par four and the match was square.

The long 17th was halved in par fives after Miss Tainter had played a very fine third shot from the cross bunker to the green.

Cards:

In 654 554 453—41—81

Miss Cothran

Out 464 554 435—40

In 555 454 554—42—82.

With the single upset of Miss Cothran, who is a veteran of the winter tournament circuits, the favorites came through easily in yesterday's matches, and moved into the second round to be played this morning.

Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, de- A. T. Menzel, Stamford, 9 and 8. fending champion, defeated Mrs. Miss Jeanne Cline, 16 years old, the Illinois school girl, defeated Mrs. Jane Seawell, Carthage, 7 and 6.

Miss Jean Bauer, Providence, Miss Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta, Mrs. T. R. Rudel, Forest Hills, and Miss Deborah Verry, Worcester, Mass., and Mrs. Thomas Nolan, New Castle, Pa., all won their games.

Mrs. Nolan, who qualified with an 80 is the Western Pennsylvania champion and made the winter tour. She defeated national Champion Betty Jameson at St. Augustine.

Two sidelights on the qualifying round which were being talked about yesterday concerned Miss Anne Hotchkiss, who took a ten on the first hole and finished in 98 and Miss Barbara Wilson, youngest player, who enjoyed every minute of the round and took 153, with smiles.

TINKHAM RAPS DEWEY

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Representative Tinkham (R-Mass) said in a statement today that Thomas E. Dewey had "evidenced his utter lack of sympathy with traditional American foreign policies" and was "unfitted to be the Republican candidate for President."

The Boston representative, who has served 25 years in the House, asserted that the New York district attorney in a recent speech "publicly endorsed the internationalist policies of President Roosevelt."

GOLF DATE ANNOUNCED

CHARLOTTE, March 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Z. H. Zahn, secretary and treasurer of the Women's Carolina Golf Association, announced tonight that the association's 19th annual tournament would be held April 29th through May 4th at the Carolina Country Club in Raleigh. Miss Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., will be the defending champion.

LORD TED MILFORD, TITLED DUNES SINGER, SCORES HIT IN SHOW

Welsh Born Vocalist Toured U. S. With Opera Company; Dianne Continues to Please Patrons, Also Other Artists.

When a singer can do seven numbers before a Sandhills audience and retire with the guests asking for more, he must be good.

That is what happened last night at The Dunes Club when Lord Ted Milford of Monmouthshire, Wales, England, appeared as headliner of the new show. Lord Milford came here from the Patio, the best night spot in Palm Beach, where he went for a short engagement, and remained for the entire season.

"Ted," as the English nobleman wishes to be addressed, is on his way to New York, to take a part in the Jack Benny program. His booker had him on the long distance telephone yesterday in an effort to make him leave immediately for New York, but he stated he would remain in Pinehurst until after Sunday night's shows at The Dunes.

Last night Milford sang: Irish Eyes, Careless, Sweet Mystery of Life, All the Things You Are to Me, Do I Love You, and You Are My Heart's Delight, from the operetta, Land of Smiles.

Ted was born in Swansea, Wales. He was educated at All Saints College, Clifton, in Bristol. Naturally, since he is a Welshman, he is a singer, and an accomplished one at that.

Choosing to make his own way, Ted Milford started with a group of amateur players in Bristol, England. His talent and fine singing voice brought him an offer to join the cast of "Lilac Time." The following season he joined the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company, the original and most famous performers of Gilbert and Sullivan operetta. With them he made an American tour.

Dianne continues to please with her songs and three dancers, Lalita, Spanish; Nikki Nicholl, Russian and Margie Green, acrobatic, complete as fine a show as ever has been presented in the Sandhills.

A large audience attended last night. Shows are given at 9:30, 11:30 and 1:30.

CATTLE JUDGING CONTESTS WILL BE CONTINUED TODAY

Continuing the Ayrshire cattle judging series of contests being held here, two groups of vocational students from Ellerbe and Hoffman will take part in a judging competition today. The contest will take place at the Pinehurst Dairy show ring at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and the public is invited to attend.

Any visitors at the show who can place the cattle in the same order as do the judges will be awarded a rosette.

