and generally fair were forecast for tomorrow.

TOMPKINS ENTRY WINS OPEN HUNTERS CLASS ON TRIALS PROGRAM

Large Crowd Watches Interesting Competitions Near Paddock at Southern Pines, Held as Benefit for Library.

The third annual Southern Pines Hunter Trials held yesterday afternoon on the grounds adjacent to the Paddock on Bethesda Road proved highly successful with the forty odd entries giving notable performances over the difficult course. The affair, given for the benefit of the Southern Pines library, and favored with brilliant sunshine, attracted a large crowd of winter guests and residents.

Long Reach, sturdy chestnut mare owned by Boylston A. Tompkins Jr., won the Open Hunters class, the feature event on the card. Idle Chatter, dark chestnut gelding, owned and ridden by Jackson H. Boyd of Southern Pines, was second. Burrell Boy, big chestnut gelding, entered by William A. Laing of Amissville, Va., with his son Geoffrey up, captured third place.

Lady-go-Lightly, brown mare from the stables of Mrs. George W. Johnson of Englewood, N. C.

Pinehurst-Rambler Polo Game at 3 P.M. Today

LINE-UP:

Ramblers		Pinehurst
Dewitt Untermeyer	1	Arthur McCashion
R. B. Green	2	Lieut. A. Graham
Capt. Dave Erskine	3	Merrill Fink
Lieut. T. G. Bilboe	Back	B. R. Brown

Referees: Col. George P. Hawes Jr., and W. V. Slocock. Time Keeper: W. E. Baker. Announcer: Elliot Barta.

First class Polo is promised this afternoon when Pinehurst and the Ramblers meet at 3 P. M. on the new field of the Pinehurst Polo Club.

Martin J. Quigley, prominent publisher of motion picture magazines and active in polo for many years, has taken a reserved field space for the remainder of the season.

"Polo," said Mr. Quigley, "belongs in Pinehurst. It has a great future here and I want to support it in every way possible." Other recent subscribers for the spring polo series include Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Todd, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bowden.

Earl Shaw has placed the polo players now in the Sandhills, and officers from Fort Bragg on the two sides with the idea of providing a close and interesting contest.

It is Mr. Shaw's plan to eventually build up a definite Pinehurst team and to arrange games with visitors. This has already been accomplished in a number of the games and other exciting fours will play here during the season. But until it is possible to arrange a complete schedule with out-of-town teams, Mr. Shaw deems it wise to divide the available playing strength to make sure of an even and interesting contest.

Girl Stars' Challenge Features North-South

Jeanne Cline, Agnes Williams and Georgia Tainter in Golf Classic Starting Tomorrow with Qualifying Round

Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, Chapel Hill, defending champion and Miss Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta, are the outstanding favorites in the 38th North and South women's golf championship which will start tomorrow over the number one course with one of the largest fields in a number of years entered in this amateur classic.

An interesting feature of this championship will be the play of three young ladies who will very soon take their places among the leading players of America. These girls are Miss Jeanne Cline, 16, of Illinois, Miss Agnes Williams, 16, of New York and Miss Georgia Tainter, 17, of North Dakota.

Miss Cline is well known in Pinehurst but this will be the first start here for Miss Tainter and Miss Williams.

Miss Tainter, like Miss Cline, is the daughter of a physician. Dr. and Mrs. Rolfe Tainter of Fargo, brought their daughter Georgia here for the North and South and for the Charlotte tournament. Miss Tainter was runner-up for the Western Junior championship last year and is the champion of her home club in Fargo.

This young lady is studying the violin, and during the winter practices four hours every day.

"Right now," said Miss Georgia, "the violin is in hiding." Miss Williams is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Comstock

PENN GOLF TEAM PLAYS PINEHURST IN ANNUAL MATCH HERE TODAY

University Students Making Their Spring Tour; Contest This Afternoon to be Four-ball Matches, Nassau System.

The University of Pennsylvania golf team will play the annual Penn vs Pinehurst match on the championship course this afternoon, at about 1:30 p. m.

The University of Pennsylvania students are making their annual spring tour, and before coming here lost to Virginia and Washington and Lee, which was not unexpected, as they have had no opportunity for golf in Philadelphia.

The match will be played on the championship course in four-ball matches and will be scored on the Nassau system.

The probable line-up:

George D. Bunnell and Knox Moore, Penn, vs George T. Dunlap Jr. and Dick Davidson; Bill Crosson and Bud Hurlbut, Penn, vs Robert Knowles Jr. and Robert Finney; Jack Muend and Harry Uphouse, Penn, vs Jack Tucker and Richard S. Tufts.