The Ayrshire judging contest series has been arranged by Mr. Leonard Tufts, with the view in mind that it will stimulate interest in cattle raising among the vocational students of the state. Previously, boys from Hoke and Moore counties have taken part in the contests.

The winners of today's judging will meet the Moore and Hoke county winners on April 15th to decide the inter-county Ayrshire judging championship. It is also planned to have one more county represented in a competition on April 5th.

BOSTON PUBLICATION PASSES OUT POSIES ABOUT PINEHURST

Following his recent visit here, Frank M. Simmons, managing editor of the Boston News Bureau, threw quite a few posies down Pinehurst way in his column "Of Marts and Men," which appeared in the Tuesday, March 26, issue of the News Bureau. Said Mr. Simmons, "The season is at its height in Pinehurst, the golfer's Mecca. Hotels and golf courses are taxed, . . . with weather perfect . . . Social activities in Pinehurst revolve around the Hotel Carolina. Guests lounging about the Carolina's lobbies and verandas virtually represent pages out of Who's Who."

Anent the many Bostonians who are frequent visitors to Pinehurst, Mr. Simmons says, "Among the Boston people noted sojourning or playing on one or another of Pinehurst's three golf courses . . . were Louis M. Atherton, a Pinehurst visitor for 20 years; his son Porter Atherton; Rodney W. Brown, Fred F. Hale; R. T. Tibolt; Seward M. Paterson, and Parker W. Whittemore, the latter the fortunate possessor of a Pinehurst residence."

"Other Bostonians who were quite naturally enjoying Pinehurst sunshine last week, because they have attractive homes there and are therefore winter residents, were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hornblower, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Beckwith, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Frederick Lesh. The Beckwith residence in the adjoining community of Southern Pines is regarded as the show place of the resort and is strikingly beautiful just now, notwithstanding the season is late, horticulturally speaking. Mrs. Daniel G. Wing likewise has a most attractive Pinehurst home; and Harold C. Buckminster of Boston owns a winter home there."

COMMUNITY CHURCH REPORTS DISCLOSE MEMBER INCREASE

Annual Supper Meeting Held Tuesday Night Hears of Growth in Activities; Rev. Dr. Cheatham Gives Address.

Report of all departments of the Community Church showed an increase in activities and membership on the part of all organizations, at the annual supper meeting of the membership of the Pinehurst Community Church held at the church Tuesday night.

Outstanding reports were those of the Boy and Girl Scout troops and the young people's organizations of the church. The financial reports showed increased expenditures but indicated that the church year would close without a deficit. The building debt was reduced during the year from $1450 to $800.

The program was interspersed with selections by a quartet consisting of Rev. and Mrs. A. V. Gibson of Sanford and Rev. and Mrs. A. J. McKelway.

After the reports were made Rev. T. A. Cheatham, D. D., rector of the Village Chapel, gave a brief address in which he congratulated the membership on its progress during the years since the organization and building of the Community Church.

3-POUND TERRIER FROM AUSTRALIA IS IN HOTEL SPOTLIGHT

(Special to The Outlook)

PINE NEEDLES, March 27.—Capturing the spotlight at the Pine Needles this week is a wee canine guest dubbed America's Sweetheart by her fond owner, Elwood P. McEnany of New York, because since her purchase in January 1938 she has been in every state in the Union and has never failed to elicit excited and admiring comment.

Her real name is Melba of Melbourne and she is the smallest dog of her breed—Australian Silky terrier—in the world. She is three years old and weighs only three pounds. The only other Silky terrier in this country is nearly twice her size.

As is to be expected, Melba is an aristocrat and was born Strathdene Rosey of the Strathdene kennels in Sandringham, Australia, where Mr. McEnany in his globe trotting found her and immediately succumbed to her charm. Her parents, Strathdene Charlie and Strathdene Stormy Petrel come of a long line of Australian champions. Fearing that he might be tempted to show her, her owner changed her name.

So sweet and loveable is this tiny dog that her traveling companion, Fleet, an aristocrat in his own right, being Gate House of the Fleet, a cairn from Scotland, stands proudly by and allows her to claim all the attention.

It is reported however that the popular all season guests, Dougald, Miss How's Sealyham and Dusty, Mrs. Steven's Scotty have retired to their private quarters in a huff.
